1. To prevent horses and cattle from jumping. Keep good fences around fields of good pasture.

2 How to sleep soundly at night Do a hard day's work at some honest manuel labor, go to bed early, and always with a consciousness of having done right during the day Warranted.

3. To cure dyspepsia. Take a new are, put white hickery handle in it. bore a halfinch hole in the top of the handle, fill the hole with gum camphor. and seal it up. Then take the axe and cut cordwood at fifty cents a cord, (boarding yourself) until the heat of the handle dissolves and absorbs the camphor.

N. B. It will do just as well these times to take a maul and split rails, at the same price per hundred, provided the maul be a heavy bickory one. Tin mauls will not effect a cure. 4. To prevent dogs from killing sheep. If the dogs are good for anything, give them plenty of bread and meat to eat at home-if good for nothing, give them less meat with one grain of strychnine in it

5. To prevent wives from scolding -Provide them with plenty of good wood and water -plenty in the pantry and kitchen-always wear a cheerful countenance, and speak pleasantly yourself.

The Compost Heap.

Begin with the prrival of the favorable weather to gather material for compost. Don't let a particle of matter, capable of being converted into feed for plants, slip through your fingers Manure is the favorable instrumentality of whose mystic and occult operations he diversifieth the surface of the earth with the smiling beauties of vegetation, and causes the waste places thereof to bloom, and the desert to blossom as the rose.

"Give me a sufficiency of manure," said an elderly farmer to us, recently, "and I can work out a living in the country, and from spy soil."

The merchant must have capital, the mechanic must have instruction, materials and tools, and the farmer, whose heritage is the broad fields and fertil valleys of his "mother earth," must have manure.

It therefore behooves every one to be attentive to this grand point, and to gather up the means of enriching and rendering fruitful the soil, the products of which sustains his life. No one who has not made the experiment, will be able easily to appreciate the importance of attending practically and habitually to the rule thus laid down. Let every one, therefore, be sedulous in his efforts, and our word for it, he will never have occasion to deprecate the results.

Innoxious in all malladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhaa, Dysentery, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumaprocedure in obtaining one, with inteferences, tism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples ou the Face,

In cases of General Debility, whether the re-Administer on an Estate, with the law and the sult of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from Chronic complaints one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotton in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as vast amount of property, and vexatious litiga. if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to Medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating, and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent persing the local tendency which forms them. In Dyspepsia innumerable as are its causes, single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant costiveness. In unchecked Diarrhoea, even when advanced to Dysentary, confirmed emaciating and apparently malignent, the effects have been equally lecisive and astonishing. In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength. lebiliating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicates Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances. In Scrofulous Tuberculsis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of idione, without any of their well known liabillities. The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the caces peculiarly affecting them. In Rheumatism, both Chronic and inflamatory -in the latter, however, more decidedly-it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stifness of the joints and muscles. In Intermittent fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and useulness

A New Race of Cattle.

The Nord publishes the following: "M. Dutrone, one of the most distinguished cattle breeders of France, has succeeded, after twenty years' trial, in producing a bovine race without horns, which carried the first prize at the great cattle show of Poissyn, in 1854. A cow of this species, which had been raised on the farm of the King of Belgium, at Lacken, near Brussels, was killed lately in the latter town, in presence of the professors of the veterinary school and the surveyors of the public elaughter-house. The report of these gentlemen confirms the fact that the quantity both of suct and meat was much more considerable than that of the ordinary cattle. M. Dutrone ordered that one half the cow be sent to Ghent; to be sold for the benefit of the much suffering poor of that
