

AGRICULTURE

Go to the Fairs.

[From the American Agriculturist.]
The fair season has lately opened, when the treasures of the field and orchard, the garden, the house, the sty and the stable are temptingly displayed under white tents, and in rough board stalls. The very name of fair calls up long loaded tables of luscious fruit, purple clusters of the vine, downy peaches, plums blushing through the powdered bloom, heaps of yellow pears and crimson apples, great rows of bags stuffed with premium wheat and rye, pens of sleek porkers and patient sheep, stalls of neighing steeds and smooth ribbed cattle, and last, but not least, acres of good natured men, women and children, mostly hailing from the farm, and given up to the enjoyment of the festival day.

We are sorry to learn that some of the fairs will be altogether omitted this year, and that in many others, prudence will compel the absence of all the bovine tribes. Stately Durhams, comely Devons, and homely Alderneys will no more occupy the stalls. The pulmonary murrain is a reality in many of our districts, and it is doubtless the part of wisdom to prevent all unnecessary herding of cattle.

But without this special attraction of our Autumn shows, they are well worth attending. We consider them worth far more than they cost, as a holiday for farmers. As a class we are overworked and have fewer opportunities for social gatherings and enjoyment than other people. The farm, as a rule is short handed, having at least three times as much work on hand as can be done by the present laboring force, and there never seems to come a day of relaxation. The boys cannot go a fishing until planting is over, and then they must take a rainy afternoon. Then hoeing is pressing, and the mowing presses still harder, and the scythes are hardly put up for the summer before the fairs are announced. It is meet after the fatigues of the summer work are over, that all the sons and daughters of the farm should have a grand rally, and look at each other's faces, as well as at the products of the soil. Old ties of friendship are strengthened, and new acquaintances mutually pleasant and profitable are formed. The day is a bright spot in the circle, and a thousand pleasant memories cluster around it.

But there is direct utility, as well as social enjoyment, in these occasions. It is impossible that the industry of a whole country should be fully represented without furnishing many profitable suggestions to every intelligent farmer. Our farms are by no means so well stocked with tools and the best breed of animals, that there is not room for some kind of improvement on almost any farm. Every one who goes with a disposition to learn, will find something new, some invention saving labor, or some suggestions that will make present processes of labor more productive. The mind will receive a large accession of pabulum for future digestion, and the facts of a day will furnish thoughts for a year.

We say then go to the fairs and take up the wife and children, and have a real good time once in a year. Send up beforehand, the best products of the farm if possible, but by all means go yourself, note book in hand, and use your eyes and pencil when you get there.

George H. Chase, an enterprising young farmer of Union Springs, N. Y., has tried an experiment the present season with salt, ashes, and lime on wheat. An acre each was selected for three experiments. About two barrels of salt were applied to one, two horse loads of ashes to a second, and a hundred bushels of lime to the third acre. The result has not been measured as yet, but the effect of each are very visible. The salt proved least useful; the ashes more so, and the lime most so of all. The line of superiority marking the boundaries of the limed portion was as distinct as a line fence. The increase of the crop by liming, over the portions not dressed with anything is at least ten bushels per acre. The question occurs whether a small quantity of lime would not have produced an equal result. This will receive the test of another trial. The land is of a strong or clayey loam; and what is worthy of notice, is in the midst of a lime stone region, where the country is underlaid by the rocks of the corniferous limestone, which is abundantly scattered over the surface. But where acids do not show carbonate of lime in the surface soil.—Country Gentleman.

Curing Cows.

A correspondent at Richmond sends us the following:
"I wish you would say to your readers that colic, in one ounce doses will cure a cow of almost any disease. At least let me give my experience. I have two fine valuable cows, they have, it seems to me, some of the worst diseases that prevail—black tongue, murrain, dry murrain, &c.—and when I saw they were dying, I mixed one ounce of colic in dry corn meal, which they would lick up, and it has never failed to cure."
Yours truly,
G. S. P.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanitized by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.
The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case.
Innocuous in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:
In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Inipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Menses irregular, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from Chronic complaints one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. The long and tedious process of having been forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very singular instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguinous exhaustion, neuralgic twinges, and all complications of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to Medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating, and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative or inducing a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them. In Dyspepsia innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant constipation, and in advanced and unhealed Diarrhoea, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed emaciation and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicates Insipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.
In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.
The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both Chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.
In Intermittent fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

It is recently has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.
Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, &c., should be addressed to

INVENTOR OF MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MOISE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent thirty years among the Indians of our Western Country—and has discovered that the Indian Root Pills were the cause of the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid. When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood becomes thick, corrupted, and stagnates, thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health, we are deprived of, and if nature be not assisted in throwing out the corrupt humor, the blood will become choked and cease to flow. How important then that we should know the various passages of the body free and open. How pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants which grow in the mountains of the West, in Nature's Garden, for the health and cure of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sulfuric, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists nature in throwing out the finer parts of the blood which is the cause of all impurities, and the rest of the blood is purified, and the impurities are discharged in any other way. The form is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills which engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity are carried off by the other outlets, and thus take up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the system, but become united with the blood, for they go to every part, and completely purify the system, and take away all impurities, and the life of the body, which is the blood, is thereby purified; consequently all sickness in pain is driven from the system, for they remain in the body until the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed with sick, and why so many die, is because they do not know how to live, will pass to the different parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence a large quantity of food and other matter is piled up, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupt matter, thus producing a disagreeable fermentation, and causing sickness, and the blood, which is the life of the body, is thereby corrupted, and the matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves since upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to health, and have been used by thousands who have been racked with rheumatism, neuralgia, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as we were, within a step of the silent grave, and stand ready to testify that they would have been happy had they known of the existence of this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two boxes have been taken, they were astonished, and almost surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood. Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify that disease—that deadly enemy—take its flight, and the flush of youth and seem to again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cheer and brighten your eyes.
