Practical Hints about keeping Milk from Souring.

Milk is a compound, made up of a mixture of oil (butter), sugar, casein (curd) and water. If allowed to stand still, the oily matter will rise to the top in the form of cream. There is a little free alkali (soda) in the water of all sweet milk, and without this soda the water will not have the power to keep the casein or curd dissolved. The sugar of milk is also dissolved in the water. If the sugar can get access to air it is constantly inclined to change to an acid, (lactic acid) just as sweetened water changes to vinegar when exposed to air, and we can see just why milk curdles, and how it may be kept sweet.

We all know that acids destroy or neutralize the effects of alkalis, (such as soda, potash, lime, &c.) As before stated, when the milk is new, there is some free soda in it, but when some acid is formed from the milk sugar, this acid neutralizes the soda, and the water without the soda cannot dissolve the casein, but it separates into a mass of curd. More sugar turns to more acid, and in time the whole becomes quite sour. Now there are two ways of preventing this souring. The first is: Keep the air away from the milk as much as possible.

We cannot very well keep the milk covered airtight, but the oil or cream which rises to the top forms a very good cover if it is kept unbroken. If, then, it is desired to keep the milk some length of time, great care should be taken to keep it still, and preserve the cream undisturbed. Those who get milk but once a day should divide it into several portions, each portion to be kept undisturbed till it is wanted for use. The second method is:

Put into new milk a little extra soda to neutralize the acid as fast as it is formed.

A bit of soda, say the bulk of a marrowfat pea to a quart of milk, will not injure its taste or quality, while it will often keep it sweet for a day or more longer than without it. We have often taken milk already beginning to sour and curdle, and by stirring in well a little soda, and rendered the milk as sweet and good as when first drawn from the cow. We know that sweetened water will turn more rapidly to vinegar, (acetic acid) if it is kept warm. Just so the sugar of milk turns acid (lactic) sooner if kept warm, and on this account the cooler milk is kept, the longer it will remain sweet.

It is well known that heavy thunder-storm will often render milk speedily sour. This may be effected in two ways: the agitation of a thunder clap may introduce more air into the milk, and the great amount of electricity passing through the milk may hasten the change of the sugar to acid.

We have heard suggested, with how much truth we cannot say, though there is some plausibility in the statement, that milk is less likely to be affected by thunder, if it is kept in glazed earthenware instead of metal vessels like tin pans; and also that it will, at such time, keep better if the vessels are placed upon dry wooden benches or shelves away from the walls, than if set upon the bottom of the cellar or milk-room. The reason assigned is, that the dry bench or shelves act as non-conductors, and prevent electricity from going through the milk in its passage from the clouds to the earth.

The most important thing in the care of milk however, is to leave it undisturbed—not even moving the vessel, or agitation the surface from the time the milk is strained, till it is all required for the use.

The shallower milk vessels are made, the greater will be the yield of cream, as it will the more readily rise to the top.

Hints to the Farmers.

Keep your enclosures in good repair. If a post or a stake rot supply its place with another before it falls and introduces your own or neighbor's cattle into your corn or wheat field. Stone walls are the most valuable of all enclosures, where one has the materials for erecting them, or where they can be obtained within a reasonable distance, walls are cheaper than any other fence that can be constructed. A farm surrounded with good wall may be regarded as enclosed for all time; or materials, although the walls may fall, or be thrown down, never decay. Next to walls, we may mention stump fence as the most valuable species of field enclosure. Properly constructed, on land that does not "heave," they endure for generations, and ordinarily subject the farmer to but little expense for repairs. Hedges of thorn are also valuable, and produce a most beautiful effect upon a landscape. They are also very durable and efficient.

Milk and Butter Cows.

A statement is published, verified by a responsible name, of the product of milk and butter, of 14 Ayrshire cows, the property of Edward M. Shepard, of St. Lawrence county, New York. It is worthy of being laid before our readers. It is briefly as follows:

"Mr. Shepard has 14 cows, Ayrshires and their crosses on natives, half-bloods, six heifers milking for the first time—time, the first week in June—feed, grass only.

"Allowing one cow for family use, and deducting 40 per cent. from heifers, and his trial stood thus:

Cows, 8
Heifers 6, reduced to cows 3.6
11.6
Deduct one cow for family 7.6
The product for the week was 12 lbs. 12 oz. per cow. The first week in July, feed, grass only, and much affected by drought, he milked twenty-eight of whom were heifers, milking for the first season, and his trial stood thus:

12 cows, less one for family, is 11
8 heifers, 40 per cent. off, is 4.8
15.8
Full cows, 15.8
The product for the week, per cow, was 14 lbs. 18 oz. and a fraction over.

"But just you might think my allowance for heifers too much, which, however, is considered a just allowance by the dairymen of this country, the result of the last trial, without any deduction for their being heifers, and four of them only two years old at that, was 12 lbs. 5 oz. and a fraction per head, per week."

Valuable property for Sale or Rent.

THE subscriber offers for sale his house and lot, situated in the borough of Summitville, Cambria county, Pa. The building is of plank 24 feet front on the turnpike, and extending back 64 feet along an alley. The front of the building has been fitted up for a Tin-Smith Shop, and the back for a dwelling. The situation is an excellent one for the above mentioned business, as it affords a very large wholesale and retail custom. Any person who wishes to purchase the property for that business, can also purchase a good set of tools, &c. For further particulars enquire of W. A. Maloney, who resides on the premises.
JAMES MALONEY.
June 20, 1854.

FINAL NOTICE.

THE subscriber who intends having this place in a short time, respectfully requests all who are indebted to him, to call and settle their accounts on or before the 10th of July, as all unsettled accounts will then be left with a Justice of the Peace for collection. Persons attending to this notice, will save me of trouble, and save themselves trouble and costs.

COACH MANUFACTORY.
THE subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Ebensburg, and the public generally, that he will carry on the Coach Making including the Smith work, at the machine shop formerly occupied by Mr. Anderson, in the rear of E. Hughes' Store, where, by using none but the choicest material, and employing none but the best workmen, he hopes to convince all who will give him the favor to examine his work, that in point of durability, appearance or cleanliness, it cannot be excelled by any similar establishment in the State or elsewhere. Persons wishing a bargain in the purchase of a carriage, will consult their own interests by giving him a call—They are prepared to supply the following kinds of vehicles, viz:
Buggies of different qualities and prices, Carriages, Chariottes, one and two horse rockaways, close quarter clipic and C-Spring Coaches; second-hand work of different kinds, &c., making a variety that will suit all tastes and all purposes—Repairing done with neatness and despatch.
