FOR PRESIDENT,

Subject to the Decision of the National Convention.

Wisconsin.

We observe by the Madison Argus and Democrat that the Legislature of the State is now in session at that place, but the strange sight is presented of two Governor's having taken the oath of office. In no State in the Union was the con- dollar for each citizen taxable for military purpotest between the Democrats and the Know-Nothings more warmly waged, than in Wisconsin at the State election in November last; and in no State election in November last; and in no and treasurers, and disburse, the fund raised in maintain the laws of the Territory as those of liminary signa State did the Know-Nothings feel more sure of payment of the expenses of the Brigade, and that, the Union. He commands all passess engasuccess. The Democrats took a bold stand in defence of the Constitution, and civil and religious liberty, and were successful in electing their several State officers by majorities ranging from 2500 to 2000 each, except the Governor whose majority | the Convention, be constituted for the purpose of was only 157. This result was so different from what had been expected, that the bitterness of the Know-Nothing-Native American-Abolition -anti-Aebraska-and every ism party that was arrayed against the Democrats, knew no bounds. This fusion party had gained two signal victories Gregg, and Capts. Ziegler and Eyster, said Comwithin a year; they had elected two members of mittee. Congress out of three to which the State is entitled, and a Judge of the Supreme Court; defeating the Democratic candidates by an average Know-Nothing majority of 5000. Now the Democrats have succeeded in revolutionizing the State and achieving a glorious victory. Among those elected we observe that Gen. Wm. R. Smith, well known to the citizens of this County, was chosen to fill the important post of Attorney General .-The lower house of the legislature is also democratic, the democrats having a majority of nine in that body. Barstow's message, and to refuse to recognize him as Governor. However after much stormy talk, the two branches subsequently | per: met in joint convention and received Gov. Barstow's message.
