

AGRICULTURE

Calendar of Agricultural Operations for February, 1860.

February, though the shortest month of the year, is at the North counted most tedious by many. The energetic farmer varied of the comparative inactivity of the season, and is in haste to start the plow; the careless one finds his neglected stock rapidly losing in value, and is waiting anxiously for the first spring of the grass. The animals themselves grow restless under confinement.

The main care required during this month will be additional attention to animals, to keep them "in good heart," that they may have no loss to recover when Spring opens. Much preparatory work may always be done plans of work completed, implements prepared, marketing finished, and everything made ready for a prompt beginning with the opening season.

Buildings need frequent inspection to keep them from decay. Fasten all loose boards, properly secure windows and doors, battens, cracks, knot-holes, and other leaks where cold enters and hay is wasted. Get out timber for new buildings, if needed.

CATTLE.—Give frequent changes of food, allowing roots, bran, washes, a little grain, cut, with hay. But cooked foods are most economical. Give plenty of litter. Keep cows about to calve, in separate stalls with ample room.

CELLARS.—Protect from frost, but provide for ventilation, especially where there is dampness. Sort out decaying vegetables; allow no accumulation of refuse, but removed to the compost heap.

CORN stalks still standing on fields to be plowed next spring, may be leveled during open freezing weather. This will greatly facilitate the plowing.

COTTON.—As soon as the season permits prepare deep rich beds of fine silt to bring forward the plants as early as may be.

DRYING.—Remove obstructions of ice, cut both around the buildings and in the field.

FENCING.—Materials may be got out and prepared under cover. Build new and repair old at the earliest available time.

FLAX AND HEMP.—Finish dressing.

FUEL.—Be sure to provide a year's supply, cut and store away before spring.

GRAIN should all be thrashed now—vermin are taking heavy toll; secure the bins from their entrance. Market whenever prices are remunerative.

GRAIN AND CLOVER FIELDS—Allow no stock to feed or trample the young feed.

HELP.—Secure a full supply before choice hands are all engaged.

HONORS AND MEALS.—Look well to their feet; keep sharp-shod, and clean well after travelling. Give carrots and oat feed. Keep them in warm stables, blankets when excessively cold, and allow plenty of bedding.

HOGS.—Feed liberally with warm cooked food, with which mix charcoal and salt occasionally, especially for breeding sows. Keep pens well littered with leaves or short straw to increase the stock of manure.

ICE HOUSES.—Complete filling, examine drainage and ventilation to secure perfect preservation.

MANURE.—Depend on home manufacture, rather than the purchase of highly advertised compounds. Keep muck or plaster in all places where ammonia may be absorbed—Cart it out in open weather.

MARLE SUGAR.—Have all apparatus in readiness. Commence tapping as soon as sap will start. For large groves, an improved evaporator will pay.

POTATOES.—Secure the best for seed; keep varieties separate. At the south plant early for Northern Markets.

Heavy Oats.

That a bushel of heavy oats are worth more than a bushel of light ones, all admit, and it is equally certain, though perhaps not so apparent, that weight for weight, the heavy oats are the most valuable. It has been found by experiment, that a bushel of oats weighing forty-two lbs. yields twenty-five pounds of meal; one weighing forty lbs., twenty-three and one-fourth lbs.; thirty-eight lbs., twenty-one and three-fourths lbs.; thirty-four lbs., eighteen and three-fourths lbs.; and a bushel weighing only thirty lbs., yielded only sixteen lbs. of meal. In other words, one hundred lbs. of oat which will weigh forty-two lbs. per bushel, will give sixty lbs. of meal while one hundred lbs. of oats weighing only thirty lbs. per bushel, affords only fifty-three lbs. of meal. It will be seen that two bushels of the heavy oats are worth as much as three bushels of the light ones.—Greene Farmer.

Large Farms.

The Country Gentleman justly remarks:—"The passion for more land is one which works incalculable injury to American agriculture. It crowds out farming many who would otherwise engage in it—many who, were small farms more readily attainable, would do good service in the culture of the soil, and in the elevation of the character of our farming population. Let us be less covetous of surface, and not forget that we own the subsoil, and endeavor to make what we have attained a greater productiveness; and let us ask for better crops, finer animals, more servicable implements, rather than one field more."

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depend upon this vital fluid.

When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; the strength is exhausted, our health is in a state of prostration, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become thick and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have in our hands a medicine that will cure all these ailments, and draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out beautifully by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood, and drawing out the impurities, which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part of the system, and in clearing the system from all impurity, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed, when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the affected parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged in the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus, producing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. MORSE'S PILLS have added to themselves victors upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to a healthy and happy life. Yes, thousands who have been racked of rheumatism, neuralgia, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, within a step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been opened, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, and by their action, it will be shown, especially by those who use these PILLS, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cheer and brighten your days.

Prepared by Thomas Deane, Ebensburg, Pa. by Medicine Dealers generally throughout the County; B. Lake Johnson, successor to A. J. White & Co., No. 50 Leonard St., N. Y.; Proprietors; William Mudge & Co., (Proprietors of Dr. A. Trask's Magnetic Ointment,) Earlville, Madison county, N. Y., General Agents. August 4, 1859.
