YANKEE DOODLE.

In the summer of 1755, the British army under command of Abercrombie, lay encamped on the east bank of the Hudson River, a little south of the city of Albany, awaiting reinforcements of militia from the eastern States, previous to marching upon Ticonderoga. During the month of June, these raw levies poured into camp, company after company each man differently armed, equipped and accoutred from his neighbor, and the whole presenting such a spectacle as was never equalled, unless by the celebrated regiment of merry Jack Falstaff.

Their appearance furnished great amusement to the British officers. One Dr. Shackburg, an English Surgeon, composed the tune of Yankee Doodle and arranged it to words, which were gravely dedicated to the new recruits. The joke took, and the tune has come down to this day. The original words, which we take from Farmer & Moore's Historical Collections, published in 1820, we have not, however, met with before in many years :

Father and I went down to camp, Along with Captain Goodwin, And there we saw the men and boys As thick as Hasty Pudding.

There was Captain Washington, Upon a slapping stallion, A giving orders to his men-I guess there was a million.

And then the feathers on his hat, They look so tarnal finey, I wanted peskily to get To give to my Jemima.

And there they had a swampin gun As big as a log of maple, On a deuced little cart-A load for father's cattle ;

And every time they fired it off, It took a horn of powder; It made a noise like father's gun, Only a nation louder.

I went as near to it myself As Jacob's underpinnin, And father went as near again-I thought the deuce was in him.

And there I see a little keg, Its heads were made of leather— They knock'd upon't with little sticks, To call the folks together.

And there they'd fife away like fun . And play on cornstalk fiddles, And some had ribbons red as blood All bound around their middles.

The troopers too, would gallop up And fire right in our faces, It scar'd me almost half to death To see them run such races.

Old Uncle Sam came there to change Some pancakes and some onions, For 'lasses cakes to carry home, Fo give his wife and young ones.

But I can't tell you half I see, They kept up such a smother; So I took my hat off-made a bow, And scampered home to mother.
