

The Fights with the Camanches.

The San Antonio Herald of the 24th and 25th ult., publishes the official reports of Major W. H. Emory, commanding first Cavalry, made by Lieuts. Powell and Stanley, of their recent successful conflicts with the Camanches.

First Lieut J. E. Powell, 1st Infantry, left Fort Arbuckle, C. N. on the morning of the 23d of February, with a command of detachments from Companies D and E, 1st Cavalry, and some of the 1st Infantry, accompanied by 17 Wichita Indians who volunteered as guides.

On the 24th, when about 31 miles from the Fort, and advancing on the new road to the Wichita Mountains, recently opened by Major Emory, the guides came back and reported Camanches ahead. The pack mules were left with the Infantry, and the Cavalry, riding rapidly forward, soon caught sight of a band of mounted Camanches, and instantly charged them.

The pursuit lasted for about two miles over broken and hilly ground, until the Indians were last sight in thick ets and ravines. After a fruitless search for a few moments, another band of Camanches was discovered, about three miles, over a country intersected by deep and precipitous ravines, and covered with rocks, until the Indians, having ascended their horses, took refuge in a narrow, deep, and crooked ravine, fringed with a dense growth of vines and briars, that completely sheltered them, and made an approach under the fire of a concealed enemy, exceedingly difficult.

Lieut Powell dismounted a part of the cavalry, and after a desperate dash on the part of the Camanches, who were closely concealed under the banks, he carried their position. Some of the infantry came up and did good service.

The Indians were followed until all traces of them were lost. The command encamped near the Wichita. Lieut Critendon, with E company of cavalry, was sent from the fort, with Assistant Surgeon Quensen, to help in bringing in the wounded men; privates Hecker, Swager, severely, and John Bradburn, slightly; company D private George Holland slightly; company E, 1st Cavalry. Five of the Camanches were left dead on the field. The soldiers behaved very gallantly.

Major Emory, on the 27th of February, sent Lieut D. S. Stanley, with fifty three men company D, 1st Cavalry, and three Delaware guides, in search of a party of Camanches, who had been robbing settlers near Fort Arbuckle, and shooting their animals, the night previous.

The trail was found with much difficulty, and led to the Wichita Mountains. For five hours the guides, with wonderful sagacity, traced the trail over the rocks. At 3 P. M., reached the prairie level, and galloped on for an hour, and then again came into rocky ravines. Suddenly they came on fifteen Camanches.

The war whoop was raised, and the soldiers went at them pell-mell over the rocks. Five Camanches were soon killed, and the rest scattered, and the rest escaped in the night, after a running fight of three miles. On returning, two Camanches were discovered by the quick-eyed Delaware, in the rocks, half a mile off. An exciting struggle ensued, fully two miles over the ravines and high rocks followed, and the two Indians were killed. Lieut Stanley praises highly the conduct of the troops. None of the command were injured.

Terrible Explosion at Columbus.

The Ohio Statesman of Thursday gives an account of the terrible explosion and loss of life in that city.—Yesterday afternoon, about half past four o'clock a fire was discovered in the extensive dry house attached to the Tub and Bucket Factory of Messrs. Cray, Hughes & Beebe, on the west side of the river. The building, which is a three story brick, was full of cut timber in the process of drying, and for some time after it was discovered, no flames were seen, but an immense cloud of smoke ascended from the roof. When the first engine reached the spot, men and boys were passing water in buckets to a door in the second story, which is reached by a flight of steps, and is surrounded by an open platform thirty feet high. This platform was crowded with men forty or fifty in number.

For a few minutes after the first stream of water was thrown, the mass of gas and smoke seemed to increase in volume and density, when suddenly it ignited—the flames burst out in all directions, with an explosion like that of gunpowder, which swept the platform clean, pitching those who stood upon it to the ground in a mass, a distance of some thirty feet. The scene at this point was altogether the most frightful we ever beheld, but by a miracle no person killed, though all were somewhat injured. The burning appeared to be the worst part of it. Seven or eight persons, who were standing close to the wall, were terribly burned. Among these was one young man connected with the Neil House, named William Parker, who had the skin on his face and hand, as well as the hair on his head, almost completely burnt off.—He has probably lost his sight forever, and even fears of his life are entertained.

A number of others, whose names we have not learned, received injuries of less importance. After the explosion the fire raged with fury, and the efforts of the firemen could not prevent the building and its contents from being almost a total loss. The loss by fire is about $3,000, with no insurance. It is about a year since the main building of the Tub and Bucket Factory was struck by lightning and destroyed.

ONE DOLLAR!—It is too much, exclaims the person desiring cheap articles for the restoration of the hair! We have however in our experience found that articles which command seemingly exorbitant prices, are in the end cheaper to the purchaser. Precautions are always put up in small packages, and efficacious medicines are not considered dear at any price. One dollar being the price of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, for the smallest size or trial bottle, is a sufficient guarantee that the trial bottle contains more precious ingredients, in proof of which its sale has increased one hundred fold within the past year!

CAUTION.—Beware of worthless imitations as several are already in the market, called by different names. Use none unless the words (Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, Depot St. Louis, Mo., and New York,) are blown in the bottle. Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Dealers. Also by all Fancy and Toilet goods dealers in the United States and Canada.

For sale by Thomas Devine, High street Ebersburg.

N. B.—A WORD OF EXPLANATION to those who have known us under the style of Evans & Co. The Business located by us at No. 677 Broadway, New York City, is the oldest-established house in the country, and is known world-wide as the original "Evans & Co.'s Gift Bookstore." Many have taken the advantage of our popularity to advertise under the same name as originators, to increase their trade—and the house having neither character or name of its own, can hardly claim the confidence of the community—to protect the few who may be acquainted with us, we would state that we have no connection with any other Gift Book House—and though many advertise under the name of Evans & Co., the firm constituted by D. W. EVANS and J. H. PIESTON is the first and only concern rightfully using the name. But to prevent all confusion in the future, we shall use the style of

D. W. EVANS & CO., and all persons wrongfully using the appellation to mislead the public, will be made to suffer the penalty of the law.

JOY TO THE ADMIRERS OF A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids; and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the grey, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven received the following letter in regard to the Restorative a few weeks since:

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 23, 1856. Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff and scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and bald together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow; it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, or where to get it, and I have a market for many bottles after it is known here.

Yours with respect, RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856. Prof. Wood—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations, which may have benefited me, but from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it.

Yours, resp'y, D. R. THOMAS, M. D. No. 464 Vine street.

YONKERS, N. Y., June 22, 1856. Prof. G. J. Wood: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and know others to use it—that I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives; and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to the hair.

Respectfully, yours, WILSON KING. O. J. WOOD & Co., Proprietors, 212 Broadway, New York, (in the great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market st., St. Louis, Mo. Sold by all good druggists. April, 6, 1856:3m.
