WE LEAD WAR LEAD TO THE PARTY OF THE PARTY.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I now have the honor of putting up a fine pocket handkerchief, a yard wile, a yard long, and almost a yard thick; one half cotton, and t'other half cotton too; beautifully printed with stars and stripes on one side and stars and stripes tother; it will wipe out dust from the eyes so completely as to be death to demagagues; and make politics as bad a business as printing papers; its great length, bbreadth and thickness, together with its dark color, will enable it to hide dirt, and never need washing; going at one dollar?-seventy-five cents?twenty-five cents? - one bite? - Nobody wants L? Oh! thank you, sir!

Fext, gentlemen, for the ladies wont he permitted to bid on this article, is a real, simonpure, tempered, highly-polished, keen edged, Sheffield razor; bran, spanken new; never opened before to sun-light, moon-light. day-light, or gas-light; sharp enough to shave a lawyer, or cut a disagreeable acquaintance. or poor relation: handle of buck-horn; with all the rivers put the two ends, of pure gold, Who will give two dollars? one dollar? half a dollar? Why, ye long-bearded, dirty-faced reproduces, with not room enough on your phizzes for a Chinese woman to kiss. I'm offring you a bargain at half a dollar? Well I will throw in this strap at half a collar! razor and strap-a recent patent; two rubs upon it will sharpen the city attorney; all for four bits and a piece of soap-sweeter than roses; lathers better than a schoolmaster; and strong enough to wash out all the stains from a California politician's countenance, all for four bits. Why, you have only to put the razor, strop and soap under your pillow at night, to wake up in the morning clean shaved; wen't anybody give two bits then, for the lot? I knew I would sell 'em.

Next, Ladies and gentlemen, I offer three pair of socks, hose, stockings or half hose, just as you've a mind to call them. Knit by a machine made on purpose, out of cotton wool; the man that buys these will be enabled to walk till he gets tired; and, provided his boots are high enough, need'nt have any corns; the legs are as long as bills against the Post Office, corporation, and as thick as the heads of the members of Legislature; who wants 'em one half dollar!-thankee madam, dollar!

Next, I offer you a pair of boots; made especially for San Francisco, with heels long enough to raise a man to the Hoadley grades. Portage Railroad on the Turnpike. and nails to insure against being carried over by a land slide; legs wide enough to carry two revolvers and a bowie knife, and the uppers of the very best horse leather. A man in these boots can move about as easy as the State Capitol; who says twenty dollars? All the tax payers ought to buy a pair to kick the fessionally engaged, at his office next door to Residently engaged. Legislature with—and they will be found of Bell's Store, or at the Mansion House of James assistance in kicking the bucket; especially if M. Next is something that you ought to have, gentlemen; a lot of good gallowses-sometimes called suspenders. I know that some of you will after a while be furnished at the State's expense, but you can't tell which one, so buy where they're cheap; all that deserves hanging are not supplied with a gallows, if so, there would be nobody to make laws, zens of the place and the surrounding country, in condemn criminals, or hang culprits, until a the practice of Medicine and Surgery. new election is made of pure gum elasticlong as a California office-holder will stea; fessional business. buckles of pure iron, and warranted to hold so tight that no man's wife can rob him of the breeches; are, in fact, as gool, as strong, as perfect, as effectual, and as bona fide as the ordinance against Chinese shops on Dupont Of Main and Bedford streets.

----Animal Poison.

A Mr. Jackson, of Quincy, Ill., ac identally out his finger while cleaning hog, on the 25th ult. The shoulders, and breast, and mortilization ensuing, Mucket street, Philadelphia, Pa. he died on the Saturday f diowing.

It has long been known that under certain circumstances, the most virulent poisons are developed in the flesh of animals. Tocre have been numerous cases, in which physicians have been severely or mor ally polened in dissecting herean bydies by a slight cut, or puncture, and even by the of the police.

It is not to be supposed that this poison is con- field, Pittsburgh, Pa. tained in the flesh of healthy animals. It would seem to be developed only in but living, gross feeding, and sickly animals, such as men, and swine, which bear a closer resemblance to them than to any other animal. Men live in pent-up and sufling appartments, crowded too closely for healthso do swine. Many men are uncleanly in their habits, so are swine. Men often, and women more commonly, take too little exercise, and the same may be said of swine. Men are omniverous gluttons, eating too many things, and too much of April 20, 1852. them, and the habits of the swine are much the same. Though in justice to the pigs. it must be John Parker. allowed that we have many bad habits, which they are never writty of. There are few men in a state of perfect health, and hors, fitted for the market. are non-rentirely free from disease. It is strange | Monongabela and Rectified Whiskey. then, that the bolics of swine, as well as the lunman subject, should be infected with virulent poison?

Those who study this question the most thoroughly, will be heat satisfied with the wisdom of the divine command to abstain from swine's flesh. g'oru first to Moses, and adopted by Malromet. There was never a community where pork and lard were freely used, which was not subject to scorbutic and scrofulous diseases, and espacally to consumption. The swine in our streets are often full of scrofula and whatever others may choose to do, those who are predisposed to such complaints. should carrefully abstain from cating the flesh and fat of an animal so liable to such disease.

In Cincinnati, the great pork market of the West, very little of it is eaten, and lard, which is H. C. CABUTH. WM. TURBY. J. C. DEW. In New York, all the best confectioners use butter exclusively, and lard is fast going out of use in private families. In the country, where people fatten and kill their own pork, they can be surer of its quality; but with such risks as we run in cities, it is rather the safest way to altogether avoid a food so liable to be poisonous.
