A Human Life Saved. Dowagiac, Mich., March 11, 1856.

J. A. BHODES, Esq. : Dear Sir-As I took your medicine to sell on consignment, " no cure no pay," I take pleasure in stating its effects as reported to me by three brothers who live in this place, and their testimony is a fair specimen of all I have received :

W. S. CONKLIN told me-" I had taken nine bottles of Christie's Ague Balsam, and continually run down while using it until my lungs and liver were Congested to that degree that blood discharged from my month and bowels, so that all thought it impossible for me to live through another chill. The doctors to did all they could for me, but thought I must die. Notning did me any good until I get Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure which at once relieved me of the distress and nausea at my stomach and pain in my head and bowels, and produced a permanent cure in a short time." H. M. CONKLIN says : "I had been the king medicine of as good a doctor as we have in our county, and taken any quantity of quining and specifics without any good result, from 25th ugust to 17th December. But seeing how nicey it operated on my brother, I got a bottle of RHODES' FEVER AND AGUE CURE, which effected a permanent cure by using two thirds of a bottled S. M. CONKLIN was not here, but both the other brothers say his case was the same as H. M's. I sold the medicine to both the same day, and the cure was as speedy from the same small quantity and I might so specify, Yours with respect, A. HUNTINGTON.

From the Crisis.

Shout, Freeman, Shout AIR-Dearest Mae," Arouse, ye sons of liberty, And gird your armor on; The contest is for truth and right-The battle must be won. Arouse! and let your banners wave In every passing gale. With Buck and Breck to lead you on, There's no such word as fail! Chorus .- Shout, freemen, shout! Awake the glorious strain,

And send it back again.

Your line extends far to the North, Where heroes shed their blood. And lengthens to the sunny South, Where swells the turbid flood. The East is ready for the fray, Where Arostook is rolled. And strong, brave hearts fill up your ranks, Far in the land of gold .- Chorus. There's no such word as fail. And, for the contest nerved, Proclaim in tones that rend the sky. That it shall be preserved.

Then up, and fling your bauners out To every passing gale; With Buck and Breck to lead you on, There,s no such word as fail. Cheran .- Shout, freemen, shoutl
