Cultivating the Canteloupe.

For several years we have endeavored to impress such of our readers as have ground, with the fact that there is no difficulty in supplying themselves with that very fine fruit-the capteloupe-if they will go the right way about cultivating it. We also communicated the mode of cultivation at the same time, and we now repeat it, in the hope that an additional number of persons will this season follow our advice.

For the canteloupe, a sandy loom is always to be preferred; but any light, friable soil, with a southern exposure, free from prevailing moisture, will answer. The ground should be converted into a fine tilth; the hills should be dug out to the depth of ten or twelve inches, eighteen mehes in diameter, which should be filled with one third well rotted short manure, one third good sand, [should the soil not possess any,] and one third rich earth, well mixed. The hills should be from eight to twelve feet apart each way, as room may allow, and the seed, say five to a hill, should be planted over the whole hill, an inch below the surface. When the sprouts are two inches high give them a fair sprinkling of wood ashes, while the dew is on, or after watering them, and repeat three or four times during the two following weeks. This will drive away all the insects. When they are six inches high, remove all but two or three vines. according to the space between the rows, and carefully put round, not to, the vines, a little guano. In removing the weeds from the beds the vincs should not be disturbed, as the rootlets which penetrate the earth from the vines and which supply the principal nourishment to the fruit, will be destroyed. Nothing more is needed to yield an amount of this delicious melon that will astonish the unincitiated, and of a quality unequaled by the best productions of Jersey. At least this is our experience.

Care, however, must be taken to procure good seed. All things considered, we regard the nutmeg form of a melon the best for Pennsylvania soil. A friend to whom we gave some seed, about six years ago, returned us a package from specimens of lemons, one weighing eight, and another ten

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every mem-ber of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and For this purpose, Dr Hostetter has inlife. troduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nau-sea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhoea, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible ? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.-This trying and provok-ing disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render un-necessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure. For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispersable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart strength and vigor to the system Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness. CAUTION .- We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph

To Make Farming Profitable - Every beginner in farming, by securing the following essentials will succeed. Buy no more land than there is capital enough to pay, with one third more surplus-for a small farm, free from debt, with plenty of means to stock it, enrich it, and carry on its work will yield more than a larger one encumbered with debt, conducted feebly in every part, with bad fences, poor implements, bony animals, weedy fields, and slim crops Lay out the fields in the best order, so as to admit a systematic rotation and to give ready access to every field at all times without passing through other fields. Provide good fences, and necessary gates, and valuable time will not be lost in driving out intruding animals or crops lost by their depredations. Furnish good farm buildings to secure properly the crops and to afford shelter to animals. Select the best animals and the best implements that can be secured for a reasonable price. Bring the soil into good condition by manuring and draining, and keep it so by a judicious rotation. Effect a clear and systematic arrangement of all the work, so that there shall be no clashing or confusion. Employ dilligence

Regularity in Milking -Mr. O. E. Hannum, a very successful dairy man of Portage County, Ohio, a native of old Berkshire, Mass., names the points of his management as follows: Good cows, good feed, good milking, good care and management of the milk. He put "good milking" in italies, and remarks: "Each cow should have a steady milker, be milked as fast as possible and all the milk drawn. I am satisfied that there is a loss of one third in many dairies, by the lazy haphazard way in which cows are milked. I have known persons sit down in the milking yard and go through with some long yarn, and be from ten to twenty minutes milking one cow, when it should be done in less than five,"

Dr. Morse was the first tablish the fact that all diseases arise from IM-PURITY OF THE BLOOD-that our strength. health and life depended upon this vital fluid.

When the various passages become clogged and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses it action, becomes thick, corrupted, and discased thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, ou health we are deprived of, and if nature is no assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, th blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. JUST RECEIVED, How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectorant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they sortment of draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out bountifully by the uri nary or water passage, and which could not have een discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the are particularly invited to an inspection of his bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely rout out and posed to patronize him that his TABLE will be cleanse the system from all impurity, and the supplied with all the luxuries of the season, his life of the body, which is the blood, becomes per-Beatty's and Hunt's superior Azes, Conrad & BAR with the choicest of Liquors, and no pains feetly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

> The reason whypeople are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PHLLS have added to themselves victory upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, within a step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate case and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood.-Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease-that deadly enemy-will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty
