

Affairs of Utah Territory—The Mormons.

Washington, June 20. Many persons are puzzled to know why Brigham Young still continues as Governor of Utah, after the term for which he was appointed has expired.

The law provides that the executive power in the Territory of Utah shall be vested in a Governor who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States.

The Utah question is a difficult one to deal with. The constitutional power of the government is limited in extent. It has nothing to do with the religion and domestic institutions of Utah, however wicked they may be.

The authority of the Executive government in the matter, is confined to the due execution of the laws of the United States in the Territory. In a case of forcible resistance to the laws, the President may exert the military force of the country.

The difficulty is of a grave nature, and one that was not anticipated by the Constitution. Here we have an organization of a politico-religious character, which is under the control of one man, who, whether he be directed of federal authority or not, will remain as the "Prophet, Prince and King" of his community.

It must be remembered that, in dealing with Mormons at present, we deal not with Americans, but foreigners, who have no sympathy with our institutions. Most of the Mormons are English, Welsh, Scotch and German, who, upon landing on our shores, directed their steps to Utah, and know no institutions except those of the Mormons.

There should have been a preventive of this difficulty, through some modification of our laws. It may not be too late to prevent an aggravation of the evil.

The mischief that has been done is attributable to the ultra course of the Know Nothing party, who, by identifying their principles, some of which were commendable, with a premature struggle for political power, forced the democratic party into a position of antagonism with them.

These excited, in the country, prior to the organization of the Know Nothing party, and especially with the democracy, a strong sentiment in favor of regulating and restraining the influx of an unaccustomed and miscellaneous foreign population.

Mormonism and its iniquitous practices and injurious influences are not subject to the control of the General Government. But a Christian and republican governor may be substituted for Brigham Young, and the laws of the United States may be enforced in the Territory.

The very first step has yet to be taken—to send to Utah a fit man, or any man, to supersede Governor Young. Among the hundreds of applicants for missions, whom the Union pronounces to be "well qualified" for the place they so importunately seek, there is not one who offers to take the place of Brigham Young. No fit man for the post has yet been found who will accept it.

A new disposition of the army is to be made with reference to the necessity of sending a large force to Utah in aid of the new governor's authority.

THE IRISH EXODUS is again booming so large that the Limerick Reporter exclaims with an air of alarm that there is danger of not being hands enough left to till the soil.

POATONS.—A writer in New York expresses the opinion that people make a mistake in paying too much for potatoes. There is more nourishment in one bushel of good white beans, than in five bushels of potatoes, and what is better than bean soup, or more palatable than good old fashioned "bean porridge".

Rules for Home Education.

The following rules we commend to all our patrons and friends, for their excellence, brevity and practical utility. They are worthy of being printed in letters of gold and being placed in a conspicuous place in every household.

1. From your children's earliest infancy, inculcate the necessity of instant obedience.

2. Unite firmness with gentleness. Let your children always understand that you mean what you say.

3. Never promise them anything unless you are certain you can give them what you say.

4. If you tell a child to do something, show him how to do it, and see that it is done.

5. Always punish your children for wilful disobedience, but never punish them in anger.

6. Never let them perceive that they vex you or make you lose your self-command.

7. If they give way to petulance or ill temper, wait till they are calm and then gently reason with them on the impropriety of their conduct.

8. Remember that a little present punishment, when the occasion arises, is more effectual than the threatening of a greater punishment should the fault be renewed.

9. Never give your children anything because they cry for it.

10. On no account allow them to do at one time what you have forbidden, under the same circumstances, at another.

11. Teach them that the only sure and easy way to appear good is to be good.

12. Accustom them to make their little recitations with perfect truth.

13. Never allow of tale-bearing.

The Washington Sickness.

A writer in the New York Journal of Commerce revives the poison theory in relation to the National Hotel sickness, by saying that a victim of the sickness, after one or two recoveries and as many relapses was induced to try the electro-chemical baths.

CONTINUOUS RAILWAY.—The Iron Horse now pursues his way without stop or important deviation in a direct line from Bangor, Maine, to Jefferson City, Missouri, a distance of a little over seventeen hundred miles—half as far as to London—in three days!

HAIR RESTORATOR.—Prof. Wood advertises in our columns his valuable medicine for restoring hair, and for the prevention of baldness, &c.

Who that is troubled with any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia or Liver Diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these noisome visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers ever before used.

THE QUICKEST RAILROAD TRAIN IN AMERICA.—The Michigan Central Railroad Company are now running a lightning train from Chicago to Detroit daily, upon their single track, which for speed and regularity, is unequalled on any road in America.

THE GRAY OF HENRY CLAY.—The editor of the Fort Wayne Times has been on a journey through Kentucky, and went to pay his devotions to the grave of Henry Clay. In the cemetery, not far from Lexington, he searched for it first among those covered with entablatured slabs, obelisks, pyramids and imposing monuments—but the name was found on none of these.
