SUDGRAT & SENTINEL' IS PUB-LAR AND FIFTY CENTS per genum. n advance: ONE DOLLAR AND SEVENTY sers if not paid within six months, and

o discontinue his paper until all arribing for six months will be s pollar, unless the money is paid Advertising Rates.

altion in Single and Double Entry

complete a full course, from 6 Every Student, upon graduating, it is be competent to manage the Business, and qualified to earn a lose five letter stamps to F. W. JENKINS, Pittsburg, Pa. Aug. 11, 1858,-27.

$500 to $1000

atches, Jewelry an i SILVER WARE.

We would respectfully inform our friends, patrons and the public cenerally that we have now in Store doffer Wholesale & Relail, at the er, a large and very choice stock order, at short notice. [] All -Particular attention given to the Re-of Watches and Jewelry, of every descrip

22 MARKET street, South Side PHIL'A.

, M. D., A general assortment of

MEDICINES. pices, Oils, Paints, Dye-Stuffs, WINES, GIBS, PLUID

utlery, Razors, Brushes, Combs, Station ak Books, Perfumery, Soaps, Tobacco, Sauffs and other articles usually kept in

R. S. BUNN, M. D. arg, May, 4, 1859.-24-1y.

30. R. LEWIS, M. D., his professional services to the citin

of Ebensburg and vicinity, he may be the Office formerly occupied by Dr. D. is. Night calls may be made at the [July 6, 1859-tf. R. S. BUNN, M. D.

ERS HIS PROFESSIONAL Services t ens of Ebensburg. Office in Drug fligh Street, opposite Thompson's Ho WE, May, 4,-1859.-24-1v.

THIS WAY.

RECEIVED AND FOR SALE A large pendid Assortment of American Pock-(Every knife warranted.) by GEORGE HUNTLEY.

J. C. NOON. racy at Law, Ebensburg, Pa,

CE IN COLONADE ROW. Nov. 11, 1857:1.t

LUMBER.

OPLAR CHERRY AND ASH LUM E. HUGHES.

19th 1859, tf.

For sale by E. HUGHES.

RE! FIRE!! FIRE!!! ERSIGNED WOULD CALL THE of the public to one of the greatburning of the GAS AND SMOKE, GEORGE HUNTLEY.

rg Aug. 17, 1859.-tf.

Marshall's Sale.

BY virtue of a Writ of Venditioni Exponas issued out of the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Western District of Pennsylvania, and to me directed, I will expose to Publis Sale at the United States Building, corner of Fifth

MONDAY THE 7th DAY OF MAY 1860, at one o'clock P. M., All the right, title, claim have no children! everything is so quiet here. and interest of Luke M'Guire and James Mc-Dermis, of, in and to a tract or parcel of land, situate in Clearfield township, Cambria County, adjoining lands of Murray Hoffman, Jr., lands of Bingham and Holliday, and others, containing seven hundred and seventy acres, more or less, about thirty-five acres of which are cleared, about thirty-live ages of which are cleared, baying thereon erected a frame house one story high, two log houses each creatory high, and two stables, one saw mill, with the appurtenances in the occupancy of John Weakland and Samuel Wilt. Taken in Execution and to be sold as the property of Luke M'Guire and James

ALSO-All the right, title and interest of Luke M'Guire, of, in and to a tract of land, situate in Clearfield township, Cambria County, adjoining lands warranted in the name of John insertions desired, or they will be Faunce, Jacob Faunce and Christian Hannan, containing three hundred acres, more or less, about fifty acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a two story frame house and a frame barn, new in the occupancy of Luke M'Guire. Seized and taken in Execution and to be sold as the property of Luke M'Guire, at the suit of Murray Hoffman, Jr., and will be sold by > JAMES G. CAMPBELL, Marshall. Marshall's Office, Pittsburg, March 14, 1860.-16-8t.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION

with a description of their condition, (age, eccuit turned a corner and Thumbling called out, to her master saying, "Oh. Mr. Parson the ling to be seized with a sudden determination VALUABLE REPORTS on Spermatorrhoea.

and other Diseases of the Sexual Organs, and on the NEW REMEDIES employed in the Dispenopes, free of charge. Two or three Stamps for other, "let us follow and see where the cart Postage will be acceptable.

Address, DR. J. SKILLIN HOUGHTON,

Acting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa By order EZRA D. HEARTWELL, President.

GEO. FAIRCHILD, Secretary. Feb. 8, I860.—1y.

VALUABLE TANNERY FOR SALE.

TANNERY, situate about three miles West of Ebensburg, and about 9 miles by Plank Road and Turnpike from the Pennsylvania Rail Road. A Branch Rail Road will shortly be constructed to Ebensburg. The establishment is one of the argest in the State, and is now in successful operation. The main building is 140 by 40 and wing 66 by 20 and the whole two stories high. A new ENGINE and BOILERS erected last summer and now in good order. There are all dwelling Houses for the Proprietor, Foreman and Also a Blacksmith Shop. There is also Factory. There are about 700 acres of land well timbered, which will be sold in connection with the Tannery. About 400 cords of Bark now on hands, Hemlock can be purchased at $2,50 and Oak at $4,50 per cord, delivered. The property will be sold low and on easy terms. For further C. P. MURRAY, Ebensburg, Cambria Co., Pa.

Sept. 21, 1859 .- 44-tf.

WAR IN MEXICO. D. J. EVANS & SON. HAVE this day received from the East, and vicinity a well selected assortment of

MENS' and BOYS' CLOTHING, Also, a large lot of DRY GOODS, cons part of the following articles, viz:

SATINS, VELVETS, CLOTHS, CASSIMERES. DOE SKINS, SATINETTS, TWEEDS, JEANS, FLANNELS, MUSLINS, DRESS GOODS of every style,

NOTIONS. a large lot of BOOTS & SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, BONNETS, TRUNKS, CARPET SACKS, STATIONARY, HARDWARE, GROCERIES, FISH, SALT, &c., &c.,

(7) The Tailoring business will be carried on n all its branches, all work will be done in short notice and on the most reasonable terms. Etensburg, Feb. 1, 1860.-10-tf.

JACKSON & CLARK, SURGEON DENTISTS, JOHNSTOWN, PA

O NE of the firm will be in Ebensburg during the first ten days of each month, during which time all persons deiring his professional services can find him at the office of Dr. Lewis, nearly oppo-[may25,1859tf.

JOHN SHARBAUGH.

Justice of the Peace, Summittville, Pa. A LL BUSINESS INTRUSTED TO HIS care will be promptly attended to. He will also act as Auctioneer at Public Sales whenever his services in that capacity are required. April 28, 1858:24

C. D. MURRAY,

Attorney at Law, Ebensburg, Pa. OFFICE OPPOSITE CRAWFORD'S HOTEL

PHILADELPHIA Wood MOULDING MILL But Thumbling feigned not to understand; Willow street, above Twelfth, north side. and exclaimed louder still, "Will you have Mouldings suitable for Carpenters, Builders, Cab- all that is here!" inet and Frame Makers, always on hand. Any Pattern worked from a drawing. Agents wanted in the various Towns in his portion of the State, FRICE ON SHORT NOTICE AND AT profits to themselves. SILAS E. WEIR. February 17, 1858:tf

Miscellaneous.

THUMBLING.

Once upon a time there lived a poor peasand Smithfield Streets, in the City of Pittsburg, ant, who used to sit every evening by the Penna., on hearth, poking the fire, while his wife spun. have no children! everything is so quiet here, while in other houses it is so noisy and mer-

> "Ah!" said his wife, "if we had but only one, and he were no bigger than my thumb, I should be content, and love him with all my heart." Some time after, a child was born to them, and, although he was perfectly formed in all his limbs, he was no bigger than one's thumb. So they said it had happened to them just as they wished-and they called the child "Thumbling." Every day they gave him all the food he could eat, but still he did not grow a bit, but remained exactly the same size as he was when first born; he looked about him, however, very knowingly, and showed himself to be a bold and

One morning the peasant was making ready to go into the forest to fell wood, and said, "Now I wish I had some one who could follow me with the cart."

"Oh, father! exclaimed Thumbling, "I will bring the cart; don't trouble yourself; it shall be there at the right time." The father laughed at this speech and said, ·How shall that be? You are much too small to lead the horse by the bridle." "That matters not, father. If mother Steady-y-steady!" two strange men met it, and one said to the other, "My goodness what is this? Here comes a cart, and the driver keeps calling to the horse, but I can see no sary, sent to the afflicted in sealed letters envel one." "That cannot be all right," said the

> The cart went on safely deep into the forwas cut As soon as Thumbling saw his father, he called to him, "Here father, here I am you see, with the cart, just take me down. The peasant caught the bridle of the horse with his left hand, and with the right took his little son out of his horse's ear, and he sat himself down merrily on a straw. When the two strangers saw the little fellow they were astonished, and one of them took his companion aside and said, "This little asked the wolf, "In the house by the meadow their places at the starting post, and the sigfellow might make our fortune if we could exhibit him in the towns. Let us buy you will find cakes, and pies, and bacon, and him. They then went up to the peasant and asked, "Will you sell us your son? We will treat him well." "No, said the peasant, he is my heart's delight, and not to be bought for all the money in the world!" But Thumbling when he heard what was said, climbed up by his fathers skirt, and sat himself on his shoulder, and whispered in his ear, "Let me go now, and I will soon come back again." So his father gave him to the two men for a fine piece of gold, and they asked him where he would sit. "Oh," said he, put me on the as loud as he could. "Will you be quiet? rim of your hat, and then I can walk round said the Wolf; "you will awake the people. and survey the country, I will not fall off." "Eh, what?" cried the little man. "since you have satisfied yoursels, it is my turn now to had taken leave of his father, they started off. | make merry;" and he set up a louder howling Just as it was getting dark, he asked to be than before At last his father and mother lifted down; and the man on whose hat he awoke, and came to the room and looked was took him off and placed him on the through the chinks of the door, and as soon ground. In an instant, Thumoling ran off, as they perceived the ravages the wolf bad and crept into a mouse hole where they could | committed, they ran brought the man his not see him. "Good evening, master," said he, "you can go home without me, and, with a quiet laugh, he crept into the hole still further. The two men poked their sticks into the hole but all in vain, for thumbling only chop off his head if you can. went down further, and when it had grown quite dark, they were obliged to return home full of vexation. As soon as Thumbling perceived that they were gone, he crawled out of his hiding place, and said, "How dangerous it is to walk in this field in the dark; one might soon break one's head or legs!" And so saying, he discovered a hollow billet of wood, in which he thought he could rest securely, so together with such other articles as are usually kept in a country store, which they will dispose said to the other, "How shall we manage to "One". in he went, but just as he was falling asleep, get at the parsons gold and silver?"

"That I can tell you," interrupted Thumb-"What was that?" exclaimed the robber, frightened. "I heard some one speak."

They stood and listened, and then Thumbling said, "Take me with you, and I will help you." "Where are you?" asked the thieves.

"Here I am," said Thumbling as he crawl-Then one of the thieves picked him up and said, "What! will you help us? you little "You see I can creep between the iron bars in the chamber of the parson, and reach out to you whatever you require."

said the thieves." When they came to the house, Thumbling crept into the chamber, and cried out with all his might, "Will you have all that is here?" [mar17,1858 | The thieves were terrified, and said, "Speak gently, or some one will awake."

This awoke the cook, who slept in the room, and thinking the little fellow only wished to | since we were first married."

tease them, they came and whispered to him to make haste and hand them out something. At this, Thumbling cried out course near Brownsville, on the Monangahela gifted waith an air of adorable candor, lately still more loudly. I will give you it all, on- river, published a notice of a race, one mile ly put your hands in." The listening maid heats, on a particular day, for a purse of heard this clearly, and springing out of bed, hurried out at the door. The thieves ran off as if they were pursued by the wild huntsman, but the maid as she could see nothing went to strike a light. When she returned Thumbling escaped without being seen into the barn, said nothing about it to any one, but he rode and the maid after she had looked around, him around the track a number of times, on and searched in every corner without finding several moonlight nights, until the built had anything went to bed again believing she had got the hang of the ground pretty well and ly: been dreaming with her eyes open. Mean-while Thumbling had crept in amongst the hay, and found a benetiful place to sleep, where he intended to set till daybreak, and then go home to his parents.

Other things, however washe to experience, for there is much tribulation and trouble go- had dried an ox hide, the head part of which ing on in this world. The maid got up at dawn of day to feed bull's rump. He carried a short tin horn in the cow. Her first walk was to the barn his hand. He rode to the judges stand, and where she took an armful of hay, and just offered to enter his bull for the race, but the the bundle where poor Thumbling lay asleep. clever fellow, who would prosper in anything he undertook.

One morning the peasant was making ready

He slept so soundly, however that he was not conscious, and only awoke when he was in the cow's mouth "Ah, goodness!" exclaimed and hair on," and that therefore he had a be, "how ever came I into this mill!" but he right to eater him. After a good deal of soon saw where he really was Then he took care not to come between the teeth, but presently slipped quietly down the cow's throat. to run, and was entered accordingly. When "There are no windows in this room," said the time for starting arrived the bull and horhe too himself, "and sun-shine, and I brought no light with me" Overhead his quarters out of humor at being bothered with the bull seemed still worse, and more than all he felt and at the burlesque, which they supposed his room growing still narrower as the cow was intended, but thought that it would be per!" swallowed more hay. So he began to call over as soon as they started When the sig-PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution established by special Endowment, for the Relief of the Sick and Distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic Diseases, and especially for the Cure of Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

IN EDICAL ADVICE given gratis, by the Acting Surgeon, to all who apply by letter with a description of their condition, (age, eccurios).

In that matters not, father. If mother will be mother in his ear and toll him his ear and toll him how to go."

When the hour came, the mother hards and so, when the hour and so, when the side of the built in terrible bawl at the side of the built in terrible bawl at the side of the built in terrible bawl at the si > food." This terrified the parson himself, and out of their purse, and that if it had not been and even proposed to release her garments. he thought an evil spirit had entered into his | for Hays' horn and ox hide, which he ought est, and straight to the place where the wood cow, and so ordered her to be killed. As not to have been permitted to bring upon the ter ' soon as that was done, and they were dividing ground, the thing would not have turned out the careass, a fresh accident befell Thumb- as it did. made a snatch at the cow, and tore away the did not loose courage, but as soon as the woif swallowed him, he called out from inyou must creep through the gutter, and there ual was given. Hays gave the bull another The lawyer thus fairly caught, had the sausages as many as you can eat," replied

The wolf did not wait to be told twice, but in the night crept in, and ate away in the larder to his heart's content. When he had finished he tried to escape by the way he eutered, but the hole was not large enough. Thereupon Thumbling, who had reckoned upon this, began to make a tremendous noise inside the poor wolf, screaming and shouting axe, and the woman the sevthe. 'Stop you behind," said the man, as they entered the room; "if my blow does not kill him, you must give him a cut with your weapon, and

When Thumbling heard his father's voice, he called out, "father dear, I am here in the wolf's body." "Heaven be praised!" said the man, full of joy, "our dear child is found again;" and he bade his wife take away the scythe, lest it should do any harm to his son. "Ah," said his father what trouble we have had about you!" "Yes, father," replied Thumbling, "I have been travelling a great deal about the world. Heaven be praised! I breathe fresh air again."

"Where have you been, my son?" he in-

"Once I was in a mouse's hole, once inside a cow, and lastly inside that wolf; and now will stop here with you," said Thumb-"Yes," said the old people, "we will not sell you again for all the riches of the world;" and they embraced and kissed him with great affection. Then they gave him plenty to eat and drink, and had new clothes made for him, for his old ones were worn out with travel-

At Dieppe, in France, the following notice was recently issued:-"The bathing police is requested, when a lady is in danger of drowning, to seize her by the dress and not by the hair, which oftentimes remains in ut to you whatever you require."

not by the hair, which oftentimes remains in kept their eyes intently fixed on the running because it is sought after. It is a very indistrery well; we will see what you can do," their grasp. Newfound and dogs will also gear of the vehicle. The silence they maingovern themselves accordingly?"

> by a young gentleman in the simplest and most natural way imaginable. He merely held one of her hands in his, put his arm around her waist, and whispered semething big wheels coethed the little ones."
>
> The leader of the leader of the boys an overgrown fellow, about seven feet high, replied. "Why dog-on-it, Mister, we ling to a Jew. After the wanted to see how far you'd get before your big wheels coethed the little ones."
>
> Do you not know the in her left ear. He was a Printer.

"I'm afraid," said a lady to her hus-

A Fayette County Bull Race,

Some forty years ago, the managers of a race Hays came upon the ground on horse fore a judge and swear that he is your lover." back—on his bull. Instead of a saddle be "And will that suffice, Monsieur?" with the horns still on, he had placed on the ling, for a wolf, who was passing at the time. Upon this Hays told them that his bull could beat any of their horses anyhow, and touch with his spur, and the bull gave a tre- good sense not to get angry. The most sinmendous bellow. The horses remembering gular fact of all is, that he adores his young Thumbling, describing exactly his father's the dreadful sound, thought all the rest was wife, who, by the way, makes an excellent coming as before. Away they went again, in spite of all the exertions of their riders. while Hays galloped the bull around the track and won the money.

Constant Employment.-The man who is obliged to be constantly employed to earn the necessaries of life and support his family, knows not the unhappiness he prays for when he desires wealth and idleness. To be constantly busy is to be always happy. Persons who have suddenly acquired wealth, broken up their active pursuits, and began to live at ease, waste away and die in a very short time. Thousands would have been blessings to the world, and added to the common stock of happiness, if they had been content to remain in an bumble sphere, and earned every mouthful of food that nourished their bodies. But no; fashion and wealth took possession of them, and they were completely ruined. They ran away from peace and pleasure, embracing a lingering death. Ye who are sighing for the pomp and pleasure of life, beware. You know not what you wish. No situation however exalted: no wealth however magnificient; no honor however glorious, can yield you solid enjoyment, while discontent lurks in your bosom. The secret of happiness lies in this-to be always contented with your lot, and never sigh for the splendor of riches, or the magnificence of fashion and power. Persons who are always busy and go cheerfully to their daily tasks, are at least disturbed by the fluctuations of business; and at night sleep with composure.

Den't Believe it.

An excharge relates the following, which we record as a slauder upon the "Knob-

"In Kentucky, way up among the "knobs' there is a region so rocky and rough that the people do most of their hauling on a sort of sled; or, at best, can only use a frame mounted on long wide trucks sawed from a log .--Lately a traveller, with a phaeton having very small wheels in front that turned under the carriage, by missing his road, got into equal to the occasion." The talent of success this wild country. Making the best of his is nothing more than doing what you can do way through it, he was surprised to find that | well, without a thought of fame. If it comes he was followed by a crowed of boys who at all, it will come because it is deserved, not tained and the perseverance they maintained much about fame, about what the world says in dodging the traveller, somewhat alarmed of us, to be always looking in the face of -A young lady in town was cured of a him; and stopping his horse, he inquired why others for approval. palpitation of the heart, the other evening, they were following him. The leader of the

-William Becker, a Yankee, who went England? to the island of Trinidad when a young man and sitting up in her bed, she listened. The band, "that I'm going to have a stiff neck." worked as a carpenter, recently died there at the band, "that I'm going to have a stiff neck." worked as a carpenter, recently died there at the blessing that both of us ain't there, see-thieves however had run back a little way, "Not at all improbable my dear," said the the age of eighty-seven, worth four millions, ing that they might hang one on account of marriage with a rich quadroon.

Caught in His Own Trap.

A girl, young and pretty, but above all, presented herself before a certain Parisian

"Monsieur, I eame to consult you on a grave affair. I want to oblige a man I love to marry me in spite of himself. How shall

The gentleman of the bar had of course, a sufficiently elastic conscience. He reflected a moment, then being more sure that no third person overheard him, replied unhesitating-

"Mademoiselle, according to our law, you always possess the meas of forcing a man to marry you. You must remain on three occasions alone with him, that you can go be-

"Yes, Mademo iselle, with one further con-

"That you will produce witnesses who will make an oath to their having seen you remain a good quarter of an hour with the individual said to have triffed with your affec-

"Very well, Monsiur, I will retain you as counsel in the management of this affair .--

A few days afterwards the young girl returned. She was mysteriously received by the lawyer, who, scarcely giving her time to seat herself, questioned her with the most lively curiosity.

Well, Mademoiselle, how do matters pros

"Capital!" "Persevere in your designs, Mademoiselle, but mind the next time you come to consult me, you must tell me the name of the young man we are going to render so happy in spite

"You shall have it without fail, Mon-

A fort-night afterwards, the young person, more naive and candid than ever, kneeke to take short cut to get out of the Redstone discreetly at the door of her counsel's room. "You are crazy," he replied; but still he country, and not one of them could be brought No sooner was she in the room, than she flung went himself into the stable to see what was back in time to save their distance. A gen- herself into a chair, saying that she had moun the matter, and scarcely had he stepped in eral row ensued; but the fun of the thing put ted the steps too rapidly, and that emotion when Thumbling began to shout out again, the crowd all on the side of the bull. The made her breathless. Her counsel endeavor-"Bring me no more food, bring me no more horsemen contended that they were swindled ed to reassare her, made her inhale salts, "It is useless," said she, "I am much bet-

"Well, Mademoiselle, now tell me the name of the fortunate mortal you are going to

"Well, the fortunate mortal, be it known part where he was shock fast. However, he if they would put up a hundred dollars against to you, is -yourself," said the young beauty the purse that he had won, he would take the bursting into a laugh. I love you, I have ox hide off. and leave his tin horn, and run a been three times tete e-tete with you, and my side, "Oh, Mr. Wolf, I know of a capitol fair race with them. His offer was accepted four witnesses are below, ready and willing

-A story is related of a medical student. who, once upon a time, entered the terrible green-room to be examined for his degree of M. D. Elated at the prospect before him, and knowing that Dr. Payne held the lancet to be a universal cure, he had drunk decidedly too much whiskey. On going into the green-room the venerable professor had asked him some questions of treatment, Bolus, Jr., returned the patent answer:

"Why I'd bleed bim!" 'I guess you didn't understand me?' remarked the professor.

'Then, by Jockey, I'd set him up and bleed him again!' responded Bolus. He passed!

Gardening.

Some of those who are blessed with gardens in town have already commenced to pre pare them for planting. Some one-Douglas Jerrold, if we mistake not-has said that "a garden is a very beautiful book, written by the finger of God. Every flower and every leaf is a letter. You have only to learn them-and he is a poor dunce that cannot, if he will do that-to learn them and join them and then go on reading and reading, and you will find yourself carried away from the ear h to the skies by the beautiful story you are going through. You do not know what beau tiful thoughts-for they are nothing shortfor they grow out of the ground, and seem to talk to a mae; and then there are some flowers-they always seem to be like over dutiful children-tend them ever so little, and they do come up and flourish, and show as we may say, their bright and happy faces to you,

The Talent of Success. - Every man must patiently abide his time. He must wait -Not in listless idleness, not in useless pasttime, not in querulous dejection, but in constant, steady, and cheerful endeavor, always willing, fulfilling and accomplishing his task "that when the occasion comes he may be -A fellow the other day, sold some clothing to a Jew. After the sale had been con-

"Do you not know that they hang a Jew and a Jackass together on the gallows in quite frigtened, but, taking courage again, spouse; "I've seen strong symptoms ever partly the result of enterprise and partly of his nation, and the other on account of his