POINTS OF COWS.

A. L. Fish, a well known dairyman of Herkimer county, New York, gives in the Little Falls Record some good remarks on the point of cows. He very properly considers strength of constitution and capacity to eat what is offered her, at all seasons of the year, as the first importance. He rightly observes, also, that the indications of such a constitution are a thick mellow skin, with soft hair, a bright full, broad loin and hips, deep body, and straight back.

These dairymen (and city milkmen) usually select cows that yield the largest amount of milk, because they depend more upon the quantity of cheese than its quality, and milk is known to make a good yield of cheese that would make but little butter, and poor at that. But I am not in favor of the rule of selecting cows that yield the most milk per day or season, in arriving at a proper standard of excellence for the best. The quality of milk a cow will give, is indicated by hair and skin, and yellow color of the skin inside of the ears and other parts not thickly covered with hair. I have never known a cow, with soft, fur-like hair and mellow skin, appearing yellow and gummy at the roots of the hair when parted with the hands, that was not a good butter cow, and when fattened, would mix tallow well with flesh. Having been accustomed to fatten my cows that failed for dairy purposes, by age or otherwise, for many years, and being on the lookout for causes of known results, I have observed that those known to give good milk, made most thrifty in tallow when fed to fatten. Hence, the conclusion, that cows that handle well in what the butchers call tallow joints, may be judged of by a plainly marked design of nature in her physical structure. Instead of heavy head horns, neck and shoulders, and comparatively light hind quarters, which is characteristic of the opposite sex, she should show an opposite design, by a feminine countenance, light head, neck and shoulders, widening backward from her chest to the loin and hind quarters, where the most strength is required.

THE CHANCELLOR PEAR.

This fine pear is not so well known as its high qualities deserve it should be. We consider it one of the very best of pears, and we have heard the remarks, that a noted pomologist gave it as his opinion that if he were confined to one variety of pear, he would choose the Chancellor. It is evidently an accidental seedling from the White Doyenne of Butter pear, and we think the flavor is superior even to that far-famed variety. It was discovered in a hedge-row, near Germantown, Pennsylvania, but the original tree was cut down, by mistake several years ago. Mr. Joseph Green, of Germantown, obtained fruit from the original tree, which have fruited in his garden for many years. We have heard that some have been taken from a tree in the neighborhood of where the original was growing, since the latter was cut down, so that spurious trees may thus have been disseminated.—Phila. Farmer and Gardener.

THE BRADFORD WATERMELON.

H. A. M., in the Philadelphia Farmer & Gardener, thus writes his experience with the Bradford Watermelon: "The seed, last year, was not planted until 5th of June, and some of the melons were ripe on the 12th of August. This year they were planted earlier, but ripened some days later. The rind is a grayish green color, closely traversed by fine dark green veins; flesh varying from light to deep red, extremely sweet and tender, sometimes separating from the rind like the Orange watermelon; seeds white and small; size varying from medium to quite large. One great recommendation of the Bradford to me, is, that there is no danger of mistaking as to its ripeness.—Whenever the tendril nearest the melon dries up, the fruit is ripe. This I consider a great advantage, as I have never before found variety which could be certainly depended upon. All the signs of ripeness,—lying in the tendril hardness of the rind, cracking when pressed, sound when tapped with the knuckled, &c., are fallible with most of them."

Making Cheese from a few Cows.

Not witnessing any reply to your correspondent on the subject, and believing that few make the trial, I will venture to give you my mode, which I have found satisfactory and successful. Having commenced a few years since, ignorant of many of the practical duties of a farmer's wife while seeking for information I chanced to find in an agricultural paper an account of a visit by a gentleman to some of the dairies in Cheshire, England, in which he describes a small, self-acting press, which I gathered sufficient information to order one made. It is simply a tin can, twenty eight inches in circumference, eight inches deep, pierced full of small holes, the corner to be fastened by a hinge on both sides, and over the outside. I use no other apparatus, except two wooden followers to fit inside, when the cord does not fill the hoop. From five cows I make each day a cheese weighing ten pounds, after supplying my family with milk. If you have not milk sufficient to fill the press at once, prepare what you have, and put in the followers, placing a small weight (a stone weighing six or eight pounds is sufficient, or a dash of cold water will do as well) upon them, and if you wish to make the full size, prepare another curd and add after scaring the first. In either case it should be turned over two or three times.

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid.

When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Strobilic, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out bountifully by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills which are engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely root out and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged in the stomach and bowels, and is literally overloading with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves a victory upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, to the gates of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only did they find the silent grave, but strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood.—Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flesh of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cherish and brighten your days.

Sold by Thomas Devine, Ebensburg, and by Medicine Dealers generally throughout the County; B. Lake Judson, successor to A. J. White & Co., No. 50 Leonard st., N. Y., Proprietors; William Maguire & Co., (Proprietors of Dr. A. Trask's Magnetic Ointment.) Earlville, Madison county, N. Y., General Agents. August 3, 1859, 1f.
