Fremont not Eligible to the Presidential Office.

It seems by the following article from the New York Express, that there exists a strong probability that Fremont was not born in the United States, and, therefore, is not constitutionally eligible to the Presidency. We invite attention to the article in the Express, which says:

WHERE FREMONT WAS BORN.—We need not beg pardon of the public for freely discussing where Fremont was born, because under the Constitution of the United States, a man must be born here, in these United States or have been here when the Constitution was adopted, in order to be its President. Hence, if, as alleged, and as believed by many, and as circumstances indicate, the French father of Col. Fremont took the mother of Col. Fremont out of the United States, with the intent to live abroad, the son born abroad is Constitutionally disqualified for being President.

"The Biography of Mr Bigelow, (editor of the Evening Post) the inspiration, doubtless of Fremont himself, has now reached Richmond, Va., and, as we suspected, nearly all of it that relates to Fremont's origin is fiction, or to quote the Richmond Dispatch:

"It reads like a novel. It is quite destitute of such a prosaic element as fact. The Legislature of Virginia never sanctioned the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Pryor by passing an act of divorce. We have examined the Acts of Assembly from 1801 to 1817, (Fremont was born, according to his biographer, January 21, 1813,) and in all that time there were but two divorces granted, neither of which was Mr and Mrs Pryor.

"We know nothing of the circumstances of their marriage. We never heard that the old gentleman was rich or gouty. He kept a sort of a pleasure garden for public entertainment, which is not consistent with the idea of being a nabob. In short, we know the divoree part of the above story is untrue and we don't believe one word of the remainder of it. We only allude to the subject to vindicate the truth of history, and do justice to the State and individuals, unjustly assailed in the above paragraph."

"We were certain, at the start, that an old staid State like Virginia never divorced parties—for the reasons given in the biography, that the parties had influential friends. The Acts of Assembly disclose the fact, and stamps the lie on the biography."

"The Richmond Whig publishes the will and testament of Pryor, to show that no such divorce as alleged took place. The will reads thus, as recorded in the Hustings Court, 1822:

"I, John Pryor of the city of Richmond, do make and ordain this writing as and for my last will and testament, hereby expressly revoking all other wills and testaments, heretofore made by me. Whereas, under a well founded impression and confident belief that my late wife, Ann Pryor, had departed this life, I have intermarried with Elizabeth Graves who alone is recognized by me as my wife, none other having any just claim upon me, or my estates, in that character, I do will and direct as follows:

"He marries, because he believes his late wife was dead! The father of Fremont, according to the biography, was wandering with the mother of John C. Fremont among the Indians of the Southwest—according to our Vermont correspondent, French Canadians—but according to the Richmond Whig the father fled with his wife to France! Now, where his son was born we have a right to know by proof unquestionable, for every presumption is against his being born in the United States.

"These are painful facts to approach and to discuss, but when such a monstrous imposition is attempted as this upon our Northern people, we shrink not from it. It is a duty we owe to our country and to God, and we will discharge it fearlessly in the midst of every storm, and the more fearlessly the fiercer is the abuse or threat. It is not true that the mother of Col. Fremont was divorced. It is not a fact that he was born in Savannah or Charleston, as alleged; or if it is, it can be proved. It is a fact that the Frenchman connected with the mother of Fremont left Richmond "to wander," somewhere—but where we do not know.

"Now, gentlemen, it is of no use to abuse us, but meet our facts. To tell us "we lie," will not lie down the will of Col Pryor or the Richmond legislative record, that no divorce was obtained. To tell us the birth place is not a matter of proper discussion, is to fly in the very face of the constitution of the United States; for it is our constitutional right to know beyond all cavil where a candidate for the Presidency of the United States was born."

[From a Correspondent of the Richmond Whig.]

RICHMOND, Monday, Aug. 18, 1856

SIR:—The political position of Col. Fremont, and the Memoir of the Life and Adventures of John Charles Fremont, by John Bigelow, make it my painful but bounden duty to publish the following statement:

John Pryor, a captain of artillery in the Continental army, owned and kept a livery stable and a public garden in this city, called Haw Market. Major Pryor, in his old age, married Miss Ann Whitting, of Gloucester county. About the year, 1807, W. S. and W. S. P., pupils, and Francis Fremont, a teacher in Haller's Academy, boarded with Major Pryor. * * * * * *

She (the mother) eloped with Fremont, and was not heard of for many years. Pryor died in the year 1823."

[We have eliminated this communication, vouched for by the editor as from an old resident of Richmond, because we mean to confine all our discussions on this subject to the birth place of Fremont, to the exclusion of all other offensive points. The right to know where a Presidential aspirant was born, we repeat is a Constitutional privilege, and we mean to insist upon it.

No Taxation Without Representation.

The great principle contended for by our Revolutionary fathers in 1776, was that there should be 'no taxation without representation.' The British Parliament, they claimed, had no right to legislate for the American colonies when they had no representative in that body. Who can claim that the patriots of '76 were unjust in their demands, who believes in a Republican form of Government? In 1856 we have a party in this country which occupies the same position that the Tories of the British Parliament did in 1776. They claim that the people of the Territories, instead of making their own laws and regulations by a local legislature, should be governed by the Congress of the United States, a body in which they are not represented and have no vote. Here is the whole ground of difference between the Democracy and the Black Republicans.

More Comfort for the Know-Nothings!

We clip the following choice extracts from the New York Herald's leader of Friday, to which we invite the special attention of our Fillmore friends:

We have no doubt no, from what we have seen, that if the Fremont party, instead of complicating their cause and their candidate with the rump of Know-Nothingism and the peddling tricksters of the Fillmore faction, had presented themselves before the people of Pennsylvania upon a clean issue, as between Fremont and Buchanan, that, instead of a lean and contested popular majority, they would have carried the State by thirty or forty thousand The huckstering Know-Nothings which they might have lost would have been amply compensated for in larger accessions from the old fashioned democracy.

* * * * * *

The heavy opposition vote of the Black counties of Pennsylvania, where Fillmore and his Know Nothingism were out of the way, is highly significant of the great secret of the strength of the opposition party; while on the other hand, the strength of the democrats in those localities where Fillmoreism was relied upon to defeat them, shows as clearly the enfeebling influences of this defunct element of Know Nothingism.

* * * * * *

A more unscrupulous horde of hungry blood suckers we dare say, never existed in any party, or in any country, than the horde composed of the leaders, managers and hucksters of the Know Nothing Fillmore camp.—They use him as a decoy duck, or stool pigeon for the lame ducks of the spoils democracy in every Northern State.

* * * * * *

All these things go to show that there is nothing but treachery in any coalition with these Fillmore traitors and hucksters in the votes of their deluded followers; and that in Pennsylvania, as in New York and the New England States, and in Ohio and the West, these Fillmore managers are willing to sell themselves to Buchanan at less than cost.

* * * * * *

The result in favor of the Fremont movement, against a powerful, united and desperate enemy, against stupid committees and treacherous spoilsmen, and with this dead weight of the dead body of Know Nothingism upon its back, proves the irresistable strength of the Fremont cause with the people, over all obstructions and impediments.

ARRISON GONE TO THE PENITENTIARY.—Some of Sheriff Brashear's efficient deputies escorted recently sixteen delegates from this city to the Ohio Penitentiary. Among the number was Arrison, the murdeeer of the Allisons by an infernal machine. None of the prisoners evinced any emotion on their transit to Columbus. When they reached that place they found between three and four hundred persons collected to see Arrison Some of these cried out that he ought never to have been brought there—that he ought to have been hung, and the like Arrison scowled at this, and remarked that "ten years would soon pass by, and when he got out he would make some suffer." He said he didn't mean to attempt an escape, but "when he got out he would give hell to somebody." After he had his beard shaved, head trimmed and prison clothes put on, he was about to utter another threat when Mr Hoffman, an old and efficient keeper, told him sternly not to utter another word, that he was now a prisoner in the Ohio Penitentiary, and must not speak to any one but him (Mr. H) Arrison attempted for a moment to look scornful, but he cowered before the stern officer and did not dare utter a word. He was put to sawing axe handles, the most laborous work in the prison.

"Peaceable Emigrants."

Governor Geary, of Kansas, has lately been fiercely abused in the Black press, because he prevented, as they assert, a "peaceable company of emigrants" from entering the Territory. How peaceable they were, and for what purposes they came, may be imagined, when we state there was found with them the following implements of husbandry:

4 cannons;
145 breech-loading muskets;
200 common muskets;
60 sabres;
2 officer's sabres;
11 kegs of powder;
2500 cartridges;
1 drum.

There was also a quantity of lead, and several hundred Sharpe's rifles and revolvers.

The truth was, it was an armed battalion, commanded by Generals Pomeroy and Perry, sent into Kansas to promote civil war and strife. Who will blame the Governor for his course? Yet the "freedom shriekers" do it for the reason that civil war in Kansas will promote their electioneering purposes. Are they not a beautiful party?

NAME OF AN ELECTOR PRINTED WRONG.—The name of the Democratic candidate for the twelfth District, in many of the papers in the State, is wrongly printed. In some of the papers it is spelt Osterhault, in others Austorhoul, and so on. The name is Osterhout!—Let the mistake be corrected in time to save us from serious mortification. Electoral tickets have already been printed with the error we have pointed out—of course they must be cancelled and others substituted in their place. —Pennsylvanian.

SETTLING COFFEE.—The Boston Post is responsible for the following:—

About a year ago we chronicled the conversion of a bright young Whig lawyer of Philadelphia from Whiggery to Democracy. His name was, and is, George A. Coffey, and he was represented, like the boy's dog, as "almighty smart" But Democracy was wanting in fishskin or egg-shells to settle Mr. Coffee, and he was biled over and run away, and wasted himself in Black Republicanism.

Thus, Mr. Coffey,
You are off, eh?

The Camels which were introduced in Texas are said to be doing finely, and are well adapted to the frontier service, for which they are designed.

A Clean Record.

There is one fact that should be noted relative to the result in Penn-sylvania on Tuesday last—and that is, that whilst at the election of 1855, as well as at several previous elections, the Democracy, although successful, only carried the State by a plurality, there being three tickets in the field—at the recent election, in the largest poll ever made (and with only two tickets in the field) we beat all the combined forces of the opposition by a majority of over SIX THOUSAND VOTES! This is the cleanest and most triumphant victory ever achieved by the Democracy of Pennsylvania, and the moral influence it will exert all over the country must have a tremendous effect in settling the Union and the Constitution upon a firm and enduring basis.

WHAT DOUGLAS HAS BEEN SAYING.—In a speech of Senator Douglas, delivered at Galena recently, and reported, says the Augusta Chronicle, in a Democratic paper, he remarked:—

"They call me a pro-slavery man: but I am, like you, opposed to slavery, and rejoice in the policy which has made the slaveholding States at this time. I am proud that my adopted State of Illinois is a free State, and will remain so, All Northern Democrats are opposed to slavery."

A Suspension Bridge is to be built across the Mississippi, at St. Louis, Mo., to be eighty-four feet above high water mark, and more than a mile in length. The greatest distance between towers will be 1800 feet, and the foundation of some of the towers will be 60 feet below the surface of low water. Mr J. W. Bissel, of Rochester, N. Y., has received the appointment of engineer The bridge is expected not to cost less than two millions of dollars.
