

JOYFULNESS

From the Farmer and Gardener. The Best Machinery.

Last summer three years ago, although in possession of a good single horse-power and thrasher, I thought it would be more economical to lay it aside, if not otherwise disposed of, and substitute a two-horse thrasher, and cleaner combined. It proved one of the best investments, so far as regards a quick return that I ever made.

The year succeeding, wheat, previous to, and during the harvest, commanded a high price. From the appearance of the growing crops, I was satisfied that a material change in value would soon take place, and believed it would be best to realize some advantage from a machine which cost two hundred and twenty-five dollars at the factory. The result was, that the difference in the value of the wheat threshed and sold then, and its value at the usual time of disposing of it, amounted to more than the entire cost of the machine.

With the one-horse power, very little, if any would have been threshed, as it would have been a slow process, in consequence of the length of the straw, and would have interfered very much in getting in the coming crops. From this, I argue that it is the part of true economy with every farmer who has the means to provide for the purpose of the farm sufficiently ample machinery to do the work quickly and well, and at the proper moment. It not only gives him, to some extent, the advantages of throwing his produce into market on short notice, but it saves labor, and consequently expense. It is the first outlay which frightens. This should not be, when want of means is not the excuse. The best machinery, and enough of it, where it will profitably dispense with hand labor, should be the motto of every farmer who desires to have work done properly and quickly.

How to Raise Seedling Potatoes.

After the vines having seed-balls on, have been well dried, after being frosted in the fall collect as many balls as may be wanted, squeeze the pulp out in a basin of water, wash all the pulp out by frequent rinsings. spread the seed on a board set up in a kitchen mantel until well dried, rub and blow out all but the best and heaviest seed. Sow them in the spring in a hot bed, as you would to raise tomato; transplant after spring frosts, as soon as the ground will pulverize well into rich new or well manured old ground, in rows, one set in a place, two feet apart each way. Cultivate well, by hilling up as the young vines grow, to prevent them from falling down and mildewing prematurely. The better the tillage the finer will be their size and the more abundant will be the yield.

From one rod square of rich new ground of a clay soil I raised by the above mode, the last season, two bushels of some half dozen distinct kinds from the seed-balls gathered from the pure white Neshannock, three-fourths of which were large, full sized potatoes, tho' planted quite late in the spring. A lot of the finest in quality and size which, together with several varieties of the second year's growth, I have buried, and after they are all tested those which are worthy of cultivation I shall name and distribute to all who may want samples.

I plant altogether upon the one-eyed plan, as recommended by Mr. M'Williams, and have for the last four years, and succeed four fold better than the whole potato plan. If planted in hills two by three feet, I would recommend three and four eyes in each hill; if in rows, not more than six inches apart in the row. The following are a part of the advantages of the one-eyed system: Five-sixths of the seed is saved, larger yield is secured, and the proportion of the large to the small ones is increased three-fold over the old or whole potato plan.—L. S. Launing, in the Ohio Cultivator.

Tanner's Bark.

Millions of tons of spent tan bark exists about the tanneries of this country, and we are frequently asked if it has any value. While trees are growing they are continually receiving from the soil all these inorganic constituents which go to form the ash of the bark and leaves when burnt. Therefore it is evident, that tan bark contains these constituents, and when it is very old and concentrated by decay, it has value, all of which may be availed if for more distant use by burning the tan bark, and thus reducing the bulk to be moved. When required to be used near by, it should be decomposed with the lime and salt mixture we have so frequently recommended for such purposes, and then made the absorbent of the fluid portions of the compost heaps: after which, by forming a part of the compost, it is reduced to that condition in which plants may feed upon it. In many soils it has mechanical value in dividing them, rendering sandy soils rather more tenacious, and clayey soils less so.—Well decomposed tan bark is an admirable manure for strawberries, but not so good as the bark liquor diluted with a hundred times its bulk of water before its application. Straw berries grown in and about woods, are always higher flavored; the reason is, that the surface of the strawberries, where all its flavor exists, contains notable amounts, of tannic acid, and if this be supplied, strawberries are considerably improved by it.—Working Farmer.

Spring is here.—Commence planting your Peas, onions, salate, radishes and everything that will stand a little frost.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS.

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid.

When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become putrid and offensive, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out.

How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and herbs that grow in the garden, and are perfectly pure. Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within.

The second is a plant which is an Expectorant, that opens and unblocks the passage of the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out bodily by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely root out and cleanse the system from all impurities; and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the affected parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted matter; thus inducing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves victory upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands that were once bedridden, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, within a step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for the great and wonderful benefits of Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects.

Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the fountain head of disease, which is the blood. Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cheer and brighten your days.

For the great and wonderful benefits of Morse's Indian Root Pills, generally throughout the County; B. Lake Johnson, successor to A. J. White & Co., No. 50 Leonard st., N. Y., Proprietors; William Mudge & Co., (Proprietors of Dr. A. Trask's Magnetic Ointment.) Earlville, Madison county, N. Y., General Agents. August 3, 1859-ly.
