"Sam." What is up, we really cannot say ;probably they are making preparations to nominate candidates for Congress and Senate. When they get them nominated we presume that they will be good natured enough to announce who they are, so that the public may have an oppor tunity of judging of their merits.

20 It would seem that "Sam's" friends are no going " to give it up so " but are determined to win if they can. We had hoped, that after the withering rebuke they have received from our people, they world not have dared to show themselves again among us. If there must be another struggle, let it come; we pledge them a war of Kinkend upon the bench. extermination. We will make a sure thing this

It will be interesting to observe what course the FREMONT men in this section will take in regard to "SAM."

The late accident on the Portage Rail Road Our readers have doubtless perused last week. the painful details of the terrible acci lent which occurred during the week preceding near to what was formerly Plane No. 8. When it is known that the accident occurred in broad daylight, on a perfect straight piece of track; that the Locomotive was drawing no load at the time, and that there was an entire absence of any of those peculiar combinations of circumstances which some times render an accident unavoidable, and beyond the power of man to prevent it is not to be wondered at, if there exists, in relation to this melancholy event a deep scated feeling in the public mind, causing it to be looked upon as a reckless destruction of human life.

Without regarding the many reports in circu lation, our duty as the conductors of a publi Journal compels us to say that many circumstances of this dep'orable calamity unquestionably demand examination and investigation, and that the public look for at least the exhibition of haman sympathy and christian feeling on the part arrangement has been made to make it a real old of the officer in charge of the Rail Road. A regard for the welfare of the community sternly demands at the hands of Mr. Calohan, that a system of strict responsibility should be introduced that such recklessness should not be lightly pass ed over, and it's recurrence prevented and guarded against. We hope that we may not be forced to allude again to this distressing columity.

THE EDITOR OF THE TRIBUNE AT CATHOLIC Church.- We were not a little surprised on last sabbath to notice, Bowman, with the Catholic Missal in hand, wending his way past our residence to the Cathelie Church of this place. What will his Know-Nothing brethren in the county think of this strange procedure—the acknowl edged organ of that party, attending Catholic worship and going through all the forms of the ritual. We hope that his attendance at Church will have a salutary effect on the mind and manners of the editor, and be the means of reforming the course of the Tribune altogether.

Hear an Old Line Whig.

An Old Line Whig closes an eloquent leter to the Georgia Constitutionalist with this good advice :--

The interests and rights of the South are at take, and it behooves us to stand together as one man, and do battle for our rights, for our institutions. Let us, then, join ourselves to he Democratic party-the only national party-and help them to save the Constitution and preserve the Union-help them to drive back the waves of Northern fanaticism. In uniting with the Democracy, we will do less justice to our principles as Whigs, than we hould have to do in giving our aid to the Know Nothing party-since Democracy savors more of Whiggery than Know Nothingsm does, besides the advantages of one being national while the other is sectional. Let us, Modest.-The leader of the last Johnstown | then, I repeat, array ourselves under the Democratic banner, assist that party in its great and glorious mission of preserving the Constitution and perpetuating the Union.

For the Democrat and Sentinel-State Senator.

The ascendency of the democratic party in the next Legislature will, in all likelihood, depend on the result of the contest for State Senator in this district next fall; consequently, the importance of securing the nomination of a talented, popular and reliable man as the Democratic candidate, cannot easily be overrated. Permit me to call the attention of the people of the district, through the columns of your paper, to a Democratic citizen of this County, who has often been tried and never found wanting, and who is every way qualified to represent them with marked ability in the State Senate, in a word, to your fellowtownsman Dr. WILLIAM A. SMITH.

Dr. Smith is well and favorably known to the people of the district, and has always been a favorite with the democracy of Cam- ling up religion with politics. The doctrine bria. E. SHOEMAKER, President. A. C. MULLIN, See'y

We will let the former editor of the Post be heard to-day, by transferring from the Mt. Old Line Whigs for Buchauan.

One of the most pleasing things connected with the present campaign, is the fact that so many of the prominent Old Line Whigs are out zealously for the election of James Buchanan to the Presidency. These men are wedded to the Union as it is, and opposed to abolitionism, fanaticism, treason and disunion, which are the leading characteristics of the opponents of Democracy.

Amongst the many changes of this kind we have recently noticed are the following:

Senator Benjamin, of Louisiana, a leading Whig of that State, and one of the most elo quent, popular and influential orators in the South, has joined the Democratic ranks, and is now doing good service for the Constitution

Mr. Preston, of Louisville, one of the most conspicuous Whigs in Keneucky, and a bosom friend of Henry Clav, was a delegate to the late Cincinnati Convention, and is now exerting his fine talents for the success of the Democratic party.

Josiah Randall, a leading lawyer of Philadelphia—a man of wealth, influence and in-tellect—who has heretofore been one of the most prominent Whigs in the country, was at Cincinnati during the Convention, working with all his energies to insure the nomination of Mr. Buchanan.

in former times, were among the most promineut Whigs of Philadelphia, addressed the Democracy at the great ratification meeting at that city, a few days ago.

Charles Anderson, of Cincinnati, and able and influential Whig, and an eloquent speaker at the bar and on the stump, addressed the Democratic ratification meeting at Dayton, on Saturday. He is now doing yeoman's service for the Democracy and Equal Rights, and pouring hot shot into the disunionists

The Hon, George W. Clinton, one of the most prominent Whigs in the State of New York, son of Dewitt Clinton, comes out in a letter strong for " Old Buck."

A New York correspondent says :- A rivalry of a new kind, I am g'ad to say, has broken out between the "hard" and " soft" wings of the Democracy of this city; that is to say, they are trying their best, one to out-do the other in working for the two B's-Buchanan and Breckinridge. All the bickerings and heart burnings are appaparently forgotten, and both now move on in unison and harmony-the sure precursors of the

ly received in Ohio. The papers are unusually cordial and jubilant in their notices of the event, while ratification meetings of the people are being held in every city or considerable locality. Not only is the old guard of Democracy present at these meetings, but Democrats who have been estranged from our organization for the last two or three years, are once more present and enthusiastic in the good old cause. Unless all indications are deceptive, Mr. Buchanan can hardly fail to carry the State by a handsome majority

James Buchanan on the Know-Nothing

Question. On the 7th day of October, 1852, James Buchanan delivered a speech in Greensburg, Westmoreland county, Pa., in advocacy of the Democratic cause. In that speech he thus eloquently alluded to the anti-American principles of those who would persecute the foreign born citizen on account of his birth or difference of religious views. We call the especial attention of the friends of civil and religious liberty to his pointed denunciation of the principles that are now at the basis of the Know-Nothing organization. Said Mr.

From my soul I abhor the practice of mingof all our Constitutions, both Federal and State, is, that every man has an indefeasible tates of his, own conscience. He is both a bigot and a tyrant who would interfere with that sacred right. When a candidate is beclearly entitled to the candidate. I have no fore the people for office, the inquiry ought Jefferson, "Is he honest; is he capable?"

"Democratic Americans!" What a name for a Native American party! When all the police at Philadelphia, bad been indicted by records of our past history prove that American Democrats have ever opened wide their arms to receive foreigners fiving from oppression in their native land, and have always be- eral ballot-box stuffers and desperadoes, and stowed upon them the rights of American itizens after a brief residence in this country. The Democratic party have always gloried in this policy, and its fruits have been to increase our population and our power with unexam-Shoemaker, Esq., President, who stated its | pled rapidity, and to furnish our country with vast numbers of industricus, patriotie and useful citizens. Surely the name of "Democratic Americans" was an unfortunate designation for the Native American party.

The Native American party an "Amer can excellence," and the glory of its foundership belongs to George Washington! No. fellow-citizens, the American people will rise up with one accord to vindicate the memory of hat illustrious man from such an imputation. As long as the recent memory of our revolutionary struggle remained vividly impressed on the hearts of our countrymen, no such party could have existed. The recollection of Montgomery, Lafayette, De Kalb, Kosciusko, and a long list of foreigners, both officers and soldiers who freely shed their blood to secure our liberties," would have rendered such ingratitude impossible. Our revolutionary army was filled with the brave and patrithe admission of foreigners to the rights of American citizens? Let his acts speak for

So early as the 20th of March, 1790, Gen. Washington, as President of the United States approved the first law which ever passed Con ress on the subject of naturalization; and this only required a residence of two years previous to the adoption of a foreigner as an American citizen. On the 29th of January. 1795, the term of residence was extended by Congress to five years, and thus it remained throughout General Washington's administration, and until the accession of John Adams to the Presidency. In his administration, which will ever be known in history as the reign of terror-as the era of alien and sedition laws -- an act was passed on the 18th of June, 1798, which prohibited any foreigner from becoming a citizen until after a residence of fourteen years; and this is the law or else perpetual exclusion, which General Scott preferred, and which the native American party now desire to restore.

The Presidential election of 1800 secured the ascendency of the Democratic party; and, under the administration of Thomas Jefferson, its great apostle, on the 14th of April. 1802, the term of residence, previous to naturalization, was restored to five years, what if had been under General Washington, and where it has ever since remained. No, fellow-citizens, the Father of his Country was never a Native American. This "American excellence" never belonged to him.

The Democratic Party.

The following admirable reasons for remaining true to the Leanneratic party appeared, some time since, in the Maystille Express, in reply to a query of a Knew Nothing paper—
Why should any Democrat still adhere to such a party?' The Express, in noticing this query, says:
"We will try to answer Because it is the

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the North America. Quaseo, June 30 .- The steamer North America arrived this evening with Liverpool lates to the 18th. Mr. Dallas had not been dismissed and the difficulty between Great Britain and the United States will probably be amicably settled. Lord Clarendon stated, in reply to Lord Derby, in the House of Lords, that it was not the intention of the government to advise the Queen to suspend diplomatic relations with America. This announcement was loudly cheered. Lord Derby expressed his satisfaction, but he regarded the government course as humiliating and an acknowledgement of error .larendon appealed to the House not to join Derby in pressing the question. The subject was then dropped. The faude rose in conve-quence of the announcement.
