"Sam" Giving "Sambo" Particular Jessie. The Juniata Sentinel, published in Mifflintown, on Wednesday last, the farewell speech and confession of its retiring editor, A. J. GREER, who, after being trepanned into the sup,ort of Fremont last fall, has no idea that by it he "bound himself to the ultra car of Black Republicanism for all coming time."-If a living picture, a tableux vivant or a grand family groupe, worthy of the Keller troupe can be enjoyed by our readers, they will take special pleasure in the striking pen and ink sketch of Republican principles which Mr. GREER gives in his valedictory. We give a portion of it for their amusement : "Tired of begging a living, and with a supreme contempt for ultra Black Republicanism and Black Republican devils, with this number we close our connection with this paper. Hating tyrany over the mind of man in every form, and longing to become a free man, with a free conscience and a free pen we surrender the editorial chair of the Juniata Sentinel into other hands whose organic music we trust shall be more acceptable to the party and persons before stated. We have taken this step after mature deliberation -not that we are afraid to avow and maintain true American doctrines in the face of ultra Black Republicans, hermaphrodite Americans and political Summersaulters generally, but that we may avoid an unpleasant, undesirable and bitter conflict in the present canvass. Our chief object in exposing the bollowness of Republicanism in profession, and its antagonism to American principles was for the good of party, and we tell those who took such great offence at us for so doing that they will find that they are not yet quite the whole people, for there are others who have opin-ions as well as themselves, and before this campaign is over they will find "Jordan is a hard road to travel" We tell them, too, that there are from two to three hundred votes in this county that they cannot influence by the means they have employed against us.

reer, in which we have taken leave of a people under a political difficulty, but we are happy to know that that difficulty is confined to a few political bleeding Kansas blood-suckers. They weep, they groan over the wrongs heaped upon the unfortunate people of that territory, in the loss of free suffrage, free thought and a free press, through the instrumentality of Border Ruffianism, and yet when the truth of their own iniquities is brought home to their door, they become as ruffianly border counties of Missouri. We need not go to Kansas for ruffianism, but wa can find it even in little Juniata. It would be well for gentlemen to preserve a little consistency -We hold the liberty of speech and the freedom of the press sacred, and he who would take away these things strikes at the very foundation of our Republican Institutions; he carries pieces of silver. Those to whom we apply these remarks can understand them.

This is the only time, in our editorial ca-

The Republican party, under its present constituted leaders, is the meanest party with which we have ever had anything to do .-Without prudence or discretion, it rushes madly into extremes, and renders itself so obnoxious to all liberal minded people, that a union of the opposition elements becomes an utter impossibility It will not waive a single point of its radicalism for the sake of unon with men who are as hostlie to the extension of slavery as there is any necessity for. Its whole history proves this, and it only uses the American party as a tool to enable ultra Republicanism to gain place and power, that at length, it may stab the principles of Americanism in the high places of the country guarantee that any better fate can be expected from it in the future. Then why should Americans lend themselves to the schemes and designs of a party, possessed of so much bitterness, antagonism and mock sincerity? Others may do as they please, but we cannot remain silent and permit ourselves to be transferred, by mere platforms and ipse dexits, to enemies, without a voice in the matter .-There never can be but two great and success- remedy : ful parties in this country, one of which must of necessity, be the Democratic party, on account of its radical tendencies. The other must be composed of the conservative clements outside of that party. The old Whig party was the best cheek that Democracy has ever had, or ever will have for some time to come, as in the present condition of things we look for succession of Democratic victories in wisdom. This may be regarded as bad proph- hold, and may possibly cost a trifle." ecy, but wait and see."

WHY THEY OPPOSED THE BILL Every reliable Democrat in the Legislature voted against the bill for the sale of the Main Line, and that the people may see and know the reasons which induenced them in this course, the thirteen Democrats in the Senate have entered a protest on the journals explaining their reasons. The Pittsburg Union has been furnished with this protest, and says it is headed by the venerable Senator William great moment as the question here involved, and thus save five cents on each one. their dust. The assign their reasons as follows: 1st. That the bill discriminates so largely almost excludes competition. 2d. That the sale amounts to a gift to the railroad as it can liquidate every dollar of the purchase money before the last payment shall mature, by merely appropriating, for that purpose, the taxes from which it is thus re-

Young Lady in a Scrape.

The Richmond Whiq says :- A few Sundays ago a modest young gentleman of our acquaintance attended the morning service in one of our fashionable churches. He was kindly shown into a luxuriously cushioned pew and had hardly settled himself and taken an observation of his neighbors, before a beautiful young lady entered, and with graceful wave of hand prevented our friend from rising to give her place, quietly sunk into a seat near the end. When a hymn was given out, she skilfully found the page, and with a sweet smile that set his heart a thumping, handed her neighbor the book. The minister raised his hand in prayer, the fair girl knelt, and in this posture perplexed her friend to know which most to admire, her beauty or devoutness. Presently the prayer was concluded, and the congregation resumed their seats. Our friend respectfully raised his eyes from the fair form he had been so earnestly seanning. lost when she looked up, she would detect him looking at her. After a couple of seconds he darted a furtive glance at his charmer, and was astonished to see her still on her knees. He looked closely, and saw that she was much affected, trembling in violent agitation no doubt from the eloquent power of the preacher. Deeply sympathizing, he watched her closely. Her emotion became more violent; reaching her hand behind her, she would conclusively grasp her clothing, and strain, as it were to rend the brilliant fabric of her dress. The sight was exceedingly painful to behold, but he still gazed, like one entrapeed, with wonder and astonishment. After a minute, the lady raised her face, heretofore concealed in the cushion, and with her hand made an unmistakable becken to our friend. He quickly moved along the pew towards her, and inclined his ear, as she evidently wished to say

" Please help, me, sir," she whispered, my dress has caught, and I can't get up." A brief examination revealed the cause of the difficulty. The fair girl wore fashionable and oppressive as their prototypes from the high heeled boots; kneeling upon both knees, these spurs of course stuck out at right angles; and in this position the highest hoop of it does to others as it has to us, half a bettle her newfangled skirt caught over them, and | will be all that is needed. We know of noththus rendered it impossible for her to raise herself or straighten her limbs. The more she struggled the tighter she was bound; she with him a heart as treacherous and a hard then called for help. This was immediately, as villainous as him who received the thirty if not scientifically, rendered; and when the next prayer was made, she merely inclined herself upon the back of the front pew thinking, no doubt, that she was not in pray- disagreeable breath, when by using the " Battar

LIDIES' NAMES BEFORE AND AFTER MAR-RIAGE .- Ladies should have but one given name, and when they are married, should retain their maiden name as a middle name .--This is a practice in some quarters, and were it generally adopted, it would have many advantages. We should know at once, on seeing a lady's name, whether she was married or single; and if the former, what the name of her family was. And it is further to be That is has already done, and we have no considered, that the adoption of this rule of but a single first name would quite put an end to the numerous broad of Emma Melvalinvas and Euphemia Helen Lauras, a style of nomenclature not in pure taste.

A French View of English and American

Friendship. The Paris Constitutionnel, alluding to Lord Napier's speech in New York, says all this extraordinary friendship proceeds not from ' moral, but from commercial interests. England cannot do without American produce. A serious quarrel with the United States wo'd ruin British commerce for a time. The bonds of friendship that are being celebrated are not chains of flowers, but simple twists of cotton which supply the Manchester market."-Well the friendships which arise from interests is likely to be binding as long as those interests last, and between England and the United States they are every year becoming more extended and necessary. It is more effectual for preserving peace between the two nations than a friendship purely sentimental, for it is not so capricious, and will be more conciliatory in its character when so much depends upon it.
