Why, my son?" "Cause that man in the parlor is going to die, he said he would if Jane did not marry him, and Jane said she wouldn't."

The Sunday Atlas, in a fit of revoluticnary enthusiasm, says:

"Hurrah for the girls of '76." "Thunder!" said a Pennsylvania fellow, "that's too old. No, no, Hurrah for the of 17 !"

A lady playfully complaining of the wearing of wearing of whiskers of moustaches declared, "it is one of the fashions, I always set my face against."

The token of recognition has finally been discovered by a close observer. When a Know-Nothing wishes to recognize another, he closes one eye, makes an 0 with his thumb and finger, and places his nose through itwhich being interpreted reads:

"Eye-nose-0." "I-Knows-Nothing."

Some years ago, when the beautiful painting of Adam and Eve was exhibited in Ireland, it became the chief topic of conversation. Finally; a poor, illiterate peasant went to see it. The light was so arranged as to reflect on the picture, and to leave the spectator in darkness.

The peasant, as he entered the room to see his first parents, was struck with so much astonishment, that he remained speechless for some moments. He stood like a statute, and as though his feet were incorporated with the oaken floor of the room. At last, with an effort he turned round to his acquaintance and
