Glass Milk Pans.

The following extract from Morton's Hand Book of Dairy Husbandry, recently published in Scotland, relative to the merits of glass milk pans, is worthy of consideration, and agree we believe with all the experience among our own farmers who have used them. On several occasions we have commended the glass milk pan, and now again take occasion to invite the attention of all engaged, more or less, in dairying, to the following facts, as well as confirmation of previous statements on the subject.

An immense amount of discussion has taken place on the special merits of different sorts of milk pans. Probably the greatest quantity of milk in this country is set for in leaden cisterns about four or five inches deep; the next commonest pan is of brown earthenware, white inside, some twenty one inches across at the top, and four inches deep or thereabouts, and a foot or more wide at bottom. Vessels of tinned iron of similar shape are also very common for the purpose. Zinc, which is much more easily acted on than tin by the acid of milk, though occasionally used, is therefore not so good a material. Glass milk pans are much more in vogue; exceedingly clean, as dirt is so much more easily seen on them; they are, of course, more brittle than the earthenware.

Capt. Stanley Carr, who farms largely in Holstein employs these glass pans almost exclusively. He says:—"In my dairy, which contains upwards of 180 cows, the glass vessels have been used for four years; and I give them a decided preference over all others. Their form is good, being sixteen inches broad at the top and twelve at the bottom; the glass is dark bottle green, transparent and perfectly smooth, about one-eighth of an inch thick, and provided with a rounded rim at the upper edge, which makes it easy to retain a safe hold of them even when full. They contain eight quarts, but never receive more than six. They cost eight pence apiece, and their durability may be estimated by the fact that, to encourage carefulness, each dairy-maid is allowed one dollar per annum extra, as pan money, being bound at the same time to pay ten pence for each she breaks; yet hitherto no girl has broken to the extent of her dollar. It is self evident that acidity can not be communicated to glass; and the ease and rapidity with which they are cleaned requiring merely to be first washed with luke-warm water then rinsed in cold water and placed in a rack to dry, effect a great saving in fuel and labor, diminishing the number of our dairy-maids by at least two." Capt. Carr stated that Mr. Thomas Peterson, of Trinity Chambers, Waterlane, Tower Street, London, had undertaken to supply the German milk pans in any quantity at 2s. each, or at 21s. per dozen.

Mr. Duncan, of Bradwell, near Stratford writes thus:—"When I first took to dairying on a large scale, I laid out £20 in glass pans, because they looked so well in a dairy. On father acquaintance with them, I have come to the conclusion that they are the cheapest things (even at 4s. each) that a farmer can use; for they are washed, and wiped, and kept clean with 300 per cent. less trouble than 'leads.' My glass pans are about twenty inches in diameter; I do not like larger ones. They hold about five quarts each."

Corn Taring.

It is one of the best preventatives against crows, and worms and other pests of the farmer, to tar seed corn when planting. Soak the seed in warm water till it is plump, and then the tar will not retard germination. Put then about a gill of tar to a gallon of hot water, and stir it till the tar is melted and thoroughly mixed with the water, and then pour in as much of the seed corn as you can stir, about freely. Then take the seed and coat it with plaster of paris, or dried leached ashes, or fine dry loam, or dust. The proportion of tar to water should be such that it should coat the corn perfectly with a very thin coat. No one who tars seed-corn will ever curse the crows.

A correspondent reminds us that gas tar is a little better than any other kind for this purpose. Half a gill is enough for a ten-acre field. It should be well stirred in, in order that every grain may receive a portion, for if the birds find one grain without any, they will pull up 100 more to find another one; they will not eat those that are tarred.

Beans.—Every body loves beans, and there is no reason why every body should not have them who has space enough on which to grow them. They are one of the staple crops of the kitchen garden. Being very tender, the slightest frosts injures and frequently despoils them. Do not plant, therefore, till after danger in this direction is past. Among the best early varieties are Yellow Six Weeks, Speckled Valentine, Mohawk. For late crops the large White Kidney will be found excellent and productive. The foregoing are all dwarf or bush. If you desire the pole or running varieties, the early White Case-kife is the earliest and very productive. Red and White Cranberry are favorite snap-shorts, and the Horticultural or Wren's Egg, a good string or shell bean.—Fanner and Gardener.

The Growing Crops.

Intelligence in regard to the crops is generally of a cheering character. The late rains have been of incalculable advantage throughout the country, particularly in the northwest.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid action of the Stomach or bowels, such as Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhoea, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused by the daily change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which is always to be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind, then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy one than the German, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

EVERY ANATOMY. This trying and prostrating disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be cured only by the use of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they never offend the stomach, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be used to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength, and the yield of her milk, is impaired. A good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility and general weakness, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits that are offered for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

AGENTS.—Davis & Jones, Ebersburg, J. A. Parrish, Summitville; Wm. Litzinger, Loretto; Peter Kinney, Munster. August 31, 1859.—ly.

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid. When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the system free from the impurities of the blood, and how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of the human system. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an expectorant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out abundantly by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely rout out and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear. The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have aided to thousands of victories upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, by a sudden step to the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood. Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will be bright and shining days. Sold by Thomas Devine, Ebersburg, and by Medicine Dealers generally throughout the County; B. Lake Judson, successor to A. J. White & Co., No. 50 Leonard st., N. Y., Proprietors; William Mudge & Co., (Proprietors of Dr. A. Trask's Magnetic Ointment.) Earlville, Madison county, N. Y., General Agents. August 8, 1859:ly
