BONNETS.

The other day my cousin Fred Was railing at my bonnet He said, "Why, Kate, look at your head, There's really nothing on it!

"I cannot think how women can In such things face the cold, Besides I'm sure that every man Thinks girls who wear them bold,"

"Well, Fred," I said, "I do declare It seems to me such fudge That men and boys should ever dare The ladies' dress to judge.

"I'm sure for me they may all tease, I care not for their fun. But when I wish the men to please, A bonnet large I'll don.

" A kind of scuttle shape they'll see, Adorned with ribbons prim, The crown perched high, and there must be, At least a yard of brim.

But even then, alas! I know, They'll call it shameful waste, And say the ladies really show A fearful want of taste.

" Well, grumble on, I do not mind, Or wish their quizzing less; But still I think that I could find

Some fault with their own dress. " But they may dress just as they please, If we may do the same ; And surely with such terms as these

They can't find much to blame. THE GIRL WITH THE CALICO DRESS

A fig for your upper-ten girls, With their velvets and satins and laces, Their diamonds and rubies and pearls, And their milliner figures and faces. They may shine at a party or ball, Emblazoned with half they possess, But give me in place of them all,

My girl with the calico dress.

She is plump as a partridge, and fair As the rose in its earliest bloom, Her teeth with ivery compare, And her breath with the clover perfume. Her step is as free and as light As the fawn's whom the hunters hard press, And her eye is as soft and as bright,

My girl with the calico dress. Your dandies and foplings may sneer, At her simple and modest attire, But the charms she permits to appear, Would set a whole iceberg on fire!

She can dance, but she never allows The hugging, the squeeze and caress, She is saving all these for her spouse, My girl with the calico dress.

She is cheerful warm hearted and true, And kind to her father and mother, She studies how much she can do For her sweet little sisters and brother. If you want a companion for life, To comfort, enliven and bless,

She is just the right sort of a wife. My girl with the calico dress. BE Seeing upon his wife's shoulder a large shawl pin, Mr. D. said: "In the military, eh? got to be captain?" She instantly remarked, pointing to a third baby in her lap-

" No, recruiting sergeant in the third infantry."

Ar Speaking of prayers, reminds us of one we once heard at a Methodist revival in a neighboring city. The speaker becoming animated, burst forth with "Oh Lord manifest thyself to us to-night; come right down through the roof, and I will pay for the shingles!" The effect can be imagined.

Democratic State Convention.

The members composing the Democratic State Convention, met in the Hall of the House of Representatives on Tuesday the 9th of June and were called to order at 10 o'clock A. M., by Philip Johnson, Esq., Chairman, who laid before the Convention the call of the State Central Committee re-assembling the Convention, and the letter from Judge Lewis declining the nomination for Judge of the Supreme Court, which were read.

Mr. WRIGHT moved that the declination of Judge Lewis be accepted and his letter published with the proceedings of the Convention, together with the action of the State Central Committe; which motion was agreed to.

The list of delegates to the Convention was then read by the Secretary and a number of substitutions made for absent members. There appearing to be a contest between

CHARLES WORRELL and WM A. PORTER for the seat of senatorial delegate from the city Mr. Huer moved to refer the contest to the delegates from the city and county of Philadelphia for their determination. Mr. Scorr moved that the motion be amen-10 00 12 00 20 00 ded by allowing each of the contestants fifteen minutes to state his case to the Convention ; which was agreed to. General Wilson moved that Mr. Workell be first heard; which was not agreed to. Mr. WYANT moved that WM A. PORTER be admitted to a seat in the Convention. Mr. McKinney moved to amend by substi-tuting the name of Cuarles Workell, which was not agreed to; yeas 40, nays 81.

Mr. PORTER was then admitted to a seat. Mr. H. B. WRIGHT moved that the Convention now proceed to the nomination of candidates for Supreme Court, which motion was

Mr. SEARIGHT moved to amend the motion by providing that the Convention vote for one candidate from the East and one from the West until two candidates be nominated ; which was not agreed to.

The motion of WRIGHT was then agreed to. Mr. BUCKALEW moved that the balloting be deferred until the afternoon session, which was agreed to.

Mr. CESSNA moved that the Committee on resolutions of the second of March last be continued, the chair supplying all vacancies, and that all resolutions introduced be referred to the committee, without discussion.

Mr. WRIGHT moved that the committee be enlarged to the number of thirteen, which was accepted as a modification of his motion by Mr. CESSNA

Mr. Whallon moved to amend by enlarging the committee to thirty-three, one from each Senatorial district, was not agreed to. The original motion was then adopted. The Convention then adjourned until 23 o'clock in the afternoon.

That whilst in name it purports to be a sale of works which cost the State nearly twenty millions of dol-lars, it is intended to be in reality, a gift of those works to a corporation; that in permit-ting the abandenment of a large portion of said works there is a great sacrifice of the interests of the people, especially of those in the western part of the State; that the bill contains none of those safeguards for the fu-ture management of the line proposed to be consolidated which are required for the protection of the trade and commerce of the State, and that in the entire exemption and release of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company from all taxation upon its capital stock, business and property forever, is established a dangerous precedent of doubtful constitutionality, and an odious distinction between a powerful corporation and the tax paying citizens of the

Mr YEAGER moved that the resolutions as reported be adopted, which was agreed to unanimously.

Mr. Scorr offered the following; Resolved, That the action of this Convention condemning the bill passed by the last Legislature, for the sale of the Main Line of the Public Works, because of objectionable feature in some of its details, is not intended as a declaration of hostility to the policy of a sale upon any terms.

Mr. CESSNA called attention to the fact that a resolution had been adopted at the morning session requiring that all resolutions should be referred to the committee on resolutions without debate.

Mr. PORTER addressed the convention declaring that if aught was added to the resolutions from the committee, as unanimously adopted, it must be something much stronger upon the infamies of the Main Line Bill. Mr. WRIGHT expressed his gratification at the wording of the resolutions. Mr. Scorr moved that the resolution be refered to the committee with instructions to report forthwith.

Mr. McManus moved that the motion and the resolutions be indefinitely postponed, which was agreed to. Mr. Schnabel read extracts from Monday's Pennsylvanian, and delivered an energetic address which was severely denunciatory of that Journal and much applauded. On motion of Mr McManus the thanks of the Convention was tendered to the President The chairman anounced that he had appointed Alex. McKinney, of Westmoreland
