We Want Good Butter.

The dairying is now at full tide; the milk pails overflow with their foaming treasures, the pans are crowned with rich cream, and golden nuggets of butter are ready for transportation to the market, there to be minted into solid coin. The quantity of dairy products brought to this market would surprise a novice; the quality of much of it still more astounding. An average of 500,000 lbs. of butter per week is consumed in New York and vicinity; 100,000 lbs. would be a full estimate of the prime article to be found in the whole quantity. The price paid for the best sorts, over the inferior, would seem to be inducement enough to furnish a good article in abundance, but when purchasing family supplies, we have often sampled and tasted large lots—smelling was enough in many cases—without finding a single desirable article. Scarcely a country-housekeeper would allow such trash to appear on her table, indeed, visitors from the country find the butter here one of the greatest drawbacks to their pleasures at the table. Why then is such butter sent here? From some sections, no doubt, because it is poor. A neglected churning is found unfit for family use, and is "sent to the store" in barter for other necessities; the merchants pay one price to all customers, packs it all, yellow and pale, pure and poor, waxy and greasy in one flock; the better quality is soon corrupted by evil communication, and when opened in market, all thoroughly vile. If country dealers would fix the price according to the quality, much of this would be remedied. Housekeepers have little encouragement to do their best, when a pound of grease, fit only for the soap maker, buys as much sugar as a pound of good table butter.

Dairymen who produce a really superior article are often surprised at the small returns received from the distant market. Their neighbors exult in two or three cents more per lb. obtained for the same quality, and sold by the same commission merchant—there must be a mistake somewhere. The mistake is at the dairyman's door. His neighbor procured new firkins or tubs this spring, has kept them neatly painted, with his name plainly marked in full upon the cover. A grocer or hotel-keeper was attracted by the promising look of the package, tried it, found it good, and engaged it for the season—the brand was established, and will always sell well while it keeps its reputation. Our less fortunate friend made the old pail answer, marked it with a cross or notch which he would know, and sent it along. The weather worn and rusty pail was overlooked by the best customers; it was set, with the second sorts, and sold for second prices, to the joy of the purchaser, and the loss of the economical dairyman. Three cents per pound on thirty weights of butter would pay for a new pail every week.

But the great drawback in the quality of our butter is the want of elbow grease. It is not sufficiently worked. It leaves the dairy apparently sweet and fresh, and is so for the time, but the lazie or roller was used, the butter-milk and sour milk soon become rancid and five or ten cents per pound loss is the penalty. It would be thought a hard law that inflicted a fine of that amount for every pound of poorly worked butter, but the inexorable laws of trade do impose just such a fine; no excuses are received, no penalties remitted, and there is no appeal. But on the other hand, good butter, nicely packed, and carefully forwarded to honest dealers, invariably receives a premium, which we wish all our dairymen would compete for, and part of which we will cheerfully pay.—American Agriculturist.

Air Drains.—L. H. Luoker, of the Country Gentleman, speaking of a visit to a farmer while in England, says: Mr. C.'s experience on heavy clay lands, leads him to estimate very highly the importance of having a line of tile at the head of the field, connecting the upper ends of the lateral drains, and open at both ends for the admission of air. He thought the circulation of air thus given through the underground channels on stiff lands of great efficiency in supplying the place of the abundant pores found in a more open and gravelly soil, and also in admitting atmosphere air to the superincumbent soil.

The Time to Gather Herbs.—Every body who has an herb bed in the garden, or who sets a value upon a good supply of dried herbs, should see to securing them this month, or at least the most of them. The right time to gather herbs for drying or other purposes is when they are just beginning to come into flower. They then possess their peculiar virtues to a higher degree than at any other period.

When cut, do not lay them in the sun, as the excessive heat will cause them to dry too rapidly; the leaves and stems become brittle and the slightest blow will cause them to fall off and be lost. Let them be laid in the shade and carefully protected from the rain or any dampness.

Corn Cakes.—Take one quart of good corn, two and a half pounds of crackers, two eggs, half a cup of milk, a little pepper and salt, and bake half an hour with a mizzling brick fire, and you will have a cake that is fit for any person to eat. We say try it, and will say the something.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life.

For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any bilious complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal. Diarrhoea, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the efficacy of this great preparation in the cure of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Pain in the Stomach, and for all suffering from an unfeeling constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. As to a mother, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where good medicine is needed, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and before doing so, ask their physicians who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid.

When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every kind. Our strength is exhausted, our health is deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs, in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sordofine, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectoant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty in throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out boundlessly by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they flow to every part, and completely root out and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves victory over victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, within a step of the silent grave, are now ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood. Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cheer and brighten your days.
