Pennsylvania must be Redeemed.

We trust our democratic friends will not consider us as premature, in calling their attention to the importance of effecting an immediate and thorough organization of the party, in every election district in the Commonwealth, for the purpose of rallying our forces for the approaching campaign, so that we may be fully prepared to take the first step at the General Election next fall, towards redeeming the "Old Keystone," from the grasp of the demagogues and bigots who now lord it over her. If we succeed at that time in securing a Democratic majority in both branches of the Legislature, and it will be our own fault if we do not, the law making power will once more be vested in honest and patriofic hands. Our Know-Nothing Governor will be rendered powerless for evil. and at the expiration of his term of office, the reign of intolerance on the soil of Pennsylvania will cease forever.

We can see no good reason why we should be cast down or discouraged at the recollection of our defeat last fall. It was by no means a fair test of the relative strength of Demoaracy, and Know-Nothingism, for thousands of honest and patriotic Whigs who cast their votes for Mr. Pollock, would never have done so, had they known that thereby they were securing the election of a traitor that had basely betrayed them, and the triumph of a ### Political Romanists & German Infidels.

Our readers well know, how cornest have been in denouncing the Know Nothing order. It is un-Christian, because it seeks to revive that which our Saviour came to break down, the ancient and odious national egotism which made Jew, and Greek, and Roman, look upon each other with haughti-uess and disdain. It is un-Democratic, because it strives to destroy that equality of rights and privileges, which is the foundation of all Republicanism, and which withholds nothing from virtue and talent, beneath whatever sun or sky they may have originated or matured. It is despotic, because it works not in the open day, but beneath the cover of mid-night, and binds the conscience of its adherents with fearful and illegal oaths. Nevertheless, while thus denouncing the Know Nothing fanaticism, it equally devolves upon us to vindicate ourselves from the charge of supporting either Political Romanism, or Po-litical Infidelity.

Of the Political Romanists, such men as Of the Political Romanists, such men as BROWNSON, of the Quarterly, and BAKEWELL, of the late Shepard of the Valley, are the rep-resentative men They are renegades from their early creed, and like all other renegades, preach with the utmost zeal the extremest doc-trines of their present faith. They talk and act like men of the Middle Ages, born out of due season, into the nineteenth century Their ideal of the Church is that of the days of Hildebrand, when the barefooted Henry stood a suppliant at his gate, for three days in stood a suppliant at his gate, for three days in the winter's cold. They take pride in preach. ing the temporal supremacy of the Pope. They curse these degenerate days, when such claims are not recognized, as devoid of rever-ence and faith. They are opposed to popular enlightenment. They teach that the common le should not be taught to read and think. The Church should be their sole instructress. Freedom of thought and inquiry among the masses, might lead them to deny her divine authority, and so cause their damnation. They are opposed to the union of Church and State, because, say they, the Church should be supreme over the State. It should rule the State. The Pope has a divine right to absolve subjects from their oath of allegiance, and to depose Kings, Emperors, and Presi-

How many Catholice believe in these insane ravings? Not one in ten thousand, we compute. Their creed contains no such articles. Here and there a Catholic periodical, such as the Catholic Mirror, of Baltimore, protests, against them. And there are hundreds of thousands of good and true men, such as Jo-SEPH R. CHANDLER, who only need an opportunity, such as he had in Congress, to declare that if the Pope were to land an army upon band of midnight conspirators; and now that they perceive the fraud that was practiced upon them, oppose him. It is the same way in Europe. temporal supremacy of the Pope. Even in the most Catholic times, the most Catholic countries, such as England and France, asserted fiercely the independence of their National Churches. The old English statute books' prior to the Reformatian, are full of acts Parliament, restraining the power of the Pope's legates. And the Gallican Church fought long and flercely, until it obtained a concession of its Theorems. Such men as BROWNSON and BAREWELL, have done the Catholie Church in America incalculable injury They have done it the more, because they have written under high ecclesiastical sanction, and because they have the Catholic press chiefly in their hands. They have stirred up bitter enmity against millions of their innocent brethern, who would rather die than aid to carry into execution such doctrines. Such fanatics do by no means express the belief of the Catholic millions. They acknowledge the Pope as their spiritual head, while we feel assured they would be among the foremost to rebel any aggression of the Papal Power upon our beloved land. Our German American citizens are in like manner cursed with a set of men who assume to be their organs only to misrepresent the views of an infinite majority of them. They are principally men who have found Ger-many too hot to hold them, since the re-action which succeeded the Revolution of 1848. They have come to this country, cherishing the most leveling ideas. Because an unjust government has opposed them, therefore all governments are odious in their eyes. Because the laws have unjustly condemned them therefore all laws should be abrogated. Because Kings and Priests have unjustly descause Kings and Priests have unjustly des-spoiled them, they affirm there is no right of property, and that all property is robbery. Because they have lived under a corrupt form of Christianity, therefore all religion is a sham and a delusion. Atheists, without a God, or Pantheists, holding themselves to as Gods, they deny all moral accountability. They go for the abuegation of all government, all law, all religion, and all social institutions. They wish no rule, save that of the individual They wish no rule, save that of the individual will. What is all this, but a relapse into barbarian savagery, where the strongest rules, and each brawny HERCULES, is a kingl and each brawny HEROULES, is a king! These men, by force of a little writing tal-ent great ambition, have control of the Ger-man press of America. Through it, they pour out their venom upon all institutions, hu-man and divine. Their mnunce is limited, and prevails in but few of our great cities— chiefly in Cincinati and St. Louis. The num-ber who believe in their anarchic doctrines, is comparatively few indeed. Out of the two millions of Germans in America, we do not believe there is one in ten who holds their doc-trines. Their only followers are those who trines. Their only followers are those who come from the Fatherland, already imbued with them. And the scales are fast dropping from the eyes of these, under the beneficent from the eyes of these, under the beneficent influence of our American life and civilization. They are fast learning that all Christianity is not fanaticism and hypocrisy, and that all gov-ernment is not tyrauny and robbery. Reli-gion and patriotism are, we think, daily be-coming more their possession. We do not hesitate to charge the two clas-ses we have delineated, as the Political Ro-manists and the Political Infidels, as greatly responsible for the rise and progress of K now responsible for the rise and progress of Know Nothing sm. Our German citizens are judged by the bombastic rant of KINKEL, and our atholie citizens by the half treasonable tenets of BROWNSON. From all sympathy with such men and such doctrines, we absolve ourselves. But wrong as they are, we would not willingly see a jun right taken from them. And we are oppose true to the Constitution and the Union; true to America and its great idea of freedom through self-control and the supremacy of law. We protest against their being held responsible for he freaks and foolishness of a few. We con-temn BROWNSON and his followers whoever they may be; but we have full faith in the pat-riotism and fidelity of the Catholic manees. We condemn the anarchic doctrines of the German infidel editors who infest the land: but we believe that the German masses are as honest, as industrious, and a great majority as patriotic and as deeply imbued with the reli-gious sentiment, as any other class of American citizens, — Rock Islander. —

Last Words of Nicholas about the United States, England, and France. The New Orleans Bee publishes the follow-ing passage from a letter, addressed to an em-inent foreigner, now in that city, by a Rus-sian friend residing in St. Petersburg. The Bee says it may be " regarded as entirely authentic:

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 1855. Before my letter reaches you, you will prob-ably have received intelligence of a loss that will spread a gloomy veil over all Russis; for the death of such a man is a blow that not only strikes his own country' but resounds from the shores of the whole world. In my last letter I did not dare openly declare what we were expecting from day to day, for we were un-willing to accustom our hearts to an idea which our minds were incapable of conceiving. The last days of the Czar are a whole century in the history of Russia, and will never be forgotten by those who witnessed them. Do not magine that he was exasperated with his oes. Quite to the contrary! Impartially, like a prophet, he gazed upon the present sit-uation of the different European powers, and predicted the future with the accuracy of one who looks far beyond the present.

"England" said he, "has reached her culninating point either for life or death. There is no middle point for her to pursue. One thing alone may save her-and that is, a free confession, not only by the government, but by the whole aristocracy, made to the people, that the Crown is unable any longer to maintain its power; and that the people must rise and unite together as one man to save the honor and preserve the independence of the country. A candid acknowledgement of the truth may even now save England if her cor-rupt aristocracy can be brought to the stool of confession. France, on the contrary, can maintain herself only by falshood and deception. The Emperor may proclaim to his sub-jects that he governs and influences the affairs of all Europe, and that not a shot can be fired without his permission, and that France is the first power in Europe; but a single shock, one speech of a demagogue, may overthrow him and darken the star of Napoleon forever. I have offered him my hand-the hand of reconciliation-but he refused it. He wishes to avenge Moscow upon me, and St. He'ena up-on England. Short-sighted man, who seeks to avenge the sins of the fathers upon the cl dren! As for Germany, Austria, and Prussia, they would not now exist if I had not sia, they would not now exist if I had not saved them when they crouched at my feet six years ago. They think to strengthen themselves on the mighty struggle between the other nations of Europe. But they never have been, and never will be more than secondary bowers satraps, holding authority by the elemency of my House, or by permission is left to me in the midst of all this ingratitud and villany—and that is, the silent sympathy of that high-hearted people on the other side of the Atlantic, the only hearts in which I hear an echo of my struggles against united Europe. Never have I forgotten the smallest kindness shown me by the least of my subjects. Let my children never forget what we owe to America; and if ever an hour of danger dark-ens around the Union, let her find a faithful ally in my family." These words may be of interest to you, my friend, because you are now living amongst the Americans : and I mention them, knowing that your sympathies have bound you to a foreign land nearly half a century. One learns to recognise his true friends in the hour of danger, and you may rely upon it that as long as a Romanoff sits on Russia's throne, the the America States will never need a friend. The above (says the Bee) is a faithful and almost literal translation from the letter, which is written in German, by one of the no-bles of Courland, residing in St. Petersburg. From the source whence we received it we have no hesitation guarantying its authen-

Yet the brief analysis contained in the subjoined extract shows, as dose every movement in the so-called free States on the subject of negroes the superior soundness of the Democratic party over all other organizations: A proposition to amend the Constitution of New York, so as to allow Negroes and Indians to vote, passed the Assembly on the 12th inst. by the following vote:

Noes-Whigs, Democrats

Absentees-Democrats, 16; Whigs, 15. There were 45,000 colored persons in the State in 1850, and they, according to Know-Nothing principles, are to be granted the priv-ilege of voting and holding office, while intelligent, educated white men are to be ostracised on account of their birth-place or religious be-lief. Negroes are competent to be members of Congress, and Presidents of the United States, out white men are to be measured by a differ-ent standard. There is to be no national prejudice excited against colored men, but towards those exiles from tyranny in the Old World, the fall tide of religious bigotry and narrow-minded illiberality is invoked. Such is Know-Nothingism as exemplified in the acts of its representatives .- Argus

From the Pittsburg Gazette. The Legislature.

It is not long since the Harrisburg Her-ald, the Know-Nothing organ there, intima-ted to the members of the legislature that they had better go home; they were doing too much mischief there to warrant them instaying. So far as the majority of them are concerned they are more in danger from an outraged constituency at home than they are at Harrisburg ; and so they make it a point to stay there as the safest place-for themselves. Is not the Treasury there? The Harrisburg Item, another K. N. organ, is also severely exercised about the graceless crew. It wants to get rid of them. Hear how it agonizes:

" The fact is, legislation has fallen into bad hands. A set of political scoundrels took advantage of the late revolution in political sentiment, and, where they did not honestly succeed' fraud was restored to in order to accomplish the object. From the Wabash (Ind) Express, Adril 11 Whole Family Murdered :- A Man, Wife, and Five Children. Testerday evening, about dark, a report reach-

Testering evening, about dark, a report reach-id town that a while family were discovered buried under the floor of the cabin which had been occupied by the Hubbards, who are now in jail charged with the murder of Boyles. The awful news spread rapidly over town, and in half an hour or less, the Coroner, with a jury and thirty or forty citizens, had started for the place. We immediately set about finding the truth of the story and are indebted to Mr. Jas. Wilson for what fol hows -

Yesterday (Tuesday) morning, Mr. Wilson and M. I. Thomas, constable, provided with a war-rant, started down the canal to arrest the wife of Fant, started down the canal to arrest the whe of Hubbard, whom late development rendered it highly probable that she was an accomplice in the murder of Boyles. They succeeded to Mr. Gardi-ner's works, five miles west of town, where they found the women and arrested her. Mr. Loveland suggested to Mr Wilson that suspicions were entertained that the Hubbard's had murdered a whole family last fall. As soon as Mr. Wilson heard this, he, in com-pany with Mr. Loveland, went to the house of Mr. pany with Mr. Loveland, went to the house of Mr. Fisher, where they ascertained that some time in September last, this Hubbard family went to board with a family by the name of French, who then lived in the cabin since occupied by the Hubbards. This french family consisted of seven persons, the father, mother and five children. They were a very poor family that had been living in the neighborhood six or seven years, and were well known by the neighbors. During last summer, the old man French had raised a small patch of corn and some garden stuff, the whole of which, together with the furniture was not worth over fifty dollars. Sometime in October, Mr. Lewis, a near neighbor went to the cabin of French to purchare his corn. He was met at the fence in front of the cabin by the Hubbards, and was told that the night before, Mr. Frenche's brother had come along with a wagon, and had taken Mr. Frenche's whole family away with him, and had started for Hlifamily away with him, and had started for Illinois, and that they had purchased all their things including the corn, garden and furniture. A day or two afterwards, Mr. Stearnes Fisher went over to inquire if the French needed any assistance, and was met in the same way by the Hubbards and was net in the same way by the indocards, and was told the same story. No suspicions were entertained at the time that foul play had been used and nothing occurred until after the body of Boyles had been found and the Hubbards were arrested. It then began to be thought these monsters had raurdered the whole family. On hearing these statements, Mr. Wilson ietermined to go and search the premises. He then went down to Gardiner's works, and procurthen went down to Gardiner's works, and procur-red a shovel and pick and tried to get some one to go with him. Noone, however believed the storys and so no one volunteered to go. While they were talking, Mr. Thomas came up, and he and Mr. Wilson proceeded to Hubbards, and found the door locked. They drew the staple with the pick, and entered the house. They found the floor rais-ed, and some dirt removed. Mr. Miles Morgan, constitute had been there a short time previous ed, and some dirt removed. Air. Aires Morgan, constable, had been there a short time previous searching, and had discovered a piece of skull bone and gone away. They then proceeded to dig away the dirt, and soon discovered the body of an infant, very much decayed. They immediately left, and came up to town and got the Coroner, who summoned a jury, consisting of Stearnes Fisher, J. Lewis, D. Brooks, F. Loveland, M. W. Stober, and Dr. J. W. Jellison, who at once proceeded to the place, which they reach-

PHILADELPHIA, May 6, 1855. The official returns of our City election on the 1st instant, show the election of Morton, the Ame-rican candidate for City Treasurer, over Hager'. Whig and Fusion, by a majority of 422, and of Hill, American candidate for City Con niscioner, over Sherry, Democrat and Fusion, by a majority of 197. This is very close shaving in a poll of near 45,000 votes. Both branches of the Coun-cils will be nearly equally balanced between the Americans one hand and Democrats and Fusion.

Americans one hand and Democrats and Fusion Whigs on the other. The election passed off as a general thing, very peaceably, a result principally attributable to our present mode of voting in small divisions, each ward containing from four to seven or eight of them, and it being a rare occurrence for any con-siderable number of persons to congregate around any one poll. A few fracases occurred however, and in one in stance a man named M'Donough, was stabled by a policeman, and the wound was a first supposed to be a fatal one, but he is now fortunately recovering from the effects. Meantime it is asserted that England has consented that Louis Napoleon should take command of the that Louis Napoleon should take command of the allied army in the East, although this intelligence is considered doubtful. The bombardment of Schastopol had commenced with 500 guns on the 9th ult., and continued in

The Rothschild had taken the new British loan of £16,000,000, and the English taxes are to be their Baltic provinces, and are using great exer-tions to strengthen their fortres es in that quarter. It is stated that seven Russian Admirals in the Black Sea have been killed since the siege of Sebastopol commenced. In England the price of cotton remains steady, but flour and wheat have lightly declined.

The National Medical Convention is now in session in this city. A large number of delegates are in attendance from all sections of the Union, and in attendance from all sections of the Union, and they are very hospitality entertained by our citi-zens, and busi'y engaged with the deliberations of their Convention, and in visiting different public institutions, and places of note in the city. It is situated about three miles from the city. The flowers have begun to bloom brightly where the hand of affection has planted them, and the beauty of the place is most attractive. A full description would require more space than you would wish to grant me, but if any of your readers visit our city they must visit it for themselves if they wish to behold one of the most lovely spots in the vicinity of Philadelphia. The variety of the monuments, the handsome arrange-ments of the graves, the blooming flowers, and the natural beauty of the spot combined with the ele-gant and tasteful manner in which it has been de-corated, impart to it a cheerful air in spite of the melancholy purpose it serves, and render it en-

The result of the late municipal election in Philadelphia, the scene of the carliest triumph of Know-Nothingism, shows that the day is breaking, that fanaticism and wild excitement are beginning to give way before calm reason, and that the people are thoroughly convinced of the folly of placing their rights at the disposal of a secret oathbroken down politicians, whose principal tenet is, that freedom to worship God in the manner that his conscience tells him is right, is not one of the inalienable rights of man.

But we must not forget, that if we would regain our former ascendancy in this state, we must be up and doing, and that if we are not united, active, and vigilant during the contest, if our candidates are not men who are known to have never tampered with Know-Nothingism, and who scorn to have anything to do with it either directly or indirectly, we will, most assuredly, suffer an ignominious and overwhelming defeat. Every Democrat should remember that the time for action has arrived, that he has a part to perform in the good work of redeeming Pennsylvania from Know-Nothing misrule, and that if he would perform it well, he must at once " put his shoulder to the wheel, pray to God for success, and push on the #### Death of Judge Longstreth.

It is always a mournful duty to record the death of a good man; but still the sadness is not unalloyed with pleasure. We grieve for departed worth, but at the same time rejoice to know, that humanity has vindicated the objects of its creation, in presenting an upright being. In the death of Morris Longstreth society has lost one of her best citizens, his family a devoted father and his friends a companwithout guile. His charities were of the noblest character, because they were as unob-trusive as they were sincere and free from selfishness. For many years he was an active member of the Democratic party, and was hon-ored by it with the post of Canal Commissioner, which he filled with the greatest credit to him-self and the people. Subsequently, he became its candidate for Governor, but was defeated Wm. F. Johnston. by about 300 majority. through the treachery and fraul of a few har-pies, who have long flourished by treason to the party to which they were nominally attach-ed. Mr. Longstreth was a retired merchant of Philadelphia, who had located himself, with of Philadelphia, who had located himself, with his family, in Montgomery county, to spend the evening of his days in peace and rural com-fort He had also been an Associate Judge of this county. Wherever known, he was re-spected and esteemed. In him all the virtues so gently mingled, that even his fiercest polit-ical enemies could find no room for censure. Connected with the Roman Catholic faith from epest conviction, he shamed his assailants on this ground by a life of purity, and a spirit of Christian forgiveness. His heart was as ex-pansive as the Universe, and he called all mankind his brethren, without regard to creed or kind his brethren, without regard to ereed or aline. All his political movements were gui-ded by that conscientiousness which does not fear to look back upon their own history. For several years his health has been failing, and he no doubt passed from this to a better life, with the full assurance of a Christian, a re-wind. His henorable life and happy death should furnish us all with an admonition to imitate his virtues, that our own death may be as full of hope and bliesfal immortality. Over his memory, we can well drop a tear. Bless-ad are those who die in the Lord.—Pennsylea-mian, May Let.

Renunciation of Know Nothingism. Mr. Wm. D. Doll, of Frederic, Md. having joined the Know Nothings, and found out what the concern is made of, now renounces and denounces it as a thing of evil. He says, in a communication to the Citizen: "I attended, I think, but four meetings, certainly not more than six, which were amply ufficient to convince me that no man of true patriotism and liberal feelings could remain anong them without sacrificing his honor, and compromising his freedom of will and opinion. Instead of meeting with the patriotic, the in-telligent, and the liberal, with a few exceptions, I met with the bigot, the intolerant. the proscriptionist, the superanuated, and broken down leaders of the old Whig Party, and the disappented office-seeking Democrat. Its main body being men of that creed, the res-idue, those who had once acted with the Democratic party. I saw that its aim was to break down the party of which I had been a member from my youth, and under whose wise, repub-lican, and generous policy my Country had grown rich, great and powerful, and I deter-mined to eschew it as a thing of evil—evil in its origin and evil in its pursuits. Under Democratic rule I had always been free to act, think and speak for myself. I had never been conand speak for myself. I had never been con-trolled by caucuses or cliques. I voted as I pleased, and no one ever dared to question the propriety of my conduct; but there I was bound in will and purpose, to do as those in authori-ty might dictate, under pain of the dreadful dis-pleasure of those who seek power, place and profit by the organization, and who give direc-tion to it. I regard it as a foul egg, hatched after a protracted and elaborate incubation in the old Whig nest, and whose chick strongly re-sombles in form and feature, the Cruzen bird the old Whig nest, and whose chick strongly re-sembles in form and feature, the Craven bird, ancient Federalism, and advise all my Demo-cratic fellow-citizens to give no heed to its out-ward and specious professions of "American-ism," for these are a farce a makery and a lie, and to avoid it as they would the viper, whose presence is contagion, whose sting is death.

A correspondent of the Chambershu Whig, which was also one of them, not long since, thus daguerreotypes the Solons chosen by the pure party which was to reform our politics so amazingly:

"-This is one of the legislatures -it emphatically is! In many respects it is without precedent, and but for the fortunate constitutional limitation, would probably be without end of years. In the Senate there is some lit-tic care taken in the legislation, but in the House there is neither political discipline, or-dinary industry or average honesty It strikes an unsophisticated citizen like your corrspondent, as would loose aggregation of jackasses, with a horse thrown in here and there to break with a horse thrown in here and there to break the monotony of the braying. It would be quite an institution in some wooden country, for it can out-log-roll! any style of log rolling ever before conceived of. It passes new coun-ties with a perfect yell—all by about the same vote, unless more are asleep, absent, or—oh! I'll never mention it—than usual. It passes new banks as fast as they are called up—either in or out of regular order ______increases the expiin or out of regular order—increase the crpi-tol of as many as give a respectable wink on the subject, and would run through re-char-ters for all the banks between Pittsburg and Philadelphia against time, on a wager of fried oysters against sumthin' to take."

We object, somewhat, to the sweeping re-cital here made, for strange to relate? two new county bills were defeated on Wednesday.— There was probably nothing in them. When we reflect that this legis!ature was when we renect that this legislature was chosen by an entirely new party—a party which derived its celat and its power by harp-ing upon the story that "the old parties were so corrupt!"—hopelessly given over to repro-bacy, and which flaunted huge promises to the public eye that it would reform all these things, -would choose men fresh from the peo honest men, free from the taint of demagogue ism—when, we say, we call these things to re-membrance, and ponder over the fact that the legislature chosen by this new party as its em-bodiment has had everything its own way, what a commentary is afforded in the fact that what a commentary is allorded in the fact that this legislature, this honest legislature, fresh from the people, and blooming with virgin purity, has turned out the most corrupt, shame-less and worthless legislature ever assembled in the State. Its base venality is a matter of notoriety, so much so that even its party friends denounce it as "the essence of corruption;" and besides being mercenary beyond all exam-ple, it has ended by being ridiculous. a butt for jeer and mockery, and the langhing stock of the whole Commonwealth.

If these things be done in the green tree, what may we expect when it com fruit in its season ?

The children were much decayed, but the parents were still sound, and were easily recognized by those who had known them.

There is not the least doubt but what the Hub bards are guilty of this wholesale and damping murder. It is almost loo horrible for belief, but the facts are as above stated, and the conclusion is irresistible. The Hubbards are all in jail. Mrs. Hubbard will be examined to-day There seems to have been no other motive than the obtaining what few worldly goods this poor family possess ed, which were not worth over fifty dolldrs.

The may not be generally known that the time fixed upon for the end of the world, by the followers of Miller, is very near. The conflagra-tion is, according to their calculation, to come off the 19th of May, proximo, and not on the 19th of April, as prematurely announced.

To this, but one addition might be made ; and that is, that, as there are many minor offices to be filled in the different countics, it may not be amiss to nominate SAMBO for them. We think this arrangement would suit all tastes, and would certainly not be out of place, as the two (niggers and Hindoos) appear to go hand in hand.

63-It will be remembered, that last fall the editor of the Green Bay (Wisconsin) Advocate du-ring his absence left his wife to edit the paper, and that she, being a good Whig, took the Democratic ticket down from its columns, and wrote some good Whiz editorials. The editor, it seems, has been called again to the Capital, and through his substitute announces as follows :

"Our editor has gone to Madison, and in order to make a sure thing of it, and prevent the ap-pearance of any more whig editorials, has taken his wife with him,"

CPLewis D. Campbell, M. C. from Ohio, has written a letter declining to run as a candidate for the office of Governor of Ohio. His reasons are that he has just been re-elected to Congress, and that his chief political experience has been in litics.

Doings of the Legislature. It generally takes some time after an ad-journment, to know what each Legislature has done. The doings of our present lawma-kers, however, bid fair to become well known long before they take up their line of march homeward, never more to return, in the pres-

As a general answer to the inquiry, "What has the Legislature done?" we state, for the information of the public, that it first spent week after week, at an expense of perhaps over $20,000, in a vain and fruidess attempt to elect a U. S. Senator; that it has passed to elect a C. S. Schator; that it has passed an innumerable quantity of Bank bills; that it has enacted a license law, which, for stapid-uncertainty and ill defined provisions, could not be excelled by the muddlest and most thick headed school boy of twelve years of age in the State; that it has repealed the tonnage tax on coal and lumber, passing over the Penna. R. R.; that it proposes to create the office of Guano Inspector, with a large salary, to tax farmers, and those who use that article; that it has undertaken to vote cach member an increase of pay; and finally, as a fit closing scene to so disreputable a drama, a resolution is actually passed. by one body, to remove the State Capitol to Philadelphia! If this is cer-tainly not enough of dishonor for any one set of men, we know not what is.
