

is strongly suspected of having been one of the party of three villains, who, several years ago committed a very cruel murder of the boy Lehman, in the upper part of this city. His two accomplices have long since been tried, sentenced and executed, and if the impressions of our policemen, as to his identity are correct, he will ere long share their fate.

An unfortunate case of somnambulism occurred upon last night, the hero of which in his nocturnal rambles walked out of a third story window. The force of his fall was somewhat broken by alighting upon a one story shed, and his injuries though severe, were prevented from being fatal.

Our markets have not recently undergone any material change. Flour sells for $9 to $10.50; Rye Flour $6; Corn Meal $4.25; Grain 21 5/8; 22c; Rye 12c; Corn 9c; Oats 6 1/2c.

Compensation of Members and Officers of the Legislature.

Some days ago a bill passed the Senate, regulating the pay of members and officers of the Legislature, which, in our judgment, will prove to be an effectual bar to long sessions, and, we may say, extravagant legislation.

The first section of the bill repeals all acts heretofore passed in relation to the compensation of members and officers, and makes the bill under consideration apply to the members and officers of the present Legislature.

The second, third and fourth sections fix the compensation of members at five hundred dollars per annum, and ten cents per mile circular for their expenses in going to and returning from each regular, adjourned and extra session, and also gives to each fifteen dollars for stationary and lights.

The fifth section regulates the compensation of the Speakers of the House and Senate, by giving them, in addition to the salary of five hundred dollars each, the sum of fifty dollars.

The sixth section authorizes the payment to each member, at all extra sessions, the sum of three dollars per day, when such session is called by the Executive, and when not, the sum of but one dollar and fifty cents per day.

The seventh section declares that no member shall receive pay for the days he is absent, unless such absence has been caused by sickness of himself or family, or by attending to duties assigned him by the Legislature; and it also makes it obligatory upon the chief clerks of the respective Houses to keep a correct and accurate account of such absence, and to file a statement, not only with the Committee on accounts, but also with the Auditor General.

The eighth section regulates the compensation of officers. The chief, assistant and transmitting clerk are to receive each three dollars per day, and an annual salary; the chief clerk of four hundred and the others one hundred and fifty dollars each. The other officers are to receive two dollars per day each.

We look upon this bill as a most excellent one. In the first place it gives to members an annual salary of five hundred dollars each, and as this amount will be paid to them whether the session be long or short, it makes no difference to the people if their representatives remain in session from one year to the other, except, indeed, it be an account of the bad legislation which might be enacted. In the second place, all other compensation is cut off, and members as well as officers have but to look to the salary which the law authorizes and nothing more. It is well known that when members find they are only to obtain a certain specified amount as their winter's wages, they are not the men to stay a moment longer than what absolute necessity requires. In this respect it would be a very good law, and be a saving to the people of a large amount of money, besides bad legislation.

So far as clerks and officers are concerned, we never did think they were paid what their services required. They are the men who do all the work and receive the least pay. It is a mistake to suppose that such a policy is in the spirit of economy. It is the very reverse; for instead of having good officers and clerks, they are often very incompetent. Pay men well, and in proportion to the pay, so will be the efficiency of the officers. The people of Pennsylvania do not wish that economy which requires a man to work for nothing. Not at all. What they want is to prevent the expenditure of large sums of the public money in useless objects, and not attempt economy by taking twenty-five cents from the daily pay of one who labors faithfully for the public. Reform is a good thing but it should commence at the right place.—Democratic Union.

The Great Distribution Postponed.
THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION. A brief postponement of the Distribution, from the 30th of January to the 28th of February, at which time it will positively take place.

The managers find it necessary to make the above change, owing to the delay in completing the building of the Galleries, and the reception of Works of Art; which necessarily deferred the publication of the Illustrated Catalogue until late in December, thereby preventing the general circulation desired among the distant Secretaries and friends of the Association.

To all those who have not subscribed the last opportunity is now presented. Any one subscribing previous to the 28th of February, are entitled to the Magazines for 1855.

The payment of $3 enables any person to enter one of the following Magazines for the year, 1855: Harper's, Putnam's, Knickerbocker, Blackwood's, Graham's, Magazine of Art, and Godey's Lady's Book, and the Quarterly Reviews re-printed in New York, Edinburgh, Westminster, London Quarterly and North British. Also a ticket in the Distribution, giving the holder an equal chance in drawing the $3,000 State of the Great Glass, of James Buchanan, Esq., Fla., with Brown Statuette and several hundred magnificent Oil Paintings!

For full particulars see Illustrated Catalogue, which are sent free, on application to all parts of the country. Address
