Salting Beef for Summer Use.

From the New England Farmer, whose editor has, in answer to inquiries gathered them from various sources, we copy the following modes of salting beef for summer

Sixteen qts. of salt, and 4 ounces of saltpeter, for each 100 pounds.

Rub the pieces all over with salt, and pack it in edgeways, and after a layer is completed take an axe or maul and pound down solid Theu sprinkle on a little saltpeter and fill up all the openings with salt, and so on until the cask is full. Those who do not like the saitpetre may omit it without injury to the meat.

Mr. A. Wenzer, who communicated this receipe to the Albany Cultivator, says he has salted his beef in this way for fifteen years; that it needs no soaking before boiling, and will be tender and sweet the year round. By this way of salting, it makes its own brine, and never want repacking, nor the brine scalding. If the brine should not cover it in the spring, sufficient may be added for that

Take a barrel and turn it up over an old pan or kittle, and burn cobs or hard wood for seven or eight days, keeping water on the head of the barrel to prevent its drying.

Make a pickle as follows:

Six oz. of saltpeter, 2 qts. of molasses, 3 gallons of water for each one hundred pounds

Boil and skim the pickle thus prepared .-Pack the ham in the barrels, and when the pickle is cold pour it on to the meat, and in four weeks it will be excellent; very tender and well spooked.

Another -Make a pickle as follows:

Five pints of molasses, 5 oz. of saltpetre, and two gailons of water, for each hundred pounds of beef or bam.

Boil these over a gentle fire, and skim off the skum as it rises. Pack hams with the shank end downwards, and when the pickle is cool pour it over them or the beef. They will require to lay in the pickle from two to six weeks, according to the size of the piece and state of the weather -as they require to lay in the pickle longer if the weather is very

A Cure for Scratches.

Take sugar of lead and hog's lard, and make a salve. Wash off the legs of the horse clean, and when perfectly dry, rub in the salve. Keep the horse out of the mud for ; few days, using the salve occasionally, and it will effect a cure. It appears to me absurd, to think of putting anything down the throat of a horse to cure scratches. Only think of it men; if you were to go in the mud nearly knee deep, without boots or stockings, and let the mud dry on your legs at night, and continue so day after day, don't you think you would soon have the fever in your legs and feet, and scratches too? Think, man, think! Put yourself (in your mind's eye) in the place of the badly used brutes, and you will almost slways do what is right by them.

Before I got my yards made perfectly, I was greatly troubled with the scratches in the legs of my cattle in soft weather, in fall or early in winter. I have had a dozen or more at once, with swelled legs and scratches a hot fever and greatly lame. Washing and fomenting the legs with warm water, using the sugar of lead and lard salve, and keeping in a dry place soon effected a cure. Wash off the mud from the horse's legs, when he comes in the stable, never let it dry on, and a fig for scratches. Prevention is better than

Benefit of Deep Plowing.

A correspondent of the Indiana Farmer gives the following as the result of his experience in the cultivation of corn by deep plowing. He says:

"I have seen in some of the back numbers of the Farmer, communications from some of your correspondents in regard to deep plowing. They seem to think it is injurious; or at least not beneficial I will give my experience in regard to the matter Some eight ficient inducement for persons to purchase, withyears ago, when I purchased the farm I live on, although it was a good corn year. I do To be given to the purchasers. For full partinot think it would have averaged more than 25 bushels per acre. When I came in possession of it, I took my plough, and two stout 1 cash horses, and sometimes three, I commenced turning up the soil from nine to ten inches deep. And although I could see from the actions of some of my neighbors, they thought if I did not come on the town I would ruin my farm-yet I still persevered, and on the same ground where there was 25 bushels of corn when I purchased it, I raised without any manure (although I do not disbelieve in manureing) one hundred and seventy bushels per acre. This is my experience in deep

Beets for Poultry .- An Euglish farmer says: "I have used the root of the garden OFFERS to the Merchants and others buying TIN, COPPER OR SHEET IRON WARE, beet (red) as food for poultry for several years sometimes in the raw state, a root being thrown down in the poultry yard; but generally in the cooked state, mixed with the scraps of meals, meets, potatoes, bread, eet, and in this case the beet is invariably picked out by my poultry with the greatest avidity. I find it has increased the health of the fowls in every instance I may also say it conduces to an increase in eggs, as also to an improvement in their color, as also it improves them

DR MOTT'S CHALY BEATE RATIVE PILLS IRON.

An aperient and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctified by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable

Innoxious in all malladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz: In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Duspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoa, Dysentery, cipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis.

Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis,

Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples ou the Face, In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from Chronic complaints one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotton in their own neighborhoods. have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exbaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to Medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overbeating, and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia innumerable as are its causes, single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant costireness. In unchecked Diarrhæs, even when advanced to Dysentary, confirmed emaciating and apparently malignent, the effects have been equally In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debiliating cough, and remittent bectic, which generally indicates Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculsis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of idione, without any of their well known liabillities. The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the caces peculiarly affecting them. In Rheumatism, both Chronic and inflamatory -in the latter, however, more decidedly-it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stifness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and use-

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole his tory of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy and fully restorative effects. Good appetitee, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediate-
