Democrat and Sentinel.

THE BLESSINGS OF GOVERNMENT, LIKE THE DEWS OF HEAVEN, SHOULD BE DISTRIBUTED ALIKE UPON THE HIGH AND THE LOW, THE RICH AND THE POOR.

SERIES.

EBENSBURG, PA. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1860.

VOL. 7--- NO. 40.

TERMS: EMOCRAT & SENTINEL' IS PUBlished every Wednesday Morning at OLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS per annum, in advance; ONE DOLLAR AND SEVENTY exrs if not paid within six months, and LLAES if not paid until the termination becription will be taken for a shorter ty to discontinue his paper until all arare paid, except at the option of the person subscribing for six months will be NE DOLLAR, unless the money is paid Advertising Rates.

Out insert'n. Two do. Three do $ 50 $ 75 $1 00 2 00 [12 lines 24 lines 9 00 36 lines 10 00 12 00 20 00 All advertisements must be marked with sed until forbid, and charged accordingly.

VALUABLE TANNERY

indersigned offers for sale the QUITMAN asburg, and about 9 miles by Plank Road rapike from the Pennsylvania Rail Road. Rail Road will shortly be constructed ourg. The establishment is one of the the State, and is now in successful op-The main building is 140 by 40 and y 20 and the whole two stories high. ENGINE and BOILERS erected last and now in good order. There are all ary outbuildings on the premises, and Houses for the Proprietor, Foreman and Also a Blacksmith Shop. There is also There are about 700 acres of land well old low and on easy terms. For further subscriber, for several years a resident y-a sure cure for Consumption, Asth. For the benefit of Consumptives and Sufferers, he is willing to make the

C. P. MURRAY, Ebensburg, Cambria Co., Pa. 21, 1859 .-- 44-tf.

TO CONSUMPTIVES AND NERVOUS SUFFERERS.

with full directions (free of charge); mple of the medicine, which they will estimate combination of Nature's simple Those desiring the remedy can obtain it a mail, by addressing

J. E. CUTHBERT. BATONIC PHYSICIAN. No. 429 Broadway, New York.

ril 18, 1860 .- 3m. SBURG FOUNDRY .- HAVING pur

ed the entire stock and fixtures of the g Foundry, the subscriber is prepared ighs, Plough Points, Stoves, Mill rons, Threshing Machines, ngs of any kind that may be needed in rict attention to the business of the conhopes to merit, and trusts he will receive patronage from those in want of articles siness done at the Foundry EDWARD GLASS.

WARD ASSOCIATION. PHILADELPHIA.

ent Institution established by special En , for the Relief of the Sick and Dis-, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic ws, and especially for the Cure of Dis-f the Sexual Organs.

CAL ADVICE given gratis, by the ting Surgeon, to all who apply by letter cription of their condition, (age, occudedecines furnished free of charge. ABLE REPORTS on Spermatorrheea, Diseases of the Sexual Organs, and on at to the afflicted in sealed letters envelof charge. Two or three Stamps for s, DR. J. SKILLIN HOUGHTON.

Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 inth Street, Philadelphia, Pa By order EZRA D. HEARTWELL, President. FAIRCHILD, Secretary.

WAR IN MEXICO.

J. EVANS & SON, VE this day received from the East, and ing to the citizens of Ebensburg and ly a well selected assortment of ENS' and BOYS' CLOTHING.

VELVETS, CLOTHS, CASSIMERES.

JEANS, FLANNELS, MUSLINS, DRESS GOODS of every style, NOTIONS. BONNETS, TRUNKS, CARPET

ROCERIES, FISH, SALT, &c., &c., with such other articles as are usually a country store, which they will dispose low for eash or country produce.
The Tailoring business will be carried on branches, all work will be done in short and on the most reasonable terms. sburg, Feb. 1, 1860.-10-tf.

D MOTT'S

An aperient and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctified by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice. The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable

Innoxious in all malladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nercous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheuma-tism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face,

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from Chronic complaints one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotton in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to Medical men, the operation which will be sold in connection with of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be About 400 cords of Bark now on | salutary, for, unlike the old exides, it is vigor-Hemlock can be purchased at $2,50 and ously tonic, without being exciting and overheating, and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant costiceness. In unchecked Diarrhea, even when advanced to Dysentary, confirmed emaciating and apparently malignent, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing. In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debiliating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicates Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculsis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of idione, without any of their well known liabillities. The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the caces peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both Chronic and inflamatory

-in the latter, however, more decidedly-it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stifness of the joints and muscles. In Intermittent fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and use-No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole his tory of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy and fully restorative effects. Good appetitee, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediate-Put up in neat flat mettal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, ect., should be addressed to

R. B. LOCKE, & Co., General Agents, 20 Cedar St., N. Y. May, 30,1860:ly.

NEW ARRIVAL

EW REMEDIES employed in the Dispen-The undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of Cambria and adjoining counties that he has just received a fresh stock of the finest ITALIAN and other Marbles, at his eitablishment on Franklin street, Johnstown. MONUMENTS, TOMBS, MANTELS, GRAVE STONES, TABLE & BURELAU TOPS, manfuactured of the most beautiful and finest quality of Foreign and Domestic Marble, always on hand and made to order as cheap as they can be purchased in the city, without the addition

GRINDSTONES of various grits and sizes. suitable for Farmers and Mechanics, sold either by wholesale or retail. Prompt attention paid to orders from a distance, and work delivered wherever desired. He invites the public to call and examine his stock, as he feels satisfied he can sell cheap.

For the convenience of persons residing in the east and North of the county, specimens may be seen and orders left with George Huntley, at his Tinware Establishment in Ebensburg. JOHN PARKE.

Johnstown, June 13, 1860.-ly.

ACKS, STATIONARY, HARDWARE, Mouldings suitable for Carpenters, Builders, Cab. inet and Frame Makers, always on hand. Any in the various Towns in his portion of the State, to whom opportunities will be offered for large About this time I began to think profits to themselves. SILAS E. WEIR. February 17, 1858:tf

C. D. MURRAY,

MISCELLANEOUS.

A STAGE DRIVER'S ADVENTURE.

bury to Littleton, a distance of forty-two miles, and as I had to wait for the arrival of and wouldn't try, so I worked alone, and was two other coaches, I did not start till after dinner; so I very often had a good distance to drive after dark. It was in the dead of winter, and the season had been a tough one. A great deal of snow had fallen, and the driks were plenty and deep. The mail that I carried was due to Littleton until one o'clock in the morning; but that winter the postmaster was very often obliged to sit up a little later than that for me.

One day in January when I drove up for my mail at Danbury, the postmaster called

"Pete," said he, with an important, serious look, "there's some pretty heavy money packages in that bag," and he pointed to the mail bag as he spoke. He said the money was from Boston to some land agents up near the Canada line. Then he asked me if I'd got any passengers who were going through to Littleton. I told him I did not know, "but suppose I havn't" says I. "Why," said he, "the agent of the lower route came in to-day, and he says that there have been two suspicious characters on the stage that came up last night, and he suspects that they have an eye on this mail, so that it will stand you in hand to be a little

He said the agent had described one of them as a short, thick set fellow, about forty him. years of age with long hair, and a thick, heavy clump beard under his chin, but none on the side of his face. He didn't know

"Oh no; not if you have got passengers for the whole trip; but I only told you of this so that you might look out for the mail, and look out for it when you stop to change hor-

I answered that I should do so and then took the bag under my arm and left the office. I stowed the bag away under the seat a little more careful than usual, placing it so that I could keep my feet against it, but beyond this I did not feel any concern. It was half past one when I started and I had four passengers, two of whom rode only to my stopping place. I reached Gowan's mills at dark, when we stopped for supper, and where my other two passengers concluded to stop for

At about six o'clock in the evening I left Gowan's milis alone, having two horses and an open pung. I had seventeen miles to goand a hard seventeen it was to. The night was quite clear, but the wind was sharp and cold, the loose snow flying in all directions, while the drifts were deep and closely packed, It was slow tedious work, and my horses soon became leg weary and restive. At the distance of six miles I came to a little settlement called Bull's Corner, where I took fresh horses. I had been two hours going that distance. Just as I was going to start a man came up and asked me if I was going through to Littleton. I told him I should go through if the thing could possibly be done. He said he was very anxious to go, and as he had no baggage I told him to jump on and make himself as comfortable as possible. I was gathering up the reins when the ostler came out and asked me if I knew that one of my horses had cut himself badly. I jumped out and went with him and found that one of the animals had got a deep cork cut on the off fore foot. I gave such directions as I thought were neccessary, when the ostler remarked that he thought I came alone. I told

"Then where did you get that passenger?"

· He just go in," I answered.

"Got in from where?" "I don't know."

at the house, and I know there haint been none at neighbor's

"Let's have a look at his face," said the pung, just hold your lantern so that the light will shine in his face.

He did as I wished, and as I stepped into the man whom the Postmaster had described to me; but I did not think seriously until I had started. Perhaps I had gone half a mile when I noticed that the mail bag was not in its old place under my feet.

"Hallo!" says I, holding up my horses a ·little, "where's my mail?" My passenger sat on the seat behind me, and as I spoke I turned towards him. "Here is a bag of some kind, slipped back under my feet," he said. giving it a kick as though he had shoved it forward. Just at that moment my horses lumbered into a deep snow drift, and I was forced to get out to tread down ahead of them and lead them through it. I got on again, I pulled the mail bag forward | ter him. and got my feet upon it. As I was doing this I saw the man take something from his

About this time I began to think somewhat seriously. From what I had heard and seen, I soon made up my mind that the individual behind me not only intended to rob Attorney at Law, Ebensburg, Ps.

That punch is the cause of many unfriend
Attorney at Law, Ebensburg, Ps.

That punch is the cause of many unfriend
Th [mar17,1858 me, and perhaps he meant to perform that ly punches.

delectable operation at any rate. While I was pondering the horses plunged into another deep drift, and I was forced again to ret out and tread down the snow before them. Fourteen years ago I drove stage from Dan- I asked my passenger if wouldn't get out and help me, but he said he didn't feel very well all of a quarter of an hour getting my team through the drifts. When I got into the sleigh again I began to feel for the mail bag with my feet. I found it where I had left it but when I attempted to withdraw my foot, I discovered that it had become entangled in something-I thought it the buffalo robe and trid to kick it clear, but the more I kicked the more closely it was held. I reached down such wishes was only a waste of time, I very quickly gave it up and began to consider what I had best do under existing circumstances. I was not long making up my mind upon a few essential points. First the man open the mail bag and robbed it of some valuable matter. He must have known the money letters by the size and shape, third, he meant to leave the pung on the first favorable opportunity; and fourth, he was prepared to shoot me if I attempted to arrest or detain

I resolved these things over in my mind, and pretty soon I thought of a course to pursue. I knew if I could get my hands safely anything about the other. I told the old upon the rascal, I must take him wholly unfeliow I guessed there wasn't much danger. awares, and this I could not do while he was behind me, for his eye was upon me all the time; so I must resort to stragatem. Only a little distance ahead was a house, where an old farmer named Lougee lived, and directly before which a huge snow bank stretched across the road, through which a track for This extraordinary speech threw the hosier teams had to be cleared with shovels.

As we approach the cot, I saw a light in the front room, as I felt confident I should. for the old man generally sat up until the stage went by. I drove on, and when nearly opposite the dwelling stood up as I had frequently done when approaching difficult places. I saw the snow bank ahead and could plainly distinguish the deep cut which had been shoveled through it. I urged the horses to a good speed, and when near the bank forced them into it. One of the runners | window formerly filled with piles of shirts and mounted the edge of the bank after them. the other ran into the cut, thus throwing the sleigh over about as quick as if lightning had struck it. My passenger hadn't calculated on any such movement was not prepared for it, but I had calculated and was prepared. He rolled out into the deep snow with a heavy buffalo robe upon him, while I alighted on my feet directly on top of him. I punched his head into the snow, and then sung out for old Lougee. I did not have to call a second time, the farmer had come to the window to see me pass, and as soon as he saw my sleigh overturned he lighted his lantern and hurried out.

"What's to pay?" asked the old man as he

"Lead the horses into the track and then come here," said I. As I spoke I had partially loosened my pistol from his bosom. But I saw it in good he had throwed it." season and jammed his head into the snow again, and got the weapon from him. By this time Lougee had led the horses back, and I explained the matter to him in as few words | half in, I should say. as possible. We hauled the rascal out into the road, and upon examination we found about twenty packages of letters which he an acquittal on the direction of the court. away in his pockets.

He swore, and threatened, and begged and "Well, now," said the ostler, "that's kind | prayed; but we paid no attention to his blarof curious. There ain't no such man been ney. Lougee got same stout cord and when we had securely bound the villian, tumbled him into the pung. I asked the old man if ges that he actually entered the tent or dwelhe would accompany me to Littleton, and he ling. Now, your honor, can a man enter the Do you go back with me; and as I get in said "of course." So he got his overcoat house, when only one-half of his body is 12, and muffler, and we soon started,

I reached the end of my route with the mail bag safe, though not so snug as it might the pung, I got a fair view of such portions have been. The mail robber was secure, and of my passengers face as were not muffled within a week was identified by some officers up. I saw a short thick frame, full, hard from Congord, as an old offender, and I'm as to one-half of the body from the waist up, features, and I could also see that there was rather inclined to the opinion that he's in the a heavy beard under the chin. I thought of State's prison yet. At any rate he was there when I last heard from him

That's the only time that I ever had my mail troubled, and I think that under all the circumstances, I came out of it pretty well. we think, worthy of a Solomon.

Master, how do you sell beef this 'Why fourteen cents a pound; how much will you have? 'Fourteen cents, ch? Have you a heart?' 'No, just sold it' 'Well, I just knowed you couldn't have a heart, and ax fourteen cents a pound for beef:

I'm sorry you sold it, 'cause I'd like to have some meat. A moment after the boy was seen running This took me all of fifteen minutes; when out of the market house, with a shinbone af-lap and put it into his breast pocket. At first I thought it was a small liquor flask, but upon second thought I made up my mind that it the ladies were disappointed. "O." exclaimed of the sick. The absence of smoke the quiet was a pistol. I caught the gleam of the bar- our hero, "don't fret. I know the astrono- all tend to make night the best time for air-Pattern worked from a drawing. Agents wanted rel in the starlight, and when I had time to mer very well; he is a very polite man, and I ing the patient. A high medical authority am sure will begin again.

Sound Truths,-That champagne is the source of many real pains. That gin slings have "slewed" more than

The Paris correspondent of the New York Express has the following: Perhaps some of your readers who visited

An Amusing Offer of Marriage.

Paris two or three years ago, and who had an occasion to be fleeced in boulevard shops, may remember a boisiery establishment on the corner of the rue Drouot and the Boulevard .-This shop was closed some time rgo, and the "stand" is at present occupied by a dealer in marriageable age) tall and handsome, well my hand and after feeling a few moments provincial look, entered the hosier's boutique, papers. I ran my fingers along the edge of the shop, a rosy cheeked and graceful young the opening, and became assured that the stout leather had been cut with a knife. girl, partially concealed from view by a high desk. Upon interrogating the clerk, he was desk. Upon interrogating the clerk, he was Here was a discovery. I began to wish I informed that the young girl in question was had taken a little more forethought before the shopkeeper's daughter, who has just releaving Danbury, but as I knew that making turned from one of the best seminaries in France, where she had received an excellent education. The clerk whose loquacity is unbounded, added that Mademoiselle Juliette was just turned of eighteen, and that her amiability, modesty and good sense rendered behind me was a villain, second he had cut her the idol of all who knew her. The stran ger asked to speak with the hoisier and his wife, on an affair foreign to ordinary business. He was forthwith introduced into the back

"Sir and Madam," said he, after taking a seat, "I am the Count de F. I reside, habitually, at Bordeaux. I have a fortune of eighty thousand francs a year. in landed estates. I wish to marry-and do not care a farthing whether my wife be rich or poor .-She will lead me an agreerble existence, will possess a mansion in the capitol, a chateau in the country, horses and carriages; will pass six months in the year on my estate, three months in Paris, and three months at the watering places. I have the honor to ask the hand of your daughter."

and his wife into a state of stupefaction possible to describe. Without at all noticing the effect he had produced, the stranger coolly replied:

"As regards this offer, I have only one condition to impose. You will give up trade Sell your establishment and leave the rest to

The Count's proposal was accepted, and the hosier's daughter became a countess. The shop was sold-and at this moment, the show long rows of bottles, whose contents may be healthful to the stomach, but are far from agreeable to the nostrils.

A California Trial.

A fellow named Denks, was lately tried at Yuba city, for entering a miner's tent and seizing a pag of gold dust valued at eightyfour dollars. The testimony showed that he had once been employed there, and knew exactly where the owner kept his dust; that on tent, reaching in, took the bag and then ran

Jim Buller, the principal witness, testified that he saw the man reach in, and heard him

"I put for him at once," continued the wit- for their exercise only at one's fireside. ness, "but when I cotched him, I didn't find hold of the villain's throat, and he drew a Bill's bag; but it was found afterwards, where

Counsel for the Prisoner .- How far did he git in when he took the dust? Buller .- Well, he was stoopin' over-about Counsel .- May it please your honor, the indictment isn't sustained, and I shall demand had stolen from the mail bag, and stowed The prisoner is on trial for entering a dwelling in the night time with intent to steal. The testimony is clear that he made an opening through which he protruded himself about half way, and stretching out his arms, committed the theft. -But the indictment charand the other half out?

Judge.-I shall leave the whole matter to the jury. They must judge of the law and the fact as proved. The jury brought in a verdict of "guilty" and "not guilty" as to the other half

The Judge sentenced the guilty half to two years imprisonment, leaving it to the prisoner option to have the 'not guilty" balf cut off, or take it along with him. A judgement, Night Air .- Many people are afraid of night air. Here is what Florence Nightingale says: "An extraordinary fallacy is the dread of night air. What air can we breathe at night but night air? The choice is between pure night air from within. Most people prefer the latter-an unaccountable preference. What will they say if it is proved to be true that fully one-half of all the diseases we suffer from are occasioned by persons sleeping with their windows shut? An open window most nights in the year can never he would doubtless have vomited himself to hurt any one. In great cities night air is often the best and purest air to be found in A cockney conducted two ladies to the the twenty-four hours. I could better underhas told me that the air in London is never so good as after ten o'clock at night."

> -John, you seem to gain flesh every day; an occupant. pound of butter."

The Atmosphere.

The atmosphere rises above us, with its cathedral dome arching towards the heavens, of which it is the most familiar synonym and symbol. It floats around us like the grand object which the spostle John saw in his vision, "a sea of glass like unto crystal."-So massive is it, that when it begins to stir. it tosses about great ships like playthings, and sweeps cities and forests like snow flakes Vichy water. Now, how came the hoiser to to destruction before it. And yet it is so noshut up his shop? You shall hear. One day ble, that we have lived years in it before we a gentleman between thirty and forty years can be persuaded that it exists at all; -- and of age, (which, in France, is considered the the great bulk of mankind never realized the truths that are bathed in an ocean of air. Its dressed, refined in appearance, but bearing a weight is so enormous that iron shivers before it like glass; yet a soap bubble sails found ty lived in the mail bag! I felt again to make a small purchase. While waiting to through it with impunity, and the thinest inters lavishly to all senses. We touch it not but it touches us. Its warm south winds bring back color to the face of the invalid; its cool west winds refresh the fevered brow, and make the blood mantle in our cheeks, even its northern blasts brace into new vigor the hardened children of our rugged clime. The eye is indebted to it for all the magnificence of sunshine, the full brightness of midday, the chastening radiance of the gleaming, and the clouds that cradle near the setting sun.

> Taking the Census -"Billy Bowlegs" is one of the marshals for taking the census in this county. Yesterday he was seen in the country by a citizen of the city, trudging through the mud with a big blank book under his arm, and a terrible red face. He was asked how he got along. He answered "per spiringly." He said the people did not seem to understand the nature of the service. The Dutch nix cum arouse, would not answer his questions, said there had been a Yankee census taker along some time ago and took all the senses they had (meaning the assessor.) In families of grown up girls, he had the sweetest times. They would not give him their ages to be printed in books, not they Billy had to say something funny, when the old maids would smile, and he would get a glimpse at their teeth and guess at their age.

Home Affections.

The heart has affections that never die .--The rough rubs of the world cannot obliterate them. They are the memories of homeonly home .- There is the old tree under which the light hearted boy has swung many a day; yonder is the river in which he learned to swim; there is a house in which he knew a parent's protection-nay, there is the room in which he romped with brother and sister. stockings, and striped cravats, is occupied by long since laid in the yard in which he must soon be gathered, overshadowed by you old church, whither with a joyous troop like himself, he had often followed his parents to worship, and near the good old man who ministered at the altar. Even the very school house, associated in youthful days with thoughts and tasks, now comes to bring pleasant remembrances of many occasions that called forth some generous exhibition of noble traits of human nature. There is where he learned to feel some of his first emotions. the night of October 18th, he cut a slit in the | There, perchance, he first mot the being who, by her love and tenderness in life has made a home for himself happier, than that which his childhood has known. There are certain feelings of humanity-and those, too among the best-that can find no appropriate place

A City lass .- Two young ladies of the city were lately spending the sum her in northeast-ern New York. During their visit they took several long rides with the deaughter of their host about the courary On one of those occasions as they had been travelling some distance, and a trough of running water slood invitingly by the roadside-they concluded to give the pony a drink. One of the city lady's agreed to get out and arrange matters for this purpose. The others remained in the carriage and deeply engaged in conversation, for some time paid no attention to the proceedings of their companion. When, at length, surprised by the long delay they turned to ascertain the cause, they discovered her endeavoring to unbuckle the crut per, (the name of the strap which passes round the horse's tail) In amazement they inquired, "What in the world are you doing that for?" She varvely replied, "Why, I'm unbuckling this strap to let the horse's head down so he can drink!"

-Simplicity of style is safe for all. For those whose education has been much limited, it is the only safety, for if they will use an abundance of fine words, they must either use them in combination already familiar. and therefore generally unimpressive-or, if they attempt an original application, they must often hazard a wrong one.

-A preacher whose text led him to speak of the prophet Jonah, among other things,

"I am of the opinion that Jonah was a cleanly old man, neither smoking nor chewing, from the fact that the fish retained him so long in his stomach. If the fish had swallowed the house wherein we are worshipping,

.- The red, white and blue-the red cheeks, white teeth, and blue eyes of a lovely girlare as good a flag as a you battle of life need fight for.

-The bare thought of a bullet will run a timid man, but we, without being bold, have run hundreds of bullets.

- Fayette county (Pa.) jail is now without

-If you would learn how to bow, watch of wealth.