They may rely on being treated in a kind and courteous manner. A. DURBIN,

Chairman Dem. Co. Com. September, 1857.

OUR PROSPECTS.

At the present time when efforts are being made to induce the Democracy of Cambria to abandon their old landmarks, and to assist the united forces of the Know-Nothing and Black-Republican parties to triumph, it will certainly be admitted that the question submitted to their determination is one of very taking a comprehensive common sense view of it must be evident to all.

Nothing can be more certain than that the "volunteer candidates," Palmer & Co., are really the candidates of the Knew-Nothing and Black Republican parties. If we are not right in this Mesers. Palmer & Co. can correct us. But we know well that they dare not do so, we know that they are ashamed to avow that they rely on Know-Nothing and Black-Republican votes to secure their election, and at the same time are afraid to deny the "soft impeachment." They have neither the manliness to openly proclaim themselves as the candidates of the united hosts of Know-Nothingism and Black-Republicanism, or to declare that they would scorn to be elevated to council proclaiming to their brethren; rememoffice through the votes of men who are the the Constitution and of Religious Liberty; in a word bigoted Know-Nothings and fanatthus aem and ununimity with which the De- tain sends forth sweet and bitter water at the support of the State and County ticket. That the entire Democratic ticket will be elected by an overwhelming majority, there can no longer be any doubt. The Know-Nothings alias National Democrats, who are led on by such renegade Democrats as William Palmer and George C. K. Zahm, will find that they are engaged in an uphill business when they undertake to disorganize the Democratic party and accomplish a Know-Nothing victory in the "Star of the West. It has until recently been a received and un contradicted opinion, among the members of the Democratic party, that the ascendency of its principles in the administration of the affairs of State was essentially necessary to the permenent glory and happiness of our by the author. beloved country, and it was always heretofore supposed that Democratic measures could only be sustained through the votes of Demoocratic men. But it would seem from the statements of the N-a-t-i-o-n-a-l D-em-o-c-r-a-c-y, that a new era hath dawned upon the world, and that the ascendency of Democratic men and measures in "this great country of ours." can only be secured through the medium of Know-Nothing and Black-

Republican votes. Democrats of Cambrit are you prepared to subscribe to all this? Are you willing that bigoted Know-Nothings and fanatical aboli tionists shall dictate to you how to vote ! These are questions which you must answer on the second Tuesday of next October.

George W. Bowman.

A few weeks ago we took our leave of the Ex-Editor of the "Bedford Gazette," as we then supposed forever, for we had no desire to give the low fawning demagogue the benefit of the Notoriety which we well knew, he was endeavoring to acquire by keeping up a continued and exciting controversy with the Domocratic Newspapers of this county. However, his last manifesto is such an exceedingly rich document, that we have determined to accord it at least a brief notice. It is addressed to that veteran Democrat, Dr. Wm. A. Smith of this county, who since arriving at the years of manhood has always been an active consistent and fearless defender of the men and measures of the Democratic party, and the devoted friend of James Buchanan, through all the vicissitudes of the political career of that illustrious statesman. It is not in the power of Bowman to injure the standing of but in doing so, they would be compelled to to annouce Demo- Dr. Smith with the Democracy of Pennsyl- withhold all assistance from their customers, vania. No public man in the State can proeratic Meetings, at duce a fairer record than Dr. Smith, and it would be well for Bowman if he could say the same thing of himself with truth.

Bowman denies that he ever intefered in the local politics of this county, and yet in this morning, that the excitement still continalmost the next paragraph he acknowledges ues, and the banks are censured for want of that he advised or instructed the Democracy | concert of action. The Democracy of this county were the earnest advocate of the nomination Democratic speakers present the issues involved of James Buchanan, and the vote which they "rolled up," in his favor last November, proved the estimate which they then entertained of the man. And their opinion has since undergone no change. They sincerely rejoice at the prudence and success which has thus far attended his administration. In no other county in the State, can he number more sincere and devoted friends than in this.

If Bowman has no desire to to interefere in the local politics of this county, why did he request the Editor of the "National Democrat" to publish his communication? The Democracy of Cambria will no doubt feel manifests, of affording them an opportunity of clearly ascertaining the opinions and views, of the late Adjutant General of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

"Truth Demands Nothing from the Character of its Advocate."

The above is the motto of the "National Democrat," the organ of the disorganizers in this county. We cannot imagine what could induce Mr. Hite to adopt such a motto for his paper, unless it was the consciousness that while professing to be a Democrat, he was really the friend and advocate of the principles of the Know-Nothing party. We can the Publishers' prices. almost imagine the Editor and his aids in ber "truth demands nothing from the charopen, the avowed enemics of the Union and acter of its promulgators;" therefore our Know-Nothing brethren, do not forget that although we profess to be Democrats, and are endeavoring to gain "character" in the ranks Their reasons for conducting themselves in of that party, we are really contributing our such a vicillating manner in this matter is best efforts to revive the fallen fourtunes of obvious. Mr Hite will certainly not expect the Democracy of Cambria to receive everything he enunciates as truth since ble paper is the supporter of the Know-Nothing candidate for Assembly, and the open and avowed organ of the men who at the present time are industriously engaged in endeavoring to disorganise the ranks of the Democratic

We presume that we are perfectly safe in announcing the appearance on or before the 1st day of September, 1858, of the second volume of " Editorial Brevities," cousisting of contributions to a country newspaper called the "National Democrat;" the aforesaid contributions before their second appearance, having been carefully revised and corrected

The Monetary Crisis. The "Philadelphia Enquirer" of Saturday

Yesterday was a day of extraordinary excitement in this city. Soon after the opening of the doors of the Bank of Pennsylvania, it was deemed expedient to close them. Immediately the intelligence spread with the greatest possible celerity, and crowds soon assembled in Second and Third streets, and indeed in the neighborhood of all our leading monetary institutions. All sorts of speculations were indulged, and many extravagant reports were circulated. The effect was, to produce a run upon the banks generally for specie All of them except the Bank of Pennsylvania, paid out, either in whole or in part, until three o'clock, the usual hour of closing. Meanwhile the Presidents of the Banks assembled in council at one o'clock, and after disucesting the condition of affairs, adjourned to meet again at four o'clock. During the day, the specie that was withdrawn from the various institutions, amounted to something like a MILLION AND HALF OF DOLLARS. There was however little or no confusion or disorder, atd those who made their demands, did so in a cheerful and good-natured spirit. At 4 o'clock, the Presidents of the Banks rs-assembled, and renewed their disussion of the condition of affairs. They gat for nearly two hours, when views pro and con were given, all in a frank and kindly spirit-the object expressed on all hands being to pursue the course best calculated to protect and assist the community. A resolution was finally adopted, and with entire, unanimity, RECOM-MENDING A TEMTORARY SUSPENSION OF SPECIE PAYMENTS BY ALL THE BANKS OF PHILADEL-PHIA. Depositors, note-holders, and stockholders, need not feel the least alarm. The banks have been exerting themselves to the utmost for the last fortnight, to sustain themsalves, and most of them would still be able to pay their entire circulation and deposit, and thus, in fact, to cripple the community and retard the general prosperity. They have perferred the policy of temporary suspension, and in this we think they have acted

LOCK, Governor of the said Commonwealth: A PROCLAMATION!

Whereas, a serious financial revulsion has occurred, resulting in the suspension of specie payments by the Banks of this and other States of the Union, and the failure of many long established commercial houses, leading to the destruction of confidence, and to the general embarrassment and depression of trade. and threatening to affect disastrously the credit of the Commonwealth, and the great industrial interests of the people;

And whereas, an occasion so extraordinary requires prompt and efficient action to relieve an alarmed and suffering community:

Therefore, I James Pollock, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by virtue of the powers conferred on me by the constitution do hereby convene the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, and require the members of the Senate and House of Representatives to meet in their respective houses in the capitol at Harrisburg, on Tuesday, the sixth day of October. A. D , 1857. at 12 o'clock at noon of that day, then and there to take into consideration, and adopt such measures of relief in the premisis as the present exigency may seem to them in their wisdom

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the Commenwealth to be affixed, at Harrisburg, this 28th day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1857, and of the indipendence of the United States the eighty-second CRUELTY AT SEA .- The captain and two ortes of an English ship have been sentenced to be hung, at Liverpeol, for torturing to things when he shot themboth with a death a sailor on loard their ship. It was rifle and a musket. Some time ago proved on the trial that he was flogged every day by the three prisoners—that a large mastiff was set to worry him, which tore the flesh from his body in large slices, causing the blood to flow in streams, and leaving behind the most ghastly wounds and ulcers-that an iron bolt was put across cis mouth, and his hands chained to a strong bolt in the deck behind his back-that he was put into an empty cask and rolled along the deck-that his own excrement was forced down his throatthat he was sent aloft naked to furl sails, and severely beaten with a rope before making the ascent—that a rope was placed around his neck, and he was raised from the deck to the elevation of three feet, where he was suspended for some minntes, and that when lowered he fell on his back like a dead man! Death at length, more charitable than his persecutors, put an end to his sufferings, when his body was found to be indented with marks of the rope, and his wounds full of maggets.

DACOTAH .- The last Congress, it will be remembered, organized a new Territory under the name of Dacotah. This territory includes a great part of the valley of the Sioux, the valleys of the James and Vermillion riverse and large tracts of beautiful bottom lands lying on the Missouri, In regard to the climate, it becomes milder to the westward, so If they did not libel him then, they of course much so that the winters in the northwestern part of Dacotah are said to be not much more TRAITOR and TORY, if they are for WILsevere than in Northern Pennsylvania. Delinquencies of Clergymen.

There are few insolvencies of more evil esequence to the community at large than the moral bankruptcy of ciergymen. Not-withstanding this advanced age of civilization and the moral and intellectual improvements in society, it is nevertheless palpable that clerical delinquencies increase in a corresponding ratio. Though it is conceded that the great majority of them are, as in former years, good and true men, yet the fearful record of our courts gives a vast increase of ministerial culprits. Scurcely a week passes, unless we read the blasting intelligence of some minister having seduced some innocent girl, or absconded with another man's wife, or been guilty of other offence equally revolting to the moral feelings of society and disgraceful to the church. This evil is made ten-fold worse by the natural taste of the community for scandal-more publicity being given to one cleri-cal culprit than to ninety-and-nine faithful ministers whose exemplary walk and deportment challenge the most rigid scrutiny of society. The false step of a minister, therefore, becomes a wide-spreading evil, unsettling the faith of hundreds, neutralizing the labors of a thousand evangelists, and leading many to ted States. We regard him as a well tried regard the clerical profession as only a cloak statesman, a true patriot and a man whose of hypocrisy, by which to cover up their sen-

bers of his church, which, as may well be supposed, is quite natural. The minister is looked up to, especially by that class of his congregation, as quite incapable of a base act, unwittingly many times within his power -There is no doubt, that many corrupt and sensual men, seeing this controlling influence of clergymen over the minds of the tender sex, have assumed the sacerdotal garb to facilitate their licentions schemes. Others, no doubt, with honest purposes, but with weakness of resolution, have brought disgrave on their profession by unguardedly allowing themselves to be placed alone with females not over fastidious or guarded in their conversation or actions. The only remedy for this, now already too prevalent an evil, is for ministers to distrust themselves, and never allow a female to hold an interview without a third person present. It is not enough that, forty-nine times in fifty, no wrong is either enacted or contemplated at private interviews; the fact and bad men abuse the license accorded to clergymen in their private conferences with Resolved.
