

How Goshen Butter is made.

Mr. Douceton, a practical butter maker, tells, in the following brief description, how the celebrated Goshen butter is made:—

The cellar where the milk is kept should be cool, well ventilated and clean. The milk ought to be strained into pans containing ten or twelve quarts each. If the weather is very warm, the pans ought to be set on the cellar bottom—otherwise on shelves. The milk ought not to be churned till it becomes thick or lapped—the milk and cream are then churned together. Some dairymen skim off the cream and part of the milk, and churn that, but the Goshen butter is churned from the milk and cream. The churn used is the common "dasher churn," driven by dog, horse or hand power, according to the size of the dairy. The churn may be half or two thirds full with milk; and a pailful of cold water added before starting the churn. In cold weather, warm water is put in. The churning should be with a slow, regular motion—and to make good solid butter, will take from one hour to one hour and a half; before the churning is done, another pailful of water is put in. When the butter is done, take it out wash it through one water in a tray, throw the water out, then salt the butter, using about one ounce of pure Liverpool (Ashton) salt to each pound of butter, put it in a cool place, and let it stand an hour; then work it carefully over, and set it aside for five or six hours—work it over again, and set it aside in the same cool place till the next morning when it is packed. In working butter great care ought to be taken to work out all of the milk, but not to work it too much, so as to break the grain, and make it salvy. If any milk is left in, the butter will soon become rancid; and if worked too much, it will be greasy or salvy, and not solid. Butter worked just enough will be solid, sweet, and yellow, and the drops of brine on it will be clear as crystal.

Orange county butter is packed in wide oak firkins, the staves selected so as not to leak the brine; the firkins will weigh about eighteen or twenty pounds empty. The firkins are soaked in pure cold water for some days before using, by being filled with water they hold from eighty to one hundred pounds of butter. When the firkin is full, a linen cloth is placed over the top of the butter, and on this cloth a layer of salt an inch in depth is laid, made a little damp with cold water. The butter stands till marketed; then the salt and cloth are taken off, a fresh cloth wet with brine put on, and the firkin headed up. Great care should be taken to have the firkins kept perfectly clean. The outside ought to be as bright as when turned out by the cooper. No leaky firkin, or any thing that will filter the least particle of brine ought to be used. This is the way Goshen butter is made.

Prince Albert Potatoes—This potato, which some think equal to the Mercer, is clearly becoming a favorite both from its quality and productiveness. The Country Gentlemen says poor people have been experimenting with it for themselves, and say that on the sixteenth of an acre about four hundred bushels per acre were obtained, only about two dozen of which rotten. Another plot of the same extent, yielding a little less there were only two rotten tubers found.—This variety is beginning to be cultivated here.

Cooked Corn.—Mr. Elsworth has proved that one pound of cooked corn will make more pork than two pounds fed in the raw state. The Working Farmer concludes that since a considerable portion of uncooked corn will pass in an undigested condition, the farmer who thus feeds, will get a very rich manure but at too high a cost. The same conclusion applies to the feeding of all grains and starchy vegetables.

The kind of Seed Corn to use.—William L. Morgan, of Potts, Warren county, Indiana, says that seed from the butt end of an ear of corn will ripen its product all at the same time, and some three weeks earlier than seed from the little end of the same ear. He recommends farmers always to break their seed corn ears in two in the middle, and use the butt ends only for seed.

Cattle Yards.—Cattle yards should be well littered with refuse straw. It absorbs the liquid, and prevents much of this valuable part of the manure from running to waste. It augments the quantity of the manure, and adds largely to the comfort of the stock. A dry sheltered, well-littered barn-yard, is a pleasant place in winter—it will be inclined to spend considerable time there—and we know cattle and sheep thrive much better for being "looked" at.

Save your Hay Seed.—Many farmers never think of saving the offal from the cattle or horse manure, but throw it away, or into the manure heap. In either case the seed is lost and in the last it becomes a great nuisance, if the manure be applied to food crops. An old writer says he "saved sufficient hay chaff one winter from feeding twenty-three head of animals, to stock down ten acres of meadow." Would it not be better, however to out the grass earlier and thus lessen the quantity of seed which shells out in feeding?

Never forget the kindness which others do for you, nor remind others of the kindness which you do for them.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered.

When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing Leucorrhoea, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out.

How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased men, women and children, which has been made in a Sublimis, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out beautifully by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely rout out and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is removed from the system, and the body remains when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. MORSE'S PILLS have added to themselves victory upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been lying in bed, were within a step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised to find that they were again on their feet. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood.—Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cherish and brighten your days.
