

AGRICULTURE

FARM BOOK. For the best plan of a book in which the farmer can record his practice and experience in the plainest, most simple and concise manner.

The value of a well kept farm record can scarcely be over estimated. It should be clear, explicit, and comprehensive—should contain the daily operation of the farm, notes of weather and its vicissitudes; all interesting items about the animals of the farm, dairy, orchard—in short, everything worth remembering about the operations of the farm, which must necessarily be bringing many things together not properly connected but only to be remembered, the other the book for future reference, or ledger.

The arrangement of the daily journal would be very simple—the book to be filled regularly from the beginning, with the date perfixed to each day's record, so that it would be a continuous record from one day to another through the year.

The ledger should be large enough for the purpose of one year, or may be sufficiently large for several years. It should contain, under separate heads, as to be easy of access, all the substance of the journal, with some important additions.—It may be arranged as follows: First an alphabetical index, containing the names of the subjects treated of in the book, with the number of the page assigned to it standing opposite.

Each subject in the ledger is to be treated separately, on a separate page, and to contain only what the farmer will need for future reference. Much of this matter is to be drawn from the journal, and may be transferred at regular intervals—each week, for month—or at the most convenient times.—If Apples be the subject for first entry, it will be put on the "A" leaf in the index and given the first page in the book. If Wheat is the subject, the name is to be put on the "W" leaf in the index, and to occupy the second page; and so of each subject to be treated.

The ledger will contain much that need not be recorded in the journal—as the account of each field kept by itself—the kind of crop, when put in when harvested, with the yield, would be very useful for future reference, and to compare one year with another. In this way, the yield of the farm, or any part of it, is easily made out.

In its appropriate place, at the end of the year, will be made the balance sheet, containing the expenses, the losses, and the profit. This could be made very readily from a well arranged book.

In this way, a farmer will, in a few years, have laid up a store of experience that will be always valuable, and especially if he is a man of progress; for if his cultivation at one time is faulty, the record of it is continually before him, and the admonition will not be lost.—Cor. of Geauga Farmer.

Manures—Follow up the manufacturing. The deeper the muck saturated with manure droppings and ammonia, the higher the crops in the crib next Fall.—It may be carted to the fields for use, during the latter part of the month, if so, cover the heaps with soil or muck to absorb the escaping ammonia. Better leave it under cover if practicable, till wanted to spread.

Maple Sugar may be made in some localities in the latter part of the month. Examine apparatus, put in order and provide what is necessary.

Potatoes—Let seed be carefully selected. Keep different varieties from mixing. At the south, plant as early as the ground will answer, for northern market.

Roads—Notice where drifts obstruct and shelter with trees as soon as ground will answer.

Sheep—Give grain and cut roots with care. Shelter from storms, and keep separate from horses and cattle. Salt regularly and supply with plenty of water.

Tools—Look to steel or iron, and prevent rust by oiling with lard having a little rosin melted into it. Put all in thorough repair, and select new tools for the coming season.

Raising Potatoes Under Straw.—In the May numbers of your excellent Cultivator, I requested your subscribers to try the experiment on raising potatoes under straw, promising that I would do so and give the result. On the 8th of June I put about half bushel of very small potatoes in a corner of the field on the sod, and covered them with about 8 or 9 inches of straw. A few days after we had a rain, and the potatoes grew astonishingly, so that this fall I collected about a bushel of large and sound potatoes. I was obliged to take them up early, on the 25th of September, as the field was cleared of grain and stock turned into it. Four persons of this county have tried the same experiment, and succeeded beyond their sanguine expectations. This is certainly a very cheap way of raising potatoes, and pieces of land, which from stones and stumps, would be lost, are thus turned to profit.—Country Gentleman.

To delay Blossoms—Any fruit trees may be made to bloom sufficiently late in the season to prevent the fruit from being injured by the frost, and consequently present a fine, heavy crop, by the following judicious treatment:—In the middle of winter, when the ground is most severely frozen, put a large pile of wheat straw or oak leaves around the roots, letting it extend some distance in every direction, so as to cover the extended roots that approach the surface of the earth. Cover this with planks or boards, so that no rain can fall upon the pile. Let this cover remain until all danger from frost has passed. Then remove the cover and straw and look for a splendid crop to follow soon. The rationale of this is, the frozen earth will not show until late in the spring, if the pile remains; and while the earth is frozen the trees cannot bloom, but when the danger is past, remove the covering and the tree will bloom speedily. Try it, farmer friends.—New Yorker.

An exchange speaks of a clasp with feet so large that when it rains, or when he wants to get in the shade, he lies down on his back and holds up one foot. It fully answers the purpose of an umbrella.

Somebody advertises for agents to sell a work entitled "Hygienic Instructor." The best hygienic instructor we know of is a young widow. What she doesn't know there is no use of learning.

LOGAN HOUSE. CORPORAL JOHN KEEFER, PROPRIETOR WOULD respectfully inform his old friends and the traveling public that he has leased of the Logan House, Hollidaysburg, and is prepared to entertain all who may favor him with their patronage on a most desirable style. The HOUSE has been newly furnished throughout in a style not surpassed by any establishment in the interior of the State. His TABLE will always be supplied with all the substantial and delicacies of the season, and attended by attentive waiters. In a word, no pains will be spared to make the house a first class house, and nothing will be left undone to render his guests comfortable and happy.

The STABLES, which are extensive, will be attended by honest and faithful hostlers.

RESTAURANT.—The basement is occupied as a restaurant, where meals will be served up at all hours, and in the most desirable style. The Proprietor assures all who may favor him with their patronage, that his TABLE will be supplied with all the luxuries of the season, his BAR with the choicest of Liquors, and no pains spared to render his guests comfortable.

WALTON HOUSE. THE UNDERSIGNED RESPECTFULLY informs the public that he has leased for a term of years, the "WALTON HOUSE," situated on the Plank road, half way between Ebersburg and Jefferson. This Hotel is one of the most desirable places as a summer resort in the State. The forests adjoining are swarming with game, and the "fisherman" will find ample opportunity for gratifying his taste in the streams of the neighborhood. The pains will be spared to make my guests feel at home. GIDEON MARLETT, June 4, 1858.—29:1f.

ARCADE HOTEL, Ebersburg, Pa. HENRY FOSTER, PROPRIETOR. THIS HOTEL, FORMERLY KNOWN AS the "Ebersburg House," is one of the oldest and best stands in the borough of Ebersburg, for the accommodation of the traveling community. The Proprietor assures all who may favor him with their patronage, that his TABLE will be supplied with all the luxuries of the season, his BAR with the choicest of Liquors, and no pains spared to render his guests comfortable.

LAWRENCE SCHROTH, PROPRIETOR. HIS popular and pleasantly situated house is located in the village of Carrollton, Cambria county, and is kept in a manner so as to afford every comfort to visitors, being well furnished in every respect. HIS BAR will contain the best of liquors; his TABLE, the best the market can afford. Nothing will be left undone to render the visit of all persons pleasant and agreeable. L. S. Carrollton, July 15, 1857.

FRESH OYSTERS.—A. E. BLAIN respectfully informs the citizens of Ebersburg and vicinity that he has opened an Oyster Saloon, in the first building east of the Post Office, and is prepared to accommodate the public in a superior manner. He has made arrangements to get his Oysters direct from the Eastern markets, and will supply families by the can or dozen at the cheapest rate.—Give him a call. As still continues to practice the Tonsorial art at his shop in the room adjoining the Oyster Saloon. Feb. 18, 1858.

MORE THAN 500,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN THE NEW ENGLAND STATES IN ONE YEAR.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD has never yet had a rival, volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world, and from the most intelligent, to prove that it is a perfect Restorative, but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

"THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood, these articles are being fast disposed of, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons, we earnestly make the request, that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her hair is now covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored to greater perfection than it ever had before.

It is also not difficult to doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ill that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance, though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a bald head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—(Wood's Restorative.)

O. J. WOOD has the honor to inform you, that he has engaged to be your Hair Restorative the best season for one of your best agents, (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio, or some State in the West, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced that there is nothing equal to it in the United States for restoring hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the sensitive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours; being fully convinced of this, I would like to engage the sole of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours, truly, S. T. STOKMAN, Wayland, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the great efficacy of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state that, finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly three bottles. Yours, &c. JAMES FRANCIS, O. J. WOOD & Co., Proprietors, 212 Broadway, New York, (in the great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment,) and 114 Market St., St. Louis, Mo. Sold by all good druggists. December 22, 1858:5:1q

We will show you up Broadway, down the old Bowery, through Christmas and the other principal streets, giving a good map of the city where there is no map; we will endeavor to post you on all the tricks and ways of the great metropolis, and also cause many a laugh with interesting reading matter. "This physics to the fogs." If you have the Blues, the Rheumatism, Gout, Rickets, or any other ailment, you will find a goodly supply of the "BROADWAY OMNIBUS" to make its appearance on the first of every month. It will instruct and amuse you in the city. Fifty Cents a year in advance—two copies to the address: Geo. Deane, 114 Broadway in the States. Who will get a list of subscribers and receive one copy free. All communications should be addressed to CHARLES P. BRITTON, Ed. "Broadway Omnibus," 207 Pearl Street, N.Y.
