

From the Pittsburg Post, Oth.
Robbery of Forty-five Hundred Dollars.
We have had in our possession for several days the particulars of an extensive robbery, which occurred at the Summit station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, on Sunday night, but in order to give the police an opportunity to catch the perpetrator, delayed publishing it until today. On Saturday last, a merchant named Nicolls, from Ohio, arrived in our city, on his way West, with $4,500 in his possession, secured in a belt around his person. At the Monongahela House, he made the acquaintance of a young man who represented himself to be a clerk in a wholesale house in Philadelphia, at which Mr. Nicolls intended making purchases. The two became very intimate on a short acquaintance, and Nicolls very foolishly confided to the other the fact that he had a large amount of money with him. The two agreed to travel to Philadelphia together, but on Sunday night, at half-past nine o'clock, when the train started for the East, Nicolls could not find his companion, and took passage by himself. At the Summit station of the railroad, in Cambria County, Nicolls stepped out upon the platform of the car to see the depot. The night was very dark, and just as the cars were again getting into motion, some one stepped from the interior of the one upon which he was standing, and struck him a violent blow upon the back of the head with a heavy-billy, knocking him to the ground senseless. When he recovered, his person was rifled of the money, but no clue to the perpetrator could be found. Nicolls came back to this City and put officer Fox upon the track of the young man whose acquaintance he had made at the Monongahela House, under the belief that the individual knew something of the occurrence, but up to the present time no trace of him has been found.

How to do up Smart Bosoms.—We often hear ladies expressing a desire to know by what process the gloss on new lincens, shirt bosoms, &c., is produced, and in order to gratify them we submit the following recipe: Take two ounces of fine white gum arabic, powder it in a pitcher, and pour on a pint or more of water, according to the degree of strength you desire, and then, having covered it, let it set all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, cork it, and keep for use. A table spoonful of gum water stirred into a pint of starch made in the usual way will give to lincens, either white or printed, a look of newness when nothing else can restore them after washing.

Look upward.—Hope on, frail mortal!—what though thy path be rugged, and strewn with thorns?—thou hast only to persevere, and thy reward awaits thee. Many days and nights, perhaps years, has thou struggled with adversity.—What though thou art poor, despised by those, it may be, who are thy inferiors in all save wealth? What matters it, that thy short life is exposed to the rude blasts of adverse fortune, if at last thou art crowned with immortality, which those who rudely push thee from them think not of. Hope on, then, in thy poverty; aspire to be great by being truly good.

Adjutant General.—The Supreme Court have refused a mandamus to compel the State Treasurer to pay Adj. Gen. Bowman's salary, on the ground that he had not filed the bond required by law. They also decided that Gen. Power was not legally commissioned.

Mr. J. Lewis, the son of the Chief Justice, and one of the associate editors of the Pennsylvania, has received an appointment as Second Lieutenant in the Marine corps.

The following story is told of a Rev. Dr. Morse. At an association dinner a debate arose as to the benefit of whipping in bringing up children. The doctor took the affirmative, and his chief opponent was a young minister, whose reputation for veracity was not very high. He affirmed that parents often did harm to their children by unjust punishment, from not knowing the facts of the case.

"Why," said he, "the only time my father ever whipped me was for telling the truth."
"Well," retorted the doctor, "it cured you of it—did it?"
