THE BLESSINGS OF GOVERNMENT, LIKE THE DEWS OF HEAVEN, SHOULD BE DISTRIBUTED ALIKE UPON THE HIGH AND THE LOW, THE RICH AND THE POOR.

and

EW SERIES.

		EB	ENSB	URG,	MAR	CH	31,	1858
--	--	----	------	------	-----	----	-----	------

Stores, dc. MATTARS. hed every Wednesday Morning at

Hardware,

lowest cash prices.

price paid.

terms.

Oils,

Dye Stuffs,

Ebensburg, Dec. 9, 1857.5

nollar and Fifty Cents per mum payable in Advauce, T DOLLAR AND SEVENTY-FIVE CTS. If not paid within six months, and

TWO DOLLARS st paid until the termination of the year. than six months, and no subscriber will be ant subscribing for six months will be VE DOLLAR, unless the money is paid

Advertising Rates.

One insert'n. Two do. Three do $ 50 $ 75 $1 00 12 lines 1 00 1 00 2 00 24 lines 1 50 2 00 3 00 36 lines 3 months. 6 do. 12 do $1 50 $3 00 $5 00 4 50 2 50 9 00 12 lines 4 00 7 00 12 00 24 lines 6 00 9 00 14 00 36 lines 20 00 in exchange for goods, and the highest market 10 00 12 00 15 00 22 00 35 00 advertisements must be marked with her of insertions desired, or they will be ad until forbid, and charged accordingly.

Professional Cards.

C. D. MURRAY, orney at Law, Ebensburg, Pa. OPPOSITE CRAWFORD'S HOTEL mar17,1858 The Improvements are a good hewed log House.

WILLIAM A. MURRAY, merney at Law, Ebensburg, Pa. TCE A FEW DOORS EAST OF E ROB the Huse. There is also a never failing spring nov.4:'57 RIS store.

J. C. NOON,

Tremendous Excitement! THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD RESPECTfully inform the citizens of Ebensburg and the surrounding vicinity, that he has just arrived from the Eastern cities with a large and varied assortment of Goods of all descriptions, viz : COFFEE, TEAS, SUGARS, MOLASSES and SPICES of all kinds, together with a large lot of FISU from Solution down to Uniting which will as paul until and will be taken for a shorter FISH, from Salmon down to Herring, which will be disposed of by the barrel or dozen. erty to discontinue his paper until all ar-ges are paid, except at the option of the of all brands and prices. Non-FECTIONARIES in abundance. We have also added to our stock a well selected assortment of SCHOOL BOOKS & STATIONARY, which will be disposed of to suit the times. Also:

Our stock of Flour, Meals, Iron, Nails, Steel

All kinds of Grain and Marketing in general.

Borax, &c., is large and will be disposed of at the

such as Butter, Eggs, Poultry, &c., will be taken

Give us a call before purchasing elsewhere. R. DAVIS.

196 acres. About 85 of which are cleard and in a high state of cultivation and well fenced.

a Bank Barn, other outbuildings, and a thriving baring orchard. The woodland is well timbered with Cak and a cooper shop about 30 rods from of water, in almost every field on the farm.

The farm is situate about four and a half mile

North West of Ebensburg, two miles from the Paints,

Drugs,

&c., &c., &c.

Democrat

BY CHARLES MACKEY. If Fortune with a smiling face Strew roses on our way, When shall we stoop to pick them up? To-day, my love, to-day.

Choice Poetry.

PROCRASTINATIONS.

But should she lrown with face of care, And talk of coming sorrow, . When shall we grieve, if grieve we must? To-morrow, love, to-morrow.

If these who've wronged us own their faults, And kindly pity pray. When shall we listen and forgive?

To day, my love, to-day. But, if stern Justice urge rebuke, And warmth from Memory borrow, When shall we chide-if chide we dare?

To-morrow. love, to-morrow. If those to whom we owe a debt Are harmed unless we pay,

When shall we struggle to be just? To-day, my love, to-day.

But if our debtor fail our hope And plead his ruin thorough, When shall we weigh his breach of faith?

To-morrow, love, to morrow. VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE. THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS AT PRIVATE If Love, estranged, should once again sale, the farm on which he now resides in Her genial smile display, Cambria township Cambria county, containing

When shall we kiss her proffered lips? To-day, my love, to-day. But, if she would indulge regret. Or dwell with by gone sorrow, When shall we weep-if weep we must?

To-morrow, loce, to morrow. For virtuous acts and harmless joys The minutes will not stay;

in the annals of literature:

his usual faults of style, looseness of construction, wilful oddity of expression, rough, ab-rupt, convulsions, like the jags in mountain chains, is exceedingly rich in thought and graphic in writing. As you read it, and compare the different magnitudes of the two men, and think of the one or two qualities they have in common, you are reminded of a lion patting and patronizing a cat, because they both belong to the feline tribe. Thus Carlyle seems to stand over Boswell, with an air of kindly, yet lord-like condescension, and to like an incipient mane on the creature's neck? Oh, what a mew he utters, an infant roar, a faint approximation to that with which I shake the desert ! Above all, with what complacent delight and self-forgetting homage he purs around the chair, and looks up in the face of his master !" Truly he is a "hunter of spiritual notabilities, loving such, longing after such, and even creeping and crawling to be near them.

Amidst Boswell's "sycophancies, coxcombries, sensualities, pretension, and boisterous imbecility," Carlyle, with strong, clear eye, discerns him in an "open sense," a love of excellence, a spirit attracting him, not toward the temporary pets of the public, to its paltry 'lords many and gods many,' but to the true and great men of his own era. We must not suppose that Bosweil admired nobody except himself and Johnson; although Johnson seemed to intimate so, when, in a fit of spleen he told him. "Sir, you have only two sub-jects-yourself and me-I am sick of both." He saw and proclaimed the greatness of Paoli; he was a devoted admirer of Burke ; he appreciated the merits of his own countrymen, Hume, Robertson, Blair, Kames and Lord Hailes He admired Loung of the "Night Carlyle's account of Boswell, while full of, and reaction against the idolatrous homage been the great support of tory principles under the early part of George the Third's reign on the contrary, nothing weaker and less telling from the pen of a man of similar ability, than his "Taxation on Tyranny," and other political pamphlets, exists; he seems in them for his pension, you think, did he make than st ructure. Burke and Dryden, who wrote their very best cry, "What beautiful whiskers, although not quite so large as mine! Very respectable claws, these, although not quite able to crack the back of a rhinoceros! Is that something whiggism was the negation of all principle. In fact, he was too surly a dog to be shackled by a pension or place, and to bark only when as miserable as Dante's-

Sentinel

dient"-

who liked better to "fold his limbs and have also found it harder than they had expected. his talk out" by his own fireside than to haunt | and gave it up while I was there. the levees of princes, or cool his heels in the could gratify Johnson with that quota of in- claimed by another party, which is then called

VOL. 5. NO 20.

being the most devoted of that class recorded partly on account of his political partisanship | man Life," (quoted by Carlyle as a real story.) and High Church zeal, and partly in protest that Johnson, when told that Boswell was to write his life, threatened to prevent him, by paid him by a clique. It is ridiculous in taking Boswell's ! In reality, however, he Thackeray talking of Johnson's pen having felt the deepest interest in the work, and although he growled, at times, at the small fol-lies which the biographer chose to perpetuate in it as his own, he smiled grimly as he saw the colossal image of himself arising, to live for evermore, and probably regarded Boswell's anecdotes of his own shortcomings and sillina mere angry and raving child compared to esses as grotesque ornaments, relieving the Junius and Burke ; what a far inferior return gravity and setting off the proportions of the ## Western Hospitality and Law.

The "squatter," with his one-room shanty and his remoteness from courts and constables, is thus described by a correspondent of the Boston Transcript:-

"My host has a hired man from Massachusetts, who attends to his farming and househe was bidden. And tory as he professed keeping. He makes good bread-toast, beefhimself to be, there beat in him as high a steak, tea, coffee, ect., cooks all the vegetaheart of independence, and burned as severe bles, washes dishes, and sets things to rights a scorn of servility, as in Burns himself. A generally. Housekeeping consumes a great tory by education, he was a republican by deal of time, as the housekceper brings all nature. To a man of this kind, placed in a the water more than a mile on a drag drawn false position, employed by the government, by oxen. Five men, besides my host and my yet unbeloved by the aristocracy, nusing self, were entertained and lodged in this small under a scratch-wig and dusty brown coat a squatter's house. One of them walked more spirit as proud, as self-reliant, and well-nigh than twenty miles in the rain, in order to vote on the fifth of October. Two others "For a Tory too hot, for a drudge disobedient, And too foud of the right to pursue the expe necessary, yet a very difficult job in this neighborhood. This was the second party rather feared than cordially admired by the who had undertaken to make a well in this literary world ; fonder of commanding a lit- farm; the first abandoned their undertaking tle select circle than of contiliating many, and in a few days, and these second contractors

"One of the well-diggers above mentioned antechambers of dukes-to such a man Bos- related an instance of squatter redress of griev well came like a ministering angel, and both ances, in settlements remote from towns He might, on the day of the introduction. have was employed, he said, by a squatter, to asexclaimed, O preeclarum diem ! Boswell sist him in patting up a building on land

THE IN COLONADE ROW. Nov. 11, 1857:1.0

M. D. MAGEHAN. Morney at Law, Ebensburg, Pa. CE No. 2, "Colonnade Row," near the ember 7, '54 -1y ABRAHAM KOPELIN.

Attorney at Law .... Johnstown FFICE on Cinton Street, a few doors north of the sortier of Main and Clinton.; 23, 1823,

M. HASSON. Attorney at Law, Ebensburg, Pa TCE adjoining the Post Offic ng. 24, 1853.

Dr. Henry Yeagley, Practising Physician, Johnstown, Pa. Chanext door to his Drug Store, cor Main and Bedford streets.

DENTISTRY.

stown, July 21, 1852.

A. J. JACKSON, Surgeon Dentist vill-be found at Thomps n's Mountain House, where he can be found in week of each month. Office in Johnsariy opposite the Cambria Iron Store. ch 12, 1856.

FOSTER. P.S. NOON. Ebensburg burg

FOSTER & NOON, WING associated then elves for the prace of the Law in Cam ria county, will atdl business intruster to them. Office on ale Row;" Ebensburg .7. 1857.

L. M. SHANNON. Drs. Kern & Shannen, ACTI-SING EFFERSON, CAMBRIA CO., PA., F Tender their professional services to the citof Jefferson and vicinity, and all others de g medical aid. Night calls promptly ated to. larch 18, 1857.

T. L. HEYER M. REED. Johnstown bensburg. REED & HEYER,

ATT OR NEYS AT LAW, musel given in the English and German

thics on High Street Ebensburg, Penn'a. feb. 6.1856. 1y

WE subscriber has just received from the East a large and splendid stock Goods of the following articles, all best quality, Groceries such as Coffee, Sugar, Tea, and Syrup Molasses, a little of the best that has ever been brought to this town before. ALSO Starch Corn which is very delicious for food, in fact he has everything that is in the Grocery line. ALSO -A good assortment of fancy stationary and notions. ALSO-he has added to his stock a good assortment of HARVEST OLS, which is very important to the ther at this time, consisting of the folg articles such as CITHES. SNATHES.

Ebensburg and Carrollton Plank Road, with a good township Road leading from the Plank Road through the premises. Any person wishto purchase a farm, would do well to examine this property, as I will sell on reasonable OWEN R. ROBERTS.

March, 10th 1858.

EBENSBURG FOUNDRY HAVING purchased the entire stock and fix-tures of the Ebensburg Foundry, the subscriber is prepared to furnish farmers and others for, although liked for his convivial pleasan- look down on each other. But, taking Bos-

Ploughs, Plough Points, Stoves, Mill Irons, Threshing Machines, and castings of any kind that may be needed in the community. By strict attention to the business of the con-

All business done at the Foundry.

March 22, '55-tf.

ORPHANS' COURT SALE.

BY virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Cambria county, to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale on the premises on THURSDAY the 3d, day of April, next. at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, the following real estate of which Jacob Paul died seized to wit : One tract situate in Richland township, in the said county, adjoining lands of the heirs of Ja cob Stull dec'd. on the southwest, lands of Danol Strayer on the north and lands of the heirs of John Paul dec'd. on the south-containing two hundred acres more or less, about seventy acres of which are cleared and in a good state of cultivation. A large two story brick Dweiling House bank Barn, Blacksmith Shop and outhouses thereon erected-and a large apple crchard there on growing. ALSO-One other tract, situate in the said ownship, adjoining the above described tract on the south, land of John R. Sidman on the north. land of Abraham Paul on the east and lands of the heirs of John Paul dec'd, on the south, containing seventy six acres and siventeen perches and allowance, and having a saw mill iu good repair thereon erected.

The above tracts of land will be sold together or separately to suit purchasers.

money to be paid ou confirmation of sale; one third to remain charged upon, the premises, the interest of which to be paid to the widow, and at her death the principal to be paid to the heirs, and the balance two equal annual payments, to room rent, furniture, fuel, board and thition are Piano Music is only $5.00 per quarter. All the Languages and the Ornamentals are proportionally cheap. Send for a circular. Students are expected to notify me before coming. Address JOHN D. WALSH, the necessary conveniences attached, together

We've always time to welcome them To-day, my love, to-day. But care, resentment, angry words, And unavailing sorrow, Came far too soon, if they appear

ANALYSIS OF BOSWELL.

To-morrow, love, to-morrow.

* * * The history of the fame of James Boswell has had a somewhat fluctuating course. In his own day, it stood low enough; try and buoyant animal spirits, his habits, foibles, and follies of all sorts, were such, and so well known, as to deny him general respect. He was a bit of a sycophant, more than a bit of a drunkard ; the vainest of the cern, he hopes to merit, and trusts he will receive | vain ; the most superstitions of men ; full of a liberal patronage from those in want of articles silly prejudices ; characterized, too, by certain niaiserics of conduct which would have every; of truth, without a little truth; of been loathsome, had not the folly of the man viriue, without a degree of virtue; no wor-

and somewhat lessened the effect. He seemed to hate him with a perfect hatred, as well as to despise him with a supreme scorn -both TERMS OF SALE-One third of the purchars feelings being disproportioned, alike in kind and in degree, to the demerits of the object, who, as "nobody's enemy but his own," scarcely deserved such savage hatred, and who should have evaded contempt by the frankness, now of penitence, and now of boas> azine, from the pen of Carlyle. It seemed bear-leader. Yet this seems to have sprung from a total misapprehension of Carlyle's nature. Whatever he may be now, he began life as a Boswell of a vaster size, a sincere, enthusiastic, and even excessive worshipper of heroism and genius. No one can read his early essays-such as his papers on Burns, Goethe, Jean Paul Richter, and Edward Ir-

> > 4 1

made them appear ludicrous; and all this ship of man in the woman without a portion was counterbalanced by no very eminent tal- of the manlike; no worship of woman withents, or acquirements, or genius. So soon, out a good deal of the feminine ; and no relhowever, as his "Life of Johnson" appeared, ish for the powers and wonders of genius its interest, and its dramatic skill were so without a lester or larger measure of genius great, and the amount of information and of itself. On this principle, which indeed lies compact recorded sense and wit from its he- at the root of genuine hero-worship, and even ro's lips was so prodigious, that most people at the worship of Deity, Boswell's very inforgot their prejudice at the giver in their tensity of adoration proved his possession of gratitude for the gift. The book was hailed a degree, however small, of the true and the with rapture, and Boswell would have been excellent. He had sense enough to perceive crowned with very rich laurels, had it not the sensible; wisdom enough to know where been for his untimely death. Some thirty or wisdom lay, if not to sound its depths; eye forty years after his departure, his memory enough to see into, if not to the very bottom was assailed in the most contemptuous style of, the Castalian springs. He was, in short, by Macauley, in the Edinburg Review; his potentially, if not actually, a good, although foibles and faults were exaggerated ; his mer- not a great, critic; full of critical instinct, its as a biographer were, indeed, fully admit- and with a clear, photographic mind. but dested, but all other talents and accomplishments titute of depth, eloquence, inventiveness, or were denied him. The article in which this imagination. He was to a great critic what attack appeared was one of its author's raci- a boy of fine fresh literary tastes is to a grown est effusions, and, indeed. read like a portion | and thoroughly-furnished man of genius .-of Boswell's "Johnson," in its unmitigated He saw merits and beauties without being cleverness and vein of lively sarcasm. Its able to render reasons for his appreciation of animus, however, at Boswell, was evident, them, to analyze them with profound discrimination, or to praise them with glowing eloquence. That his admiration of Johnson, or Paoli, or Burke, was altogether disinterested, we do not believe; he had some notion that it was only in their company that he was likely to go down to future ages ; but it was not this feeling, it was natural instinct, that led him at first to seek their society; and unless his admiration of them had been genuine, ting bonhomie, with which he reveals all his could he have sustained himself in it? and own follies, frivolities and faults. The liter- had not the work of writing Johnson's Life ary world accordingly felt, in general, that been a labor of love, it is likely that a man so the attack was overdone, and were prepared dilatory and frivilous as he would have exto welcome a rejoinder, which speeduly arri- pended so much time and toil on its composived, in the shape of a paper in Faser's Mag- tion ? Undoubtedly he was a vain man; and hence according to Wilkes (in one of his letrather a singular quarter whence Bozzy's ters.) he sometimes palms off remarks as his help arose; for, although Carlyle was known own "which he could not, and which Johnone of the kind in the land. The expenses for to be a great admirer of Johnson, yet few were son did make;" but this is seldom; the acprepared to find in him the panegyrist of his curacy of his statements is, on the whole, incontrovertible; and surely a man who has expended so much admiration on others may be permitted to reserve a portion for himself; and surely a cook may be allowed to lick his fingers, nay, to appropriate a few pullet's legs to.his own prigate use, and to boast of his own cookery, who has furnished us with such a Camacho's wedding of dainty dishes, in the ving-without feeiing convinced that his wor- name and to the honor of the rightful proviship of certain men was enormous, and that der. By long intimacy, too, with Johnson, he regarded these heroes not in the light of he had got so much into his track of thought sympathy, but of prostration ; not as his and cast of style, that he sometimes was enawith two lots. The above if not sold will be rent equals, but as his superiors. He seems ulti- bled to utter sentences almost worthy of the uals, but as his superiors. He seems ulti-bled to utter sentences almost worthy of the leqicographer, and might have even written tely to have altered somewhat his point of

Thoughts," Pope, Milton and Shakspeare .--He did not, it is true, do full justice to Goldsmith's genius, but this arose partly from personal pique, and partly from the position they both occupied to Johnson. Two satellites circling one sun may appreciate their common centre, but can hardly do justice to each other's actual or relative magnitude-the earth and the moon, however different in size and while both looking up to the sun, both his melancholy, the rather that they were no to jump the claim. well as a whole, he was a sincere worshipper strangers to his own constitution, he being, of worth and talent, find them where he might like Johnson, on a different scale, a compound Nor was this entirely the prostration of a slave before a lord-a brute before a man-a cold and gloom ; by constituting Johnson a fathersunflower before a warm sun. We hold that confessor for his own faults, he made Johnson there can be no genuine, and still less any in exchange, reveal a good deal of his secret prolonged worship of energy, without some history, of which, however, he makes a sparing and no augenerous use; and he suited Johnson, moreover, because he was the son of a laird, doing homage to the son of the keeper of a Lichfield book-stall ; because he was a Scotchman, bumbling himself before the great enemy of his country ; and because, instead of sometimes sneering at him like Beauclerk, quizzing him like Garrick, or conhis passion, his outspoken seorns and chagrins | bring both." or his sullen silence. Johnson foresaw, too, that his life, when published by Boswell, would become one of his most enduring titles to fame, and would, in a degree second to about, and that in erecting a pillar to John- their line of march for Utah between the 20th

the pages of an obituary-to be eyed with a look which seems to say, "How will this geskles or gray hairs-to watch the step and eye potaties." of the scoundrel through a window, as he hurries in on a report of your sudden apop-lectic seizure, and contrast it with the ficti-

cense which was denied him by the great, "jumping a claim." His employer was warnand which, haughty as he was, had become ed off by the other claimant, and threatened as necessary to his mental comfort as tea to with squatter penalty it he should not desist. his bodily solacement ; was always disposed to The intruder withdrew, but, being taunted listen to his conversation, to give him texts with cowardice for doing so, returned to his for talk, ready to be at times his butt, and, building the next day; but scarcely had they like a lightning-rod to carry off the fury of resumed their work when the crack of a rifle his sudder tornadoes of passion ; chimed in | was heard from a neighboring thicket, and with all his prejudices and superstitions, less the intruder fell dead. The avenger of his from sycophancy than from sympathy ; knew own wrongs fled. but his wife endeavored to how to manage his weaknesses and to soothe shoot the man who had induced the intruder

"This claim-jumping is not unfrequently resorted to, when a neighborhood desire to of intellectualism and animalism, of gayety exclude an obnoxious person. It is also, offentimes, the only means of wresting from unscrupulous squatters a plurality of claims that some assume to hold, contrary to law and common right. Whenever resorted to, it is very liable to lead to bloody feuds, in which whole neighborhoods may be involved." The Evening Post says, apropos

"Whoever has a comfortable place and plenty of well-paid work at the East had better stay where he is; but if any stout, ablebodied man, with a sound mind in a sound body, cannot find a home and competence fronting him in argument like Burke, Bos- here in these times, (and there are hundreds well was always the ready, unresisting pillow of such), let him look to the West, where enfor his eloquence or his wrath, his wisdom or ergy, honesty and hard work are certain to

The Utah Movement.

It is expected that a force of three hundred more recruits will leave the New York Station scarce one of his veritable works, display the for Fort Leavenworth, about the 1st of April, force of his intellect, the depth of his sagacity, to reenforce. After that addition only about the extent and variety of his knowledge, the 200 more will be required to fill up all the readiness of his wit, and the rich resources of regiments to their full complement of men. his conversational genius. Boswell, on the There will then be accumulated at that fort other hand, knew right well what he was about 8000 men. who will probably take up son, he was building a monumentum acre per- of April and the 10th of May, at which time eunius to himself. Hence he endured a great the grass along the route will be long enough deal from Johnson without a murmur; and for the horses to nibble. The distance from Scott happily compares him a jockey showing Fort Leavenworth to Camp Scott, where Col. the points of a high-fed charger, who, while Johnston is now stationed with 1500 men, is he receives not a few kicks for his pains, tries, nearly 1000 miles, and from that point to with writhing lips, to pass them off as a joke, Salt Lake City about 92 miles. The move-and as only the "hanimal's way." ment upon that nest of rebels will be made That Johnson should have had some curi- early in June, unless they should meanwhile ous feelings in the presence of his future biog- have the good sense to surrender; and it is srail rapher and literary undertaker, is not at all that if the re-enforcements this side of the improbable. To be measured for your coffin Rocky Mountains should be detained by any. ere you are dead-to feel around you the air cause the Colonel will not hesitate to strike a of a postmortem examination while still in blow with his little army, strengthe acd as it perfect health-to have your witticisms as will be, about the 20th of April, by the arserious sayings recorded in a journal. as if in rival of Col Sumner's dragoons, S00 strong.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER .-- While & worture or that word tell in a biography ?"-to thy individual, of the may ch of intellect school hear stifled sighs, having reference to the was "laving down the law," recently, to a postponed sale of your literary Remains, knot of acquaintances in one of the streets of heaved, as you tell your friend, in answer to Cupar, he caught the eye of a carter hard by his kind inquiries, that you were never bet- who had been vaibly endeavoring to raise a ter in your life-to see suppressed smiles in sack of potatoes upon his eart and when on his hypocritical visage, as he observes your the instant, thus appealed to the man of know pale cheek, or hears your chest-shattering ledge:-"Come awa,' Mr.----; knowledge. cough, or silently notes your increasing wrin-is power ye ken-gie us a lift wi this pake of

A clergyman was endeavoring to instruct one of his Sunday scholars, a ploughtions joy which mantles his face, as finding boy, on the nature of a miracle. "Now, my you in your usual health, he grasps you war- boy," said he, "suppose you were to see the mly by the hand, and cries, "May you live a sun rising in the middle of the night; what thousand years !"-to have your bedy treated should you call that ?"-The mune, please. as Burke says the French revolutionists wish- zur." -- "No, but," said the elergyman, "sup-

be secured by the bonds and mortgagae of the purchaser on the premises. SAMUEL. S. PAUL. Trustee of the real estate of Jacob Paul dec'd, March 10, 1858-4t-17. The Cassville Seminary. ONLY $22.50 PER QUARTER. THIS SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES AND Gentlemen is unquestionably the cheapest # only $22.50 per quarter.

Cassville, Hunsingdon co., Pa.

Feb. 24, 1858.tm

FOR SALE OR RENT.

THE UNDESIGNED WILL OFFER FOR Sale or Rent, his property situated in the Borough of Loretto, a large Frame House, with all

EDWARD GLASS.

FARVS	ed for a term of years	matery to have altered somewhat his point of		inquiry being, now ne cate up, now ne cat-	the sun, and that you saw is actually rise in
FORKS, RAKES, &c., all of a good qual-	WILLIAMLAKE	view, partly, perhaps, because he has now	an "imaginary conversation" or two, hearly	lows in the caul, or on the kidneys," "prick-	the middle of the night-what should you
ity. ALSO-A good assort-	27 1 10 10 10 10 TOPO	"set up for himself." and partly because ex-	as good as the original.	ing their dotted lines upon your hide, and,	think ?"-Please, zhr. I should think it was ment of DRUGS and	the second	perience, and the disenchanting glance of	CARLYLE'S ESTIMATE OF BOSWELL.	alive as you are, dividing you, like an ox,	time to get up."
MEDICINES to	ADMIAISIRATOR'S AUTICE.	chagrin and melancholy, have darkened the	Carlyle justly speake of Boswell as having	into rumps, and sirts of pieces for roasting,	and the second se mention -	ETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION HAVE	glory of his early idols Like that Shepherd	approxisted Johnson more thoroughly than	boiling and stewing"-all this caunot be very	How co I look, Pomrey " said -
A large lot of GOOD FLOUR. ALSO-	been granted to the undersigned on the es-	in Virgil he "has become acquainted with	his aga which looked on "thim as a huge ill	pleasant for any man of woman born ; and	young dandy to his servant, as he finished
A ANALIS, and ULLISS.		Love and found him an inhabitant of rocks"	anoffed tellow condle " This is undoutedly	yet all this has been submitted to by not a few	dressing. Elegant, massa ; you look hold and see and examine for yourselves, you	bria county, deceased. All persons knowing	and that much of the heauty surrounding him	shulled tanow candic. This is inductivity	men of genins and was consciously so by Dr	as a lion."-"Bold as a lion, Pompey! How and that much of the beauty suffounding this	in some measure true, counson had great	Johnson who besides being normitted to	do you know ? You never saw a lion."
* ROBERT DAVIS	to make miniculate payment, and an persons	was tent by imagination. Die this process,	power in the world of letters, and abrivaled	Barmall's record might he said to onion	Oh ves massa I seed one dome to h
Genaburg, July 9, 1856. 37.	them properly authenticated for settlement.	however, had begun, it was hatural for him	sway as a converser in those circles where he	the privilege of president at his own posthe	Oh, yes. massa, I seed one down to Massa Jonks" in his stable" "Down to Massa
Anssorted pieces of Stone Ware, just re	HENRY CREVEL, ) A laster	to sympathize with and to praise his fellow-	mingled, but there were strong prejudices	the privilege of presiding at his own postbu-	Jenks." in his stable."-"Down to Jenks
Ourserved pieces of Stone Ware, just re	CHAS. BILESTINE. Adm'rs	hero-worshipper, Boswell-a man, indeed,	against him, partly on account of his coarse	mous dissection . I dere is a pretty myth oy	basn't got a lion. That's a jackass."-"Cant
E ROBERTS	March 10, 1858:16:6t	whose chief claim to immortality lies in his	manners, partly on account of his dogmatism	Beresford, author of of the "Miseries of Hu-	neip, it massa; you look just like him," presentary reportation			and the second sec

1.

્ર ક