Sebastopol at San Francisco. We find in the San Francisco Herald a copious account of a celebration attempted at that place, in honor of the fall of Sebastopol. It was got up by subscription, the number of subscribers being 1500. The scene was a place called the South Park. A procession was formed in the city, and marched thither with banners, &c. A congregation of about seven thousand persons, on foot and horseback, were there assembled. An immepse canvass tent was erected for a banquet. This represented Sebastopol, and bore the flags of the Allies, the names of the Generals and of the battles being painted on the doorway. On an adjacent hill was a painted imitation of the Mamelon fortress, behind were placed four guns, worked by a party of gunners from the British frigate Amphitrite. These guns commenced firing as soon as the procession startmelee ensued. When the excitement decreased in the pavilion, the French formed into a procession. and, preceded by a fife and drum, marched around the pavilion and then to the miniature fortress erected on the eminence south of the pavilion. They carried the French flag in front. While making the circuit of the pavilion, a number of Americans had mounted upon the structure which had served as an altar in the early part of the day, and come menced to wave the American flag and cheer lustily, and it was at one time feared that a serious collision would take place. The whole, we are, however, happy to say, passed off quietly. Towards evening, the French again ascen-ded the hill on which the miniature fortress had been erected, blew it up, marched down town, paraded through the streets, sung the Marsellaise and having expended all their patriotic ardor, quietly dispersed. Thus ended the great celebration in San Francisco. got up in honor of the successes achieved by the Allies in the Crimea.

In the evening a crowd of about fifteen hundred persons assembled in the city, and made a counter demonstration by marching to the residence of the Russian Consul, to testify their respect for Russia. When they reached there the doors and windows of the house were thrown open, and the Russian Consul came forth on the piazza. He was reacived with hearty cheering, and returned his acknowledgements

Our valley has been thrown into a most fearful excitement by the Indians. They are burning and murdering on an extensive scale; already is Rough River Valley nearly in ruins. Eighteen companies of volunteers are in service, but cannot bring the Indians to any general engagement.

As an indication of the kind of women we have on this coast, let me give you the fol lowing heroic incident : The house of a Mr. Harris was attacked in the afternoon. The inmates were himself, wife and a little girl. In one hour he had fallen in the conflict. Before he expired he gave his wife some directions as how to load and fire -The house was a log one, and every assault the Indians would make on the door, she would give them a deadly fire from a musket loaded with buck shot, and also by firing a revolver. They until eight o'clock next morning, when she was relieved by the volunteers She literally strewed the yard with the dead and wounded

Who Gen. Walker Is.

William Walker was born in Nashville, Tennessee, and is now about thirty-three years old. His father is James Walker, Esq., phin), Reinhold, Smith (Allegheny). His mother was a Miss | chensburg, on Saturday the 16th of February Norvell, an estimable lady, from Kentucky. aext, at 1 o'clek, P. M., where all those inter-Walker, after quiting school in his native ested may attend. M. HASSON, Auditor. State, which he did with much credit and honor, commenced the study of medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, where be graduated. He then went to Europe, enter ed the medical schools of Paris as a student received a diploma to this country, went to Nashville, and commenced the study and practice of the law. Walker is thus both lawyer and physician. From Nashville he went to New Orleans, and was for some time editor of the Crescent. In June, 1850, he went to San Francisco, and became one of the editors of the Herald. While in this position an article appeared in the Herald animadverting upon the Judiciary, to which exception was taken by Judge Parsons, of the District Court, who forthwith summoned him before his Court, and inflicted on the editor a fine of $500. This Walker refused to pay, and was accordingly imprisoned, but was subsequently discharged on a writ of habeas corpus, issued from the Superior Court. which action was sustained by the Legislature at its next session. The next enterprise in which Walker was engaged was the famous expedition to Sonora, with the disastrous result of which our readers are as familiar as they are with his more recent history.

> Some time ago a little daughter of Zelic Clark, one half mile northwest of Abingdon, Ill., was out in the yard, and saw a strange cat, and took it up to carry it to the house, and was severely bitten by it, and put it down, and her father being chopping wood, the cat came to him, he put his hand down to caress it, and it bit him, and held on until choked off and killed. On last thursday Mr. CLARK began to feel a dull pain in his hand, near where it had been bitten; the pain increased, but preventing him from sleeping at night. On Friday morning, he ate his breakfast as usual, and on rising went to take a drink of water, and found it utterly impossible to drink water; the sight or thoughts of it, gave him the most unutterable dread. He became the craving drink, but the sight of water or even a vessel used for holding water, would throw him into spasms of a most violent nature Sometimes he would, during his fits, take water in his mouth with a full determination to swallow it; but the fits would continue until tion of water to hin, would generally throw him into fits Yes he retained his full senses until on Tuesday morning he failed and soon his suffering was over.

The little girl who was bitten has not as vet exhibited any dangerous symptoms.

Its use in the above named disease will save many a child from a premature grave, and relieve the anxiety of many a fond parent. For all affections of the Throat and Lungs, I believe it the best medicine extant. A feeling of the deepest gratitude, prompts me in addressing you these lines,—but for your important discovery, my little boy would now have been in another world.
