

Phosphates

How Superphosphate is Made.

Charred bones are the very best source of phosphates at present known. If a lot contains 78 per cent. of phosphate, it will be a good article. Leaving out of view the three or four per cent. of carbonate of lime which has to be converted into sulphate of lime before the acid will act on the phosphate, let us see what would be the composition of the very best superphosphate that can possibly be made from this 200 lbs. of charred bones.

The 200 lbs. of bones contain 150 lbs. of phosphate—composed of 84 lbs. of lime and 72 lbs. of phosphoric acid. To convert this into soluble phosphate, we have to add sulphuric acid enough to take away 50 lbs. of lime.

This requires 80 lbs. of sulphuric acid—equal to about 120 lbs. of common oil of vitrol (sp. gr. 1.7).

To convert the 150 lbs. of phosphate contained in 200 lbs. of charred bones, then we add 80 lbs. of sulphuric acid. The mass would then weigh 230 lbs. But the sulphate of lime formed by the union of the sulphuric acid and lime, like our common gypsum or plaster, contains two atoms, or about 21 per cent of water. United with the 136 lbs. of sulphate of lime found in the mixture, therefore we have 39 lbs. of water.

Instead of 280 lbs. therefore, the mass would weigh 316 lbs. Again, as we have before said, the two atoms of lime removed from the phosphate of lime are replaced. In converting the 150 lbs. of phosphate lime into soluble superphosphate, therefore, 18 lbs. of water are required to replace the lime taken away by the sulphuric acid. This is essential.

In the case assumed, then we have—
Charred bones. 200 lbs.
Sulphuric acid. 80
Water (united with the gypsum) 36
Water (united with the superphosphate) 18
Total. 334

This contains 172 lbs. of sulphate of lime, gypsum, and 118 lbs. of superphosphate of lime, composed, as we have shown, of 72 lbs. of phosphoric acid, 28 lbs. of lime, and 18 lbs. of water, in other words, the mixture contains 35 per cent. of superphosphate of lime, 51 per cent. of sulphate of lime, and 13 per cent. of other compounds, of which we have taken no notice in the calculation.

It will be borne in mind that our calculations are based upon the supposition that all the phosphate of lime is converted into superphosphate of lime, and that the article is perfectly dry—the water being chemically united with the superphosphate of lime etc. And yet we only get 35 per cent. of superphosphate of lime, or 21 per cent of phosphoric acid.—Cincinnati Artisan.

Farmer's Omnibus.

There are 5 pounds of pure sulphur in every one hundred pounds of wool.
Carrots consume 199 pounds of lime to the acre, turnips about 90 lbs.
A cubic foot of common arable land will hold 40 lbs. of water.

It takes 5 lbs. of corn to form one of beef. Three and a half lbs. of cooked meal will form one of pork.

To add 1 per cent of lime to soil that is destitute of it, requires 10 lbs. of slacked lime to 9 per cent of the soil.

Clay will permanently improve any soil that is sandy or leachy. Lime and leached ashes will also benefit leachy land.

A ton of dry forest leaves produces only 500 lbs. of mould; hence 500 lbs. of mould will produce a ton of plants.

Clay applied to sandy land is far better than sand to clay land. 163 tons to the acre will give an inch in depth.

Pure phosphorus is worth from $4000 to $5000 a ton; and as it comes from the earth it shows how scarce it is.

A rich mould, formed by rotting clover is worth more than the same number of pounds clover; 400 lbs of dry plants will yield 100 lbs of mould.

Swamp muck or peat, when dry, will take up without dripping four times its own weight of water. Hence the necessity of thorough drainage.

Limestone sand retains the heat the longest; black, peaty soils radiate heat most rapidly, consequently cool soot, and are first to experience frost.

What Constitutes Legal Unsoundness in Horses.

A knee sprung horse can hardly be said to be unsound. He may be a very fast horse, and can endure with ease the labor of any common, or ordinary horse, although in an alteration of structure which unfits him for the race course. This would not be likely to produce disease or lameness; he would be more likely to grow better than worse, if used for common purposes. But if so bad as to produce stumbling and falling, he would be unsound, and a warranty should be taken against such defects.

Capped Hocks cannot be considered unsoundness, if produced by an uneven stable floor, or by kicking, but if produced by a sprain, and a permanent thickening and enlargement of membranes, there would be unsoundness. A special warranty should be required in such cases.

Curb constitutes unsoundness, as long as it lasts, and perhaps while the swelling remains, although no inflammation exists, for a horse that has once thrown out a curb, is liable to do so again on the slightest exertion.—Michigan Farmer.

HOSSETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able to regulate the system so as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hosstetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the means of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Catarrh, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhoea, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by acute fevers, and caused principally by change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSSETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician recommends Bitters of some kind; why then not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the science of medical practice.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable; as they only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hosstetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means use this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSSETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hosstetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

Prepared and sold by HOSSETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

AGENTS.—Davis & Jones, Ebensburg; J. A. Parrish, Summitville; Wm. Litzinger, Loretto; Peter Kinney, Munster.
