

large houses for some five or six weeks back. The scenery is by far the most beautiful ever produced on the stage here, and constitutes the principal attraction of the play. An entirely new effect is produced by the operations of a double act in panorama, the front one being pierced in imitation of foliage, and the moon with its reflection upon a brilliant sheet of water being perceptible through the interstices. The acting of the piece is merely passable, the painter and machinists having done their work much better than the actors perform their parts.

Our City Directory for 1856, has just been issued. Unlike the Directories of other cities, it ignores the existence of all who are not either housekeepers or shopkeepers, but from these classes it presents an aggregate of 74,200 in the city, exclusive of the rural districts. Of this number there are no less than one thousand Smiths, eighty of whom are plain John Smiths, three John A. Smith, five John B., seven John C., two John D., one John E., three John F., six John G., five John H., &c., &c., including one hundred and forty-one John Smiths, either with or without a middle letter to their names. There are one hundred William Smiths, fifty-nine James, forty Charles, thirty-four Joseph, thirty Thomas, and twenty-nine Samuel Smiths.

The names of 480 Browns are recorded, next in order come the Johnsons, of whom there are 200, then 200 Joneses. The blunders and mistakes which are consequently being occasioned by this similarity of names must be very perplexing, and sometimes decidedly humorous. As for that ubiquitous individual, John Smith, there is scarcely any conceivable good or bad act that he does not commit in the course of the year. Growing jolly at night on a carousel, he is locked up in the watch house or fined by the Mayor; the next day we hear of him as a candidate for Congress or some other important station, then he is convicted of burglary or manslaughter, and the next day elected Deacon of a Church. He marries, he dies, he emigrates one day to California, and the next to Kansas or Oregon. He goes to the wars, fights bravely, and yet runs away. In short, he is more changeable by far than the chameleon. He is wise and simple, witty and dull, pious and profane, stingy as a miser, yet the prince of good fellows. He is true as steel to his lady love, yet engaged to hundreds of the fair sex. He is faithful to his party, politically, but he belongs to the Democrats, the Whigs, the Abolitionists, and it is whispered round town has actually joined the Know-Nothings. He is tall and short, with red, white, brown, black, grey hair, and blue, grey, hazel, black eyes. He is as lean as a wasp and as stout as a young elephant, and he who wishes to find a living illustration of all that is good or bad, need only look for John Smith.

Notwithstanding the severity of our laws against the sale of lottery tickets, the traffic is still extensively indulged in here, and hundreds of thousands of dollars are annually expended in this way. Within a day or two a cunning swindle has been perpetrated upon these gentry, by which they have been most effectually bitten. The operators by some shrewd management had the true drawn numbers of a recent lottery held back and false ones corresponding with the numbers on the tickets in their possession, sent on here. The policy men eagerly swallowed the bait, and the temptation of a swinging discount induced them to cash a goodly number of the fictitious prizes. It is said that $60,000 changed hands in this city, and that one individual has lost $30,000. As it is an illegal transaction all round, the parties have no redress.

Our markets have been quite inactive of late. Flour sells for from $3.87 to $9 per bbl; Rye Flour $6; Corn Meal $4.25; Wheat $2.10 to $2.25; Rye $1.22 to $1.24; Corn 92a97c; Cattle for from $8 to $11 per 100 lbs.

A BANKING LAW IN INDIANA.—A new Banking Bill has been introduced into the Legislature of Indiana. It proposes to divide the State into not less than fifteen nor more than twenty bank districts, each to contain one branch. No branch is to be organized until one hundred thousand dollars are subscribed and the first instalment paid. The remaining instalments are to be so graduated that $100,000 shall be required to be paid in to each branch on or before the 1st of January, 1857. The aggregate capital of all the banks shall not exceed $6,000,000. The State Board Directors is to be composed of four members elected by the Legislature, and one member elected by each branch board. [It differs from the present bank board in this—that the board elects the President who is now elected by the Legislature.]

In allusion to the prevailing tendency of the age in this country to degrade labor, and increase the non-producing classes, the Philadelphia Ledger, pithily remarks: "It is as common now for a biographer to say that a man rose from the work-bench to public life, as for one of fifty years ago to speak of 'poor but honest' parents. We know a politician, who, at any period of his life, has labored with his hands, that is not ailed with complacency to the fact that he 'having risen by his own unaided talent' to an eminent elevation—whether he be a pearl-digger or a bungling legislator. It is a thing as a professional man's vanity it would seem to the public eye, to be spoken of by the

The Great Distribution Postponed.
THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCE a brief postponement of the Distribution, from the 30th of January to the 28th of February, at which time it will positively take place.

The managers find it necessary to make the above change, owing to the delay in completing the building of the Galleries, and the reception of Works of Art; which necessarily deferred the publication of the Illustrated Catalogue until late in December, thereby preventing the general circulation desired among the distant Secretaries and friends of the Association.

To all those who have not subscribed the last opportunity is now presented. Any one subscribing previous to the 28th of February, are entitled to the Magazine for 1855.

The payment of $5 entitles any person to either one of the following Magazines for the year 1855: Harper's, Putnam's, Knickerbocker, Blackwood's, Graham's, Magazine of Art, and Godey's Lady's Book, and the Quarterly Reviews re-printed in New York, Edinburgh, Westminster, London Quarterly and North British. Also a ticket in the Distribution, giving the holders an equal chance in drawing the $5,000 Statute of the Great Slave, or Venus, Bacchante, Hebe, Flora, with Bronze Statuettes and several hundred magnificent Oil Paintings!

For full particulars see Illustrated Catalogues, which are sent free, on application to all parts of the country. Address

BLACKSMITHING.
THE subscriber would respectfully inform his old as well as his new customers that he still continues to carry on at his old stand in Loretto Borough—the shop formerly occupied by August Walters. He has now every facility for doing work cheap and on the most improved plan. He will turn out for his shop, Wagons, Buggies, Sleighs, &c., from the WOOD WORK to the IRONING.
If the work will not compete with any manufactured in the County of Cambria I will give it for one half of its original cost. I defy competition.
All kinds of Country produce taken in exchange.

LATER FROM THE EAST!
THE undersigned would respectfully inform his numerous customers, that he has received a large assortment of
READY MADE CLOTHING
from the well known establishment M. M. of Clee. It is needless to praise the clothing made at this establishment as those who have purchased from me, can bear testimony as to the quality and fit of the garments. It is not necessary to enumerate the different articles of clothing—I have every article that can be mentioned in the clothing line.
