SLANDERS NAILED!

We must again caution our friends not to his reputation as a Democrat is now pure and be misled by the last cards of the enemy—we untarnished. mean the falsehoods, the slanderous stories, the Roorback inventions, they may publish on the eve of the election.

One of their calumnies has just appeared in the ALLEGHENIAN, October 5th, and is the production of the elegant leisure of a member of the bar of this place-a gentleman who stands high in the world if not in his profession.

The public will treat with the contempt they deserve the slanders against Mr Writ's private character; this anonymous scribbler who dare not appear over his own name, presumes that because Mr. WILL is a young man, because he lives amongst the people and is entirely identified with them, that he is a safe object of attack, that he can be slandered with impunity : but he is mistaken: since this anonymous scribler has jumped into the ring against Mr. WILL, and seems anxious for a fight, we will try and give it to him to the bitter end.

Against the private character of Mr. Barbour we said nothing, we insinuated nothing : we charged upon him that he was connected with the order commonly called Know-Nothings'; that hewas connected with them and would receive their support at the coming election. If Captain Barbour feels aggrieved by this charge, let him come forward!—we are here, we are responsible, he has our names. We dare him to do it; we defy him to disprove what we have sai. He dare not attempt to do it, because that he would thereby place himself in an attitude of hostility to the men from whose support he expects his election. He dare not give the cold shoulder to the Know-Nothings; he is theirs for better or worst, for good or for evil-he is in their clutches, and his friends can not lie him out nor swear him out. The charge remains, it will cling to political membership to which I confess is him until he offers satisfactory evilence against it.

It is not in the power of the anonymous scribbler of the ALLEGHANIAN October 5, to clear Mr. Barbour's skirts of the charge; he will have far more than he can do to clear his own. If he is anxious to vindicate his friend' Barbour why does he not do so openly and above board? Why does he not come out over his own proper signature, and let the public have a fair chance to judge what weight should be given to his mere denial on behalf of Barbour, and what reliance to place on the standers which he puts in Mr. WILL's mouth ; why does he not throw off the mask and come into the field as an honorable enemy? What has become of his armory of affidavits Is it possible that those choice productions are never to see the light? Do they prove too No, Mr Scribbler, you dare not do it;

you know well enough that if you come out over your own name, the public would point the finger of scorn at the spectacle of Satan | Roy. Thos. G. Roberts, in the 55th year of his ment at his office in the borough of Ebensburg, rebuking sin. Your pretended indignation | age. against the 'Know Nothing" order will not avail you. You are too well known. Can you deny that you yourself are a member of the late Rev. Geo. Roberts. He entered the mithe order you to much affect to detest? Will uistery in the 25th year of his age, becoming pasyou come out over your name and make that | tor of a Congregationalist church in Pittsburg, depial? try it; make the experiment, and Penn'a. In the year 1828 he removed to Butler you will have an opportunity of learning how county, Ohio, taking charge of the Congregation many men, women and children in this community will believe your denial.

Actions speak louder than words. Is your conduct that of a man who in his secret soul feels himself innocent? If in your secret soul you feel yovrself guiltless, why so much uneasiness, so much trepidation, as you evince when the subject of Know Nothingism is men tioned? Why lurk around Printing Offices until midnight, and coax and beg and plead for admission?

It is "conscience makes cowards of us all. You find that you have overshot the mark ; that the political advantages which you promised yourself are turn-ing to gall and wormwood; you now realize the stern trut! . that a moral crime is always a political fault, and you look forward with foar and trembling to the day of reckening, when the bubble of Know Nothingism shall have burst, and the just scorn of an outraged his lips; indeed, on the contrary, Le was continueommunity will rest upon those hypocritical ally rejoicing and thanking the Almighty for givtraitors, who were the mark of friendship ing him so many comforts, and such kind friends, were secretly sworn to deprive their neighbors and friends of their dearest rights; that day must come; you know it; you feel it; and can see no consolation for yourself.

Heart-sick, the words of the Poet will come home to you:

"How like a horrid ape Detected grinning 'mid his pilfered hoards A cunning man appears, whose secret frauds Are open to the day.

For the present we leave you You have rushed into this matter without call, without provocation, without any rational motive. From a brain of amazing fertility in falsehoods you have coined slander after slander against a young man who never injured you nor yours . The canvass in this county had been conducted with a degree of decency, until you intruded yourself into the contest, in the "Alleghenian," which should have been of the 5th October. As the fight progresses, you may find out not only "who made the roads in Cambria County," but also that some of them are very hard to travel.

PHILADELPHIA, August 18., 1854. My dear Sir :- It has been rumored in certain political circles, and insinuated in some of the newspapers of the day, that you are connected with a secret association, organized for political purposes, commonly called "Know Nothings."

The charge has been repeated with more distinctness in the "Daily News" of this city, of yesterday's date, and although your friends do not attach the slightest importance to these allegations, as being founded in fact, yet it is at the foot of Plane No. 4. He will spare no nothing more than right that they should be pains or expense to make comfortable those who met by a formal denial.

Such a charge, if true, would be derogatory to your political character as a Democrat and place yourself and the Republican party, of which you are the nominee for an important office, in a false position.

I am therefore instructed by the State Central Committee to interrogate you on this subject, not that we believe for a moment that the charge is true, but merely to have your denial in an authentic and unequivocal form for publication.

Very respectfull, de., Signed) J. ELLIS BONHAM, Chairman Hensy S. Mott, Esq.

STROUDSBURG, Aug 26., '54. Dear Sir :- On my return home, after a considerable absence, I found awaiting my arrival yours of the 18th. In reply, I have to say that I am not connected with a secret association organized for political purposes, commonly called Know-Nothings, and that I have never made any promise, effort or request to be admitted as a member, or given the least intimation that I would do so The only that of the Democratic party of the Union, bound in the bonds of the Constitution and the glorious and liberal principles which have demonstrated the problem of self-government, which has made our country the beacon-light of freedom for a wondering and admiring world. In the love of those principles I have always lived and expect to die.

Very respectfully, II. S. MOTT. J. Ellis Bonham, Esq., Chairman State Central Committee.
