Do Sheep Deteriorate in the Quality of their Wool in warm climates?

Errors Genesee Farmer. - President Fanning, of Franklin College, Tenn., remarks, in the Southern Householder.

The effect of a warm climate is to thin out and shorten the fibre, lighten the fleece, and take the wool from the limbs and under portion of the body, and substitute rough, hairy locks, particularly about the hips, neck &c. In higher latitudes, sheep are more compact and uniform in the fleece over the whole body, and the yield is perhaps double that of southern flocks.

Now is all this true? Hardly, I think, to the extent the Professor would lead us to believe. Where do the finest and best wools come from? Is it not the hot and dry climate of Australia, of Cape Colony, and of the plains of Estramadura and Saxony? Is it not generally the case that the fine-wooled sheep, if removed to a colder and damper climate, such as Great Britain or the northern States of America, are apt to have their wool deteriorate and become coarser, from the united effects of external moisture, and the want of green and succulent food, and the confinement during our long and severe winters? Would not the same amount of care and attention expended on a fine-wooled sheep in the ever pastures of Australia result in the production of a larger and a finer fleece than is obtained from the same animal in Vermont? What would be the quality and quantity of wool obtained from a sheep in Vermont, if it were to have to shift for itself all the year round, exposed to the wet and cold, and subsisting on the driest hay or a cold bite of frozen grass? Do the fine-wooled sheep in Australia, Spain, or Saxony yield a less average weight of fleece than those of Vermont or Ohio, of an equality of fineness? Is there not a great difference in the profit of keeping 1000 sheep in the former at the same expense as 100 in the latter? Is not the want of food in winter, such as turnips, one of the causes why sheep, when removed to our cold northern climate, have a tendency to yield wool of a coarser fibre and longer staple.

Will some of your correspondents give us their views on this subject?

Refuse of Tanneries. At a late meeting of the Farmers' Club of Little Falls, New York, the subject of using the refuse of tanneries (hair, shavings lime, &c.) for agricultural purposes, was discussed, and one member stated that he had used hair on grain and grass with the most perfect effect. He had spread it thinly and harrowed it in with the spring wheat, and produced the best crop he had ever raised or seen in the neighborhood. Upon grass its effect has been very distinct and lasting. Applied upon the top of an unproductive dry piece of land, it had produced a very luxuriant growth, and without any other application, the dark green complexion of the sward had scarcely abated in ten years. - Scientific American.

We have repeatedly called attention to the great fertilizing value of the refuse hair, scraps of hile, &c. from the tanneries. When free from impurities hair and dry skin contain as much nitrogen as the best Peruvian guano. They are not so readily decomposed and do not act so rapidly, but they are more lasting.

To Clarify Sugar for Preserves. - Put into a preserving jar as many pounds of sugar as you wish, to each pound of sugar put half a pint of water, and the white of an egg for every four pounds; stir it together till the sugar is dissolved, then set it over a gentle fire; stir it occasionally and take off the scum as it rises. After a few boilings up the sugar will rise so high as to run over the side of the pan, to prevent which, take it from the fire for a few minutes, when it will subside, and leave time for skimming. Repeat the skimming until a slight scum or foam only will rise; then take off the pan, lay a slightly wetted napkin over the basin, and strain the sugar through it. Put the skimmings into a basin; when the sugar is clarified, raise the skimmer and basin with a glass of cold water, and put it to the scum, and set it by for common purposes.

To Cure Scab among Sheep. - Take four pounds tobacco - best natural leaf, extract the juice. One pound corrosive sublimate, half-pound ammonia, one pound sulphate zinc, half-pound arsenic, one pound precipitate, three quarts spirits turpentine. Dissolve the precipitate, arsenic, and corrosive sublimate in the turpentine; the balance dissolve in soft water. Procure five barrels soft water. First add the solution in water; stir and mix well; then add the solution of turpentine, adding the amber. The whole should be about 90° Fahrenheit. Dip the sheep in the liquid; wash and rub well until thoroughly saturated to the skin. Keep the sheep under shelter, if done in cold, damp weather. This will effect a permanent cure in a short time. - EDWARD KINLEY, Salem, Iowa.

A Cow Suckling Lambs. - A cow belonging to Mr. Thomas Hislop, of West Oxford, calved last spring. Her calf was taken from her at five weeks old. A fortnight afterwards an ewe died leaving three lambs. As there was danger of the lambs also dying, the owner took one of them and held it to the cows teats. Next morning on going to milk the cows, all the lambs were found sucking the cow. Another lamb was placed with the cow, and she has suckled all four ever since. They follow her wherever she goes, and she protects them from dogs and other animals that attempt to molest them, showing the same affection for them as if they were her own progeny. - Prairie Farmer.

To Prevent Cows Kicking. - Tie a cord of small rope around the body of the cow, just in front of the hips and under, drawing it pretty tight, when you can go to milking without fear and trembling. In time the cord may merely be laid over the animal's back with the desired effect, at least such has been the experience of some persons.

A well-known author once wrote an article in "Blackwood," and signed "A. S." "Tut," said Jerrold, on reading the initials, "what a pity he will only tell two-thirds of the truth."

Geniality - eating meat with a silver fork, when the butcher's bill is not paid.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE - the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America - and spent three years among the Indians of our Western country - it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD - that our strength, health, and life depend upon this vital fluid. When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in removing the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have in our power to remove the impurities of the blood, namely, MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS, manufactured from the roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in removing the impurities of the blood, and the corruption within. The second is a plant which acts as an expectorant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and relief to the bladder, and assists Nature in drawing large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out abundantly by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the purser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels. From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, they find their way to every part, and completely rout out and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear. The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, and becomes united with the blood, and Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to their efficacy, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked and tormented with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, to the gates of death, are now standing ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate relief, but strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood. Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who live in this place, in the winter, that they will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cherish and brighten your days. It is sold by Thomas Devine, Ebensburg, and by Medicine Dealers generally throughout the County: B. Lake Judson, successor to A. J. White & Co., No. 50 Leonard st., N. Y.; Proprietors; William Mudge & Co., (Proprietors of Dr. A. Frank's Magnetic Ointment.) Earlville, Madison county, N. Y., General Agents. August 3, 1859. - 4f.
