Black Republican Principles. Last year about the time that the star of

Know-Nothingism began to wane it was given out by certain disappointed office-seekers. that a new party was about to be organized, a party eminently patriotic in its principles and objects, and consequently worthy of the exalted appellation of the Republican Party of the country. Notwithstanding the flourish of trumpets with which the advent of this new organization was bailed, every sensible man in the country on examining it, instantly perceived, that it was nothing more than a fungus, which had sprung from the putrid mass of decaying Know-Nothingism, and which, like its illustrious predecessor, dying before arriving at maturity, would be regarded as nothing there, than "a schoolboy's tale, the wonder of an hour." This new party has in their present aim of uniting the inhabitants as yet made but little progress in Cambria The attempt to effect an organization in this place, resulted in a perfect "fizzle," and we understand "Sambo," has been equally as unsuccessful in Johnstown. We understand and implacable animosities which ever degrathat a number of "Nigger worshipping" ded or deformed human nature. * * * One Yankees from Varmount or Maine, are actively engaged in barking for Fremont and Dayton, in the northern section of this county; but we are inclined to suspect they will find | which now happily lie concealed from our view. it an uphill business, in converting the yeomanry of that section of the county from patriotic untional Democrats into fanatical, union hating abolitionists. The sentiments contained in the following extracts, compose the platform of principles on which Frement and Dayton stand. We ask our friends to read and judge for themeselves, comment is un-

Since his return to Pennsylvania, he has resided in his native county, and called as he now is to the head of affairs in the distracted territory of Kansas, it is hoped that he will be enabled to restore order in that region .-The appointment has been confirmed by the Senate, and appears to be well received.

Clay on Sectionalism.

Henry Clay in a speech delivered in the U S. Senate, Febuary 7, 1839, used the following language, which is so applicable to the present times that we cannot forbear publishing it, as a warning to those who are recklessly assisting the Abelitionists in their mad schemes to dissever the Union:

Like hundreds of ies of the South, and blot out the last vestige of "Old Line Whigs" throughout the Union he avers his determination to support Buchanan and Breckinridge, regarding them as the only National candidates for the two highest offices in the gift of a free people, and in whose election only can the Constitution and Union of these now happy States be preserved. Mr. Magehan has beretofore been regarded as one stitutional guarantees which may not be re- of the most active opponents of the Democratic party in this county, and his present patriotic course when he perceives the institutions of his country endangered by the mad schemes of fagatics and disunionists, cannot fail to be commended. His icter no doubt will have its weight upon these with whom he has formerly acted, and we commend it to the perusal of our readers.

EBENSBURG, Aug. 6th, 1856. MY DEAR SIR :-

The course which I have felt compelled to take in the approaching political contest, has elicited much of condemnation and some approbation, from men with whom I have acted for near a quarter of a century.

It is due to my early and steadfast friends, as well as to myself, that I should either justify myself, or be the fit subject of their scorn as a recreant from principles which I still have an abiding faith in.

The cherished doctrines of DANIEL WEB-STER and HEERY CLAY, will receive full acquiesence from me, so long as reason retains her dominion within the earthly case that retains the mind, the thoughts and energy "It is the duty of the North, in case they (small though they be,) with which the giver of all good has endowed me.

The first question which presented itself to me after the nominations were made was-Where is the Whig Party? To that question I have obtained no satisfactory answer. Some tell me that is is to be found in the sta--Black republican clergyman at Poughkeep- bles, out-houses, caverns and fence corners of the foul band of conspirators, who in enormity, crime and blasphemy have shamed and driven back to the gloomy shades of eternal desolation, the sulphuric shades of Marat, Danton, Robespiere and their fellow incarna- to act." tions of all that was vile, wicked, horrible of That will do very well; but here is someother days. I believe it not! The party so thing from an eminent Black Republican loving the Constitution of our country. So faithful to the principles of self gevernment Aye that party of Webster and of Clay, and our own John Sergeant and Walter Forward, never did, never can sacrifice itself in the lewd embraces of midnight conspirators, colluding together unseen by any but the avenging Angel, and their fit associates, low demons spewed forth from Hell to give some tone and character to their infern al orgics. The Whigs! We my friend are not with, or

> Where then is that noble trustworthy, true party to which we belonged? Is it to be found in principle or practice among the Black Republicans? No! No! That old line whig cannot be found mean enough to descend from hosts of mighty spirits who adorned not only our pasty, and the councils of the nation. but human nature itself, by their brilliant talents, pure lives, honest, fervid patriotism, to John C. Fremont What are his antece dents? Are they such as would recommend him for a common county office? Is the climbing of mountains, the eating of reptiles, the degrading sentence of a court martial, the contumely with which he was hurled out of the United States Senate, the fraudulent speculation with government funds in milch cows, or the crowning feat of his inglorious life, in accepting a nomination which if consummated by election would scatter to the four winds of Heaven the labors of our (not his) fathers. Are I ask these the reasons which will induce the American people to elevate him to the highest office in the known world? Has he I again ask any eapacity, any integrity, or a single qualification for that high station Would you not be ashamed to own that you assisted to elevate the creature of yesterday, the nothing of to day, whose impotent and pigmy mind cannot soar above the robbery of the poor frontier settlers out of their rights, and along with his vile adherents belch forth his foul effluvia over our happy land, carrying with its pestilential breath disunion. dismay and ruin over the fair heritage which our fathers purchased in blood, and bequeathed to us, as the greatest legacy man ever left

> But I am ashamed to talk to you in such a strain. You cannot and will not hug ignorance, impudence and assurance, like the spartan fool did the fox, to your bosom until your vitals are torn out. So far as Fremont s concerned I implore you not to assist to fire the temple of liberty.

I have done with the man and his confed-

Now sir, can I support Millard Fillmore? Can you support A. J. Donaldson? These are questions not easily answered by you. You will not ask me to support the nominee of a party who with the filth of stables and hog pens hanging to their feet, redolent with the effluvia of the dirt and mustiness of filthy haunts, calumniate all that is dear to me Vagabonds knowing no law, no God, dare to arraign christian doctrines and practices at with dispositions engendered in the regions of allw he will not deny their God, their religion, and their country's institutions, and bows down a resident of Johnstown. When this bold attempt was made by wicked and designing men, the good and true friends of their country looked on with apathy and soorn. No friend of his country and his country's laws would believe that other than ignorance, base low bred bigotry could be induced ?o enter into so unhallowed a combination against the institutions planned by Washington, and perfected by the far seeing statesmen of the Revolution and their descendants.

But we were mistaken, the Fillmore's the Donaldsons, the Johnston's, Conrads, Crittendeas, and others of kindred feeling, felt no shame in joining and intimately associating with the vagabond outcast in midnight cabals, and secretly binding themselves to their ruffianly confederates by oaths so horrible impious and blasphemous that none who has a spark of christian feeling or brotherly love ould do aught but recoil in dread from the fearful profanation.

Yet, this is the man! The great recipient of Whig favor, for whom I am not asked to vote. For he and his myrmidons declare to the world that the son of the Revolution, whose ancestors acquitted themselvs with honor during that tremendous struggle, because of his belief in the creed handed down by them to him, must be ostracised and driven beyond the pale not only of freedom, but of civilization itself.

I will not by my vote invoke Fillmore and Donaldson to make my son a pariah.

But I fear I tire you. I can support Buchanan because he never advocated a violation of the constitution. Because I sincerely behere that he and his adherents are the only national, party loving the constitution, and having an unviolding determination to preserve the integrity of the Union at all and ev-

Black Republican Sentiments:

The tone and temper of the rampant Black Republicanism of the day which, strange to say, finds countenance among some respectable citizens, is very well indicated in the f llowing "gems of thought," which have been recently elicited from its distinguished advocates. One of the correspondents of the New York Tribune, "Kansas outrage" manufacturers, is getting discouraged for the want of material. Speaking of a Kansas company on the road, the writer says:

" I almost hope to hear that some of their lives have been sacrificed, for it seems as if nothing but that would urge the Eastern States

"At a recent Black Republican meeting in Auburn, Fred Douglass said, among other things, that it was the duty of every slave to cut his masters throat!"

The reader is very well prepared, we trust, now for the perusal of the following extracts from a late Fourth of July oration delivered by William Lloyd Garrison, the notiorous Abolition agitator Garrison said;

"To me the path is plain. To day I disown the American flag, as the symbol of unequalled hypocricy and transcendent oppresion, and- casting it luto the broad Atlantic. defy all the waters thereof to wash out its bloody stains. To day I renew my accusation against the American Constitution, that it is 'a covenant with death and an agreement with hell, ' which ought to be annulled now and forever. To-day I pronounce the American Union a league of despotism, to perpetuate which is a crime against our common humanity and a sin against God. To day I affirm the 'Higher Law' to be the rightful and paramount law of the land, to the subversion of every statute, ageement and compromise inimical to human freedom. To-day I stand outside of the tyrannical Government, a seceder on principle, a revolutionist with Hancock, and Otis, and Warren, but upon a broader platform, with a loftier spirit, with better weapons, and for a nobler object.

"Let us, then, to-day-rejecting as wild and chimeral all suggestions, propositions and contrivances for restraining slavery within its limits, while extending constitutional p otection to it in fifteen of the thirty-one Statesregister our pledge anew, before Heaven and the world, that we will do what in us lies to effect the eternal overthow of this blood-staind Union, that thus our enslaved countrymen may find a sure defiverance, and we may no longer be answerble for their blood. Let us not be drawn off by any side issues in regard to Kansas, nor be deluded by the cry of "Liberty National, Slavery Sectional," seeing it is the existence of slavery in the south which is the root of all our troubles, the cause of all our dangers, the source of all our perils. Away, then, with all nostrums, concessions, compromises, expedients, truces and the like! But one course is to be pursuedone object aimed at-the blow struck. The North must separate from the South, and organize her own institutions on a sure basis!"
