What a volcano Can Do.

Cotopaxi, in 1738 threw its fiery rockets 3,- 0 feet above its crater, while in 1744 the ing mass, struggling for an outlet, roared that its awful voice was heard at a distance more than 600 miles. In 1797 the crater Tunguaragua, one of the great peaks of the es, flung out torrents of mud, which dam- d up rivers opened new lakes, and in va- of a thousand feet wide made de- ds of six hundred feet deep. The stream m Vesuvius, which in 1737 passed through re del Greco, containing 33,600,000 cub- et of solid matter; and in 1794, when re del Greco was destroyed a second time, mass of lava amounted to 45,000,000 cu- feet. In 1676, Etna poured forth a flood ich covered eighty four square miles of face, and measured nearly 100,000,000 ic feet. On this occasion the sand and re formed the Monte Rossi, near Nicolosi ne two miles in circumference and 4,000 high. The stream thrown by Etna out 1810 was in motion, at the rate of a yard day, for nine months after the eruption; it is on record that the lava of the same ntain, after a terrible eruption, were not ongly cooled and consolidated ten years r the event. In the eruption of Vesuvi- A. D. 1770, the scoriæ and ashes vomi- forth far exceeded the bulk of the moun- while in 1660, Etna, disdorged more n twenty times its own mass. Vesuvius thrown its ashes as far as Constantinople, ia, and Egypt; it hurled stones eighty nds in weight, to Pompeii, a distance of miles, while similar masses were tossed 000 feet above its summit.—Cotopaxi has ted a block of 100 cubic yards in e a distance of nine miles, and Sumdawa 815, during the most terrible eruption ecord, sent its ashes as far as Java, a of three hundred miles of surface, ing a population of 12,000 souls only escaped.—Recreative Science.

Shocking Exposure of two School Children.

The Philadelphia papers give an account a most heart rending exposure to the cold, suffering from want, of two little boys, Charles Hill, and Frederick Needlow, public school house in that city. The nal says—

Some older boys had induced them to play and seek on Monday afternoon, after session, and in hiding, the little fellows themselves locked in a privy belonging the school, which was seldom used, and the door was shut with the spring latch children inside could not open it, and the all went away, not thinking who was le. The school was closed, and the little left there to freeze during the long, drea- and stormy night. The former was years, and the latter seven years of age. finally cried themselves drowsy, and down in the horrid place to sleep, only, ever, to awake and find themselves in rison, hungry and frozen. The parents e children were, as may be imagined, st distracted; they had the police tele- in operation nearly all night, but no ti- of their dear ones were received. On day morning, about nine o'clock, little y heard one of the teachers moving in upper room. He made what noise he ld, and the young lady teacher came to relief and rescued the boys from death. n examination, the physician declared Charles Hill was so badly frozen that he ld survive. Frederick Needlow may lose his feet are badly frozen, and will be amputated.

Subscriptions are now being received in a ratio unparalleled with that of any previous year.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Any person can become a member by subscribing three dollars, for which sum they will receive

1st.—The large and superb steel engraving, 30x38 inches, entitled, comprising valuable paintings, marbles, parians, cameos, &c., forming a truly national benefit.

The superb Engraving, which every subscriber will receive, entitled, "Falstaff Mustering his Recruits," is one of the most beautiful and popular engravings ever issued in this country. It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving, in Justice Shallow's office, the recruits which have been gathered for his "ragged regiment." It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.

The engraving is sent to any part of the country by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of the 31st of January, 1861, at which time the books will close and the premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15, are entitled to five memberships and to one extra engraving for their trouble.

Subscriptions from California, the Canadas, and all Foreign Countries, must be $3,50 instead of $3, in order to defray extra postage, etc.
