Wolfe's Pure (ognac Brandy. Wolfe's Pure Maderia, Sherry & Port Wine. Wolfe's Pure Jamalea and St. Cro x Rum. Wolfe's Pure scotch and Irish Whiskey. ALL IN BOTTLES.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizenof the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, imported by Udolpho Wolfe, of New York, whose name is familia- in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated Schiedam Schnapps. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the City of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprictor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. chand -- We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We in not intend to give an elaborate tion of this merchant's extensive business, although it will repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udol. pho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thir y thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten. thousand cases-Vintages of 1886 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wise, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and is hopes to merit, and trusts he will coverva St. Co ix Rum, some very old and equal to any bers catronage from those in want of articles in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wine, &c., in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and hone in less than two years he may be equa successful with his Brandies and Wines. MISCELLANEOUS. The Fifty Dollar Bill -- A Tale for

BY MRS. GEORGE WASHINGTON WYLLYS.

The Sanuary sun streamed cheerfully in across the crimson carpet of the snug little room-the fire glowed redly in the grate, and the canary, whose cage hung in the window, trilled and warbled as joyously as if he was in the land of einnomou and spice cloves, instead of the clime of snow and wind. And Mr. Wayne, as he buttoned up his overcoat and fitter on his gloves, preparatory to facing the know outer air. glanced round, very much as though he would prefer staying with the fire and the canary bird. Just as he resolutely put on his fur cap the door opened and his wife came in-one of those bright-eyed rosy-cheeked little women, whom it is very easy to spoil, and very difficult to control. The crimson merino dress she wore was the prettiest possible contrast to her peach blossom cheeks, and the white lace frills at her throat and wrists were more becoming than the costliest Freuch embroidery could have been, while her tiny black silk apron, all ruffles and lace, and coquettish pockets, might have been worn for use, but certainly had rather an ornamental effect 1

'Are you off already, Charlie ?'

Mr Wayne nodded. 'To be sure, sues These are times when a man can't watch his business tor closely '

Before you go, I want some money,' said the lady, reaching up to arrange her hus band's crayat, with rather a conscience stricken look.

'Money ! what for ?'

'Mrs. Arnold wishes me to go shopping with her.'

'But you don't need to buy anything. 'I know that,' said Mrs. Wayne pettishly,

His look of amazement-almost horror-checked her for a moment, but she went on and related the whole story. Can you pardon my folly ? she asked. and thick enough for three chariots to drive tearfully. He rose and walked one or twice across the floor with a disturbed air

"I shall have to do what I never did before -ask the landlord to wait a month for his rent,' he said, with grave annovance.

Oh, Charles, if I had only left that money at home !' faltered Mrs Wayne.

'Mattie,' said her husband, sutting down beside her, and taking the little hand that trembled so violently, 'I thought how it wo'd be when you wanted the money this morning. - 000 men in building. to make a show. Never be ashamed of an empty purse, my dear, when you have no need for a full one This is a hard lesson for you, but I shall not think the fifty dollars thrown away if it teaches you prudence -Hereafter, let us never allude to it again !'

'I shall not forget it. Charles ' said Mattie, her bright eyes shining through mist, like a rainbow.

She did not-and the fitty dollars was the best investment Charles Wayne ever made.

Predictions for the Year 1861.

The year 1861 will be very eventful one to every maiden who gets married.

Throughout the whole course of the year whenever the moon waves the nights will grow dark.

If daudies wear their beards, there will be less work for barbers. He who wears his mustauche will have something to succee at.

Whoever is in love this year will think his mistress on ongel. Whoever gets married will find out whether it is true.

He that loses his hair this year will grow bald.

He that loses his wife will become a widower

Coal in Utah .- According to the Salt Lake correspondent of the New York Times, there is no doubt that coal exists in large quantities in the great basin of Utah. On the Weber river, a tributary of Great Sals Lake, from the western slope of the Washach range, coal is now regularly mined, and selling at the pits for $5 per ton, though the price in Sait Lake City is $25, on account of the expense of transportation. Should this coal prove to be of good quality, one great obstucle in the way of a Pacific Railroad will be removed -- viz : a scarcity of fuel for locomotives. Wood is extremely scarce on the plains on this side of the Rocky Mountains, while in the great basin there is even less .---

LADIES' CHOICE !

FRIDLEY & CORNMAN'S SELF SEALING AND SELF-TESTING, AIR-TIGHT, PREMIUM FRUIT JARS & CANS! These Jars and Cans being perfectly simple in their arrangement and requiring no cement in order to make them air-tight, any one of ordinary judgment can hermetically seal them by simply screwing the cap down tightiy after the fruit has been put in hot.

Besides their simplicity and ease of adjustment and the impossibility of stoppers blowing out. &c., the greatest advantage is that you can at any time see the condition of your fruit by simply looking at the top of the cover. If the gum gasget is concave the fruit is good; if convex it is geing to spoil, but will always show itself in time to be saved.

The absence of this test has ever been a matter of anxiety. and frequently of serious loss to those put ing up Fruit or Vegetables. These are advantages which no other Fruit but I want a little money, nevertheless, not to spend, but to carry. What would Mrs. Arnold think if I went shopping with an empty purse ?"

Mr. Wayne whistled ominously, and then shook his head, as he sounded the depths of his pocket.

"Lake it Mattie! I never saw anything so cheap,' whispered Mrs. Acnold

'But I really do not need it at present.' hesitated Mrs Wayne.

'You can lay it aside until you do, ma'am,' persisted the clerk. That is the great advantage of these goods -- they never go out of fashion Think of it-a shawl like this for the lady, now in the last stage of terror. 'go twenty dollars ! 'Mattie, do look at these silks ." exclaimed another lady, who had just recognized Mrs. Wayne, 'did you ever see anything with such a lustre, and so cheap !'

Mrs. Wayne's eyes sparkled with true femiome rapture, as she glanced at the shining folds, and from that moment she was a lost woman, as far as the change from the fifty dollar bill went !

Is it fair to blame her ! Let those cast the first store who do not know how strong is the influence of crowded emporiums, cheap goods, and advising friends, whose own wealth makes them inconsiderate of their neighbors' less lengthy purses.

.What makes you look so grave, Mattie? asked Mrs- Aroold on their way bome.

'Dia i lood grave ? I was only thinking! Only thicking-only recalling the folly and ext avagance of which she had been guilty ; of remorse.

A Model -A friend of ours is in the habit of visiting a very charming young lady about three times a week -- perhaps oftener. It is side, and looked thoughtfully at it. Had she not positively known there is an engagement. but the gentleman is so completely domesticated, that he enters the house without knocking, and if his lady-love is not in the parlor, does not scruple to go up stairs in search of her portemonaie, and rau up stairs to dress- her. The other day he went through half a dozen rooms without seeing anybody, and at last came to the fair one's own chamber, but found the door locked.

'Are you in there, Mary?' inquired he. with a tender voice.

Bless my heart, Charles is it you! go away, you scamp, you cao't get in ?' cried the lady, in great trepidation

A Monster Printing Press .- The Scientific American thus describes a monster steam press, upon which Moses S. Brach, who has just retired from the New York San, is at work :

"He is even now just completing the construction of a monster steam press, by which the sheets are cut from rolls, dampened, and printed on both sides at the rate of forty thousand impressions per hour, folded up, counted and delivered from the machine, ready for the carrier and the mail. This mathine is as high as a common two-storied dwelling house, and it will, when finished, constitute a most extraordinary specimen of mechanical skill and ingenuity

Se While a noisy Secessionist was making himselt offensive a day or two since, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, by the utterance of treasonable sentiments, a quiet gentleman remarked to him in a quiet manper, and in the presence of guests who filled the large distug hall :

'Sir, I don't know who you are, nor where you come from ; but if you were aboard my vessel, and attering such sentiments. I would hang you to the yard arm in five minutes ?" The traiter rose after a little while and inquired of a bystander who that gentleman
