EASLY, of Johnstown. H. C. DEVINE, of Ebensburg. POOR HOUSE DIRECTOR. GEORGE DELANY, of Allegheny. AUDITOR 3 YEARS. E. R. DONNEGAN, of Clearfield Tp. AUDITOR 1 YEAR. JOHN S. RHEY, of Ebensburg.

The Ticket.

We sit down to write this article, in a better humor with "all the world and the rest of mankind," than we have been for years. Thank God, the Democracy of Cambria are a unit once more. The dead past has buried its dead, and the friends of the Union and Constitution, in the Mountain county, are arrayed, like a band of brothers, beneath that time-honored and inviolable banner, under which they so often, in days gone by, fought and triumphed.

The ticket is composed of the very best men in our county. It is true that, in every case, our first choice was not nominated. But that amounts to nothing. We go into the campaign with no friends to reward, no enemies to punish; and during the contest we will know nothing but the ticket—the whole ticket.

The nominee for Assembly is Cyrus L. Pershing, Esq., of Johnstown. He is no stranger to the people of Cambria. They know him well, and will, we are certain, whether Democrats or Republicans, admit that he is honest and capable of filling the office with more than ordinary ability. He has never been a demagogue or factionist, and as a man and politician, is not only pure but above suspicion.

John Buck, of Carroll tp., our nominee for Sheriff, is a man whom it is impossible to know and not esteem. Strict and unbending integrity characterizes his every action, while remarkable energy is displayed in pushing forward his private business. This is the best evidence we can have that he will make an excellent officer. His competitors for the nomination were able and good men, and if either of them had been nominated, it would have afforded us much pleasure to labor for his election.

For Treasurer, we have Thomas Callin of Johnstown. A better nomination could not have been made. He will, if elected, make an excellent officer. Around him the Democracy of Cambria can to a man rally. Go to work, Democrats, and labor zealously to secure his success.

Our nominees for Associate Judges are good men and true. G. W. Easly, Esq., has filled the office during the last five years with more than ordinary ability. He is emphatically a common sense man, and takes a common sense view of all questions submitted to him for his decision. He is more than this—he is a brave man and pure patriot. At the breaking out of the present unfortunate civil war, he was among the first to offer his services to the Government, as a citizen soldier, to assist in putting down armed rebellion. He is the Captain of one of the Volunteer Companies from Johnstown, now in the United States army, and is among the bravest of the many brave sons of Cambria, who are now offering their bosoms to the shafts of battle, in defence of the Union and the Constitution.

H. C. Devine, his colleague on the ticket, is equally worthy of the united support of the party. He has always been a working Democrat. Having been associated with him for nearly half a year in editing this paper, we of course know him "like a book," and can truly say that we do not think there is a better man or Democrat in the county. We announce his nomination with emotions of sincere pleasure.

George Delany, of Allegheny township, is the nominee for Poor House Director. He is an upright man, and well qualified for the office. Let him receive the support of us all. Edward A. Donnegan, of Clearfield, our nominee for Auditor, is one of the most promising young men in our county. We know him to be a sincere Democrat, and will, with pleasure, labor zealously to secure his election.

The Ticket is a good one, but strange to say, the best man on it comes last. John S. Rhey, Esq., was nominated by acclamation for the office of Auditor for one year, made vacant by the resignation of E. F. Lytle, Esq. On the resignation of Mr Lytle in last December, the Court appointed Mr Rhey, to fill the office. Of course he did not solicit the nomination from the convention. It was intended merely as a compliment to one of the brightest intellects, and best Democrat in the State.

And now, Democrats of Cambria, your delegates have faithfully performed their duty. Are you ready to perform yours with equal fidelity, on the second Tuesday of next October? Are you willing to sacrifice all your private grievances on the altar of your country? We think we can confidently answer for you. In this awful moment of our country's travail, you are determined to keep the standard of Democracy floating in triumph on these grand old Allegheny hills. The Mountains have ever been the home of Liberty; and in the present war between the friends and enemies of the Constitution, the Mountaineers of Cambria have not marred their proud record of the past. The call of their country was to them even as the voice of God.

They were the very first to offer their services to the Government as volunteers. More than 700 of the citizens of this county, are now in the tented field and at least two thirds of them are Democrats. What better evidence could the Mountaineers afford to the world, that they love their country and are ready to pour forth their hearts' blood to maintain it. Here, at the darkest moment of the struggle, the voice of Democratic patriots was heard exhorting our country to be of good cheer, and to hurl defiance at her foes. Let us be equally steadfast during the rest of the civil strife. Let us who remain at home, do our duty, by laboring for the triumph of the eternal principles of right, and the success of the Democratic party; the party that has always carried the flag and kept step to the music of the Union. In the deluge, the Ark first found a resting place on the mountain top, amidst the wild waste of waters, and we feel confident, that in this unnatural war, however high the waves of disunion may rise, the Ark of our country will, at least, find a resting place on these Allegheny hills; and here American Liberty will fall at last, if fall she must, amidst the proudest monuments of her own glory, and on the very spot of her origin.

After the fifth ballot, the President announced that C. L. Pershing, Esq., of Johnstown, was duly nominated. The nomination of Mr. Pershing was made unanimous amidst enthusiastic demonstrations of applause; the delegates rising from their seats and cheering. The Convention then, on motion, proceeded to place in nomination a candidate for Sheriff. Mr. Bearer nominated John Buck; Mr. Egan Patrick Bracken; Mr. Fenlon James Myers; Mr. Nagle George Rutledge. The Convention then proceeded to ballot with the following result:

Mr. Fenlon then nominated Edward A. Donnegan, stating that so far the Convention had made a fair distribution of the offices, and as "old Clearfield" was not represented on the ticket, he hoped the Convention would nominate Mr. Donnegan, whereupon Mr. Donnegan was nominated by acclamation.

John S. Rhey, was nominated for Auditor by acclamation, to fill the unexpired term of E. F. Lytle. P. S. CAMP WRIGHT, July 9th, 1861. Friend Murray:—Having a few spare moments I will employ them in giving a brief narrative of the events which have transpired in Camp Wright during the last few days. On Tuesday last we with nine other companies were formed into a regiment. This regiment is the eleventh of the Pennsylvania reserve. The election of field officers took place the same day, resulting as follows; Col. Gallaher of Westmoreland county, Lieut.-Col. James R. Porter of Indiana, and Major Jackson. (I do not remember what county Major Jackson hails from.) These officers have the confidence of those under their command.

The 4th was celebrated with due honor to the day our independence was declared. The brass six pounder, noticed by one of your former correspondents, was fired thirty-four times besides numerous discharges of musketry and other shooting irons of smaller calibre. Two of the regiments in camp were marched out at four o'clock, to a grove near the camp, where the Declaration of Independence was read by Lieut.-Colonel Grant of the Erie regiment; an able and eloquent address was delivered by Lieut. D. S. Porter of the Indiana National Guards; the regiments were then marched to dress parade, and dismissed. Among the hosts of visitors who were in camp during the day, were present many of our friends from Ebensburg, quite a number of whom were ladies. Of course they received a hearty welcome from all the boys, particularly the ladies.

We were visited on last Wednesday by A. A. Barker, Esq., who presented to the company the following useful articles, viz: $5 in Postage Stamps, 20 lbs. of Tobacco, and the lemonade for each member. This is but one of the many favors Mr. Barker has done for the Cambria Guards.

I should have stated before that our position in the regiment is on the extreme right, Co. A. The members of the "Guards" were unanimous in desiring to get Co. A., before they received it, and as a natural consequence all were jubilant when Capt. Litzinger announced that we held the first post of honor. All the Companies in the 11th have been ordered to fill up to 101 men. Capt. Litzinger left for the Mountain, July 5th, to recruit men to fill our ranks to the necessary complement. I must close for want of time to write more.

Yours in good health and excellent spirits, II

Fourth of July at the Green Meadows.

Friend Letting:—I cannot let the occasion pass without chronicling you and the rest of mankind know, that we celebrated the glorious Fourth of July, 1861, at the Green Meadows, in Susquehanna twp., in the old fashioned style. We met at the house of F. Bearer, lately occupied by Isaac Gifford, and organized by appointing D. M. Hetabach President, John Kimball and Richard Maslen Vice-Presidents, and Wm. H. Hill Secretary. Upon motion the Declaration of Independence was read by F. Bearer, after which John Kimball was loudly called for, who responded to the call by delivering a patriotic speech, amidst loud cheers. A motion was then made to have a regular box-dance, whereupon a committee of five young men were appointed to bring in the girls; said committee started on their mission and soon came back with five wagon loads of young ladies, who were all willing and able to "dance all night till broad day-light and go home with the boys in the morning." We now partook of a substantial dinner, prepared by Mrs. John Kimball, Mrs. Cyrus Frank, Mrs. Wm. H. Hill, and Mrs. F. Bearer, to all of whom our thanks are hereby given for the good things they set before us, to which we done ample justice. After dinner was over and the table cleared off, a number of patriotic toasts were given, and also three cheers for the Democrat and Sentinel, as the Democratic organ of Cambria county. Then we commenced the dance which was kept up till 10 o'clock, when the young men brought their wagons and took each young lady back to her mother's care; but before they started the ladies proposed three cheers for the Union, and declared themselves for Union—to a man.

LORETO, July 6, '61. Mr. Editor:—I am gratified to learn that the birth-day of our National Independence has been celebrated in a fit manner, at least throughout the good old Keystone State; and also that "little Cambria" was not behind her sister counties in the good work.

Although our village was very quiet during the day, owing to a number of its inhabitants attending a celebration at St. Augustine, I do assure you we made up for it in the evening. Our neighbor, Mr. John B. Myers Esq., proprietor of the Loreto House, gave a grand collation party, which, although there were but nine gentlemen and five ladies present, was truly a very pleasant party. We commenced dancing at about seven o'clock, P. M., and kept it up until eleven o'clock, enjoying ourselves well, and "Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spake again, And all went merry as a marriage-bell." Then some cakes and beer were handed around; and after the devouring of which, we resumed the dancing and done ample justice to the sweet music discoursed by Messrs. A. J. Bradley and L. Beaher, who were the violinists engaged for the occasion.

About three o'clock some of us who had been imbibing too freely, got a little boozey, and concluded to adjourn for the night. We gave three cheers for the Union and then "Went home with the girls in the morning." AMICUS.

AMERICAN CEMENT GLUE.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Johns & Crosley, New York, in another column. Their "CEMENT GLUE" will no doubt meet with a large sale, is a great saving to housekeepers, and within the reach of all. Only 25 cents per bottle, and for sale by druggists and stockkeepers generally.

CAMP WRIGHT, July 8th, 1861. FRIEND MURRAY:—The Cambria Guards now form a part of the 11th regiment P. R. C. which was organized on the 2nd instant. The regiment officers are: Col. Thomas F. Gallagher of Westmoreland Lieut.-Col. James R. Porter of Indiana, Major S. M. Jackson of Armstrong county, Adjutant, Peter A. Jons, of Fayette county.

The following is the order of the companies. Company A Cambria Guards, Captain Litzinger of Cambria county; Company B Indiana National Guards, Capt. Porter of Indiana county; Company C Dixon Guards, Captain Louden of Butler County; Company D Connoquessing Rangers, Captain Stewart of Butler County; Company E Washington Blues, Captain Nesbitt of A Indiana county; Company F Independent Blues, Captain Spear of Westmoreland county; Company G Union Volunteers, Captain Bierer of Fayette county; Company H Westmoreland Guards, Captain Kister of Westmoreland county; Company I Washington Blues (B) Captain Spires Company K Brady Guards, Captain Brady of Jefferson county. ROMEO.

It has been said that a good christian is a good thing; that is very true, and we insist that an efficient presiding officer of a deliberative body is a good thing also. If this be so, then the County Convention on last Monday, displayed remarkable wisdom in selecting W. W. Harris as their President; we mean no disparagement to Mr. Fenlon; he is our neighbor and friend, and knowing him as we do, we can say that he is a good man and a sincere Democrat; the Delegates however selected Mr. Harris as their chairman, and we must say, that in our brief experience, we do not recollect a more efficient presiding officer than Mr. Harris proved himself to be; he labored zealously to promote the union of the Party, and we trust he will have his reward hereafter.

As an original Jackson township man, we feel proud of him, and also proud of John Singer for the large vote he received for the office of commissioner, and the graceful manner in which he submitted to his defeat. He is for the whole ticket and nothing but the ticket. Hurra for Jackson township! there are not many of them but they are as true as steel, and we are proud we "got our boys" among them.

Extracts from Herace Greeley's Catechism.

Ques. What is patriotism? Ans. Contending that the war which is now being waged by the Government against the seceded states, is a war for the extermination of Slavery in this country, that peace should not be concluded until this object is fully accomplished; and that consequently it would be wrong for the Government to endeavour to suppress slave insurrections in the Southern States, if any should hereafter occur. They should be encouraged instead of discouraged.

Who are traitors? All who contend that this is a war for the preservation of the Union, and not a crusade against Slavery—in short, all who deny the correctness of any or all of the proposition contained in the answer to the first question.

Who are friends of the constitution? All the contend that President Lincoln was right, in arrogating to himself the power to suspend the privilege of the writ of Habeas Corpus throughout the United States; a plain provision of the Constitution, to the contrary notwithstanding.

WAR NEWS, AND OTHER ITEMS.

WILLIAM-PORT, MD, July 2nd.—The Federal forces are now across the Potomac, at this point, beyond a doubt.

This morning, at three o'clock, the movement was inaugurated by sending over McMiller's Rangers and three companies of the Eleventh as scouts. After crossing, they passed up a ravine opposite the town, and upon reaching the head it became necessary to countermarch around it. While this was doing, the rear rank men became excited and fired across the ravine at those ahead, who happened to be McMullin's men. Three lay down and let the fire pass over their heads. No one was hurt except the guide, Mr. Jerome Clawson, who received a ball upon one of his ribs, but it glanced off without penetrating. He did not leave his duties.

A little before four o'clock the regular crossing of the forces commenced in the following order:—Wisconsin Regiment, Twenty-third, Sixth, Twenty-first, Ninth, Sixteenth, Twenty-fourth, Twentieth, Seventh, Tenth, First, Second, Third, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Col. Thomas' Cavalry, the Philadelphia City Troop and the Rhode Island Battery which came in last night, crossed during the passage of the regiments. It is now 10 A. M., and nearly all are across with their baggage and appurtenances, and the advance has reached a point near Falling Waters, where it was expected a resistance would be afforded.

The whole crossing was effected quietly and in order. The men all waded across, the water not being more than two and a half feet deep in the deepest places. The weather was all that could be desired. The rain of last night had laid the dust and a very pleasant breeze was blowing.

About four o'clock, this morning, two men from Sharpshooters came up, having under arrest a noted Secessionist, named Stonebreaker, who has been, according to report, extensively engaged in the destruction of the dams and bridges. Two members of the City Troop, Messrs. Fossitt and Rivinus, have just come in, bearing dispatches to Captain Eddy, U. S. Quartermaster to forward musket and rifle cartridges. They report that the fight commenced about eleven o'clock to-day, and it is now half past twelve. Perkins' Battery, the City Troop and the second Cavalry were the first engaged; then the Wisconsin Regiment.—Two of McMullin's men were wounded—one through the ankle and the other through the thigh. Seven of the Wisconsin men were killed and several wounded. The number of the killed and wounded on the other side could not be ascertained.

FALLING WATERS, Va., July 23.—At four o'clock P. M., and the battle of Falling Waters is over. Three men have been killed on our side. Geo. Drake, of Company Wisconsin First Regiment, was shot in the head and expired instantly. One man killed in the Eleventh Pennsylvania Regiment, and one in Colonel Pennypacker's Cavalry. Corporal McGinley, of the 11th Pennsylvania Regiment, was shot through the foot. Wm H. of the 11th Pennsylvania Regiment, was touched from a cannon ball along the face. Attending to duty. H. S. of Company G, Wisconsin Regiment, was killed in the head. W. A. Mathews, of N. O. Wisconsin Regiment, was shot in the leg.

Jas. Morgan, Company E, Eleventh Wisconsin Regiment, and D. H. Stewart, same company, were standing together, were both wounded with one grape shot. The Color Sergeant of the same Regiment, was the first man who bravely kept the flag up after it came to reliefs him.

Lieutenant Colonel Wilson, of the 11th Wisconsin Regiment, is said to be laying in a short distance from our camp near the river. The loss of the enemy in killed and wounded must be considerable. One man was killed, and several wounded. One man carried twenty-seven dead bodies past the camp, and that they had got off all possible. He says there could not be less than fifty wounded. One man, three of their dead upon the field, and them with care after the battle.

The battle commenced a mile beyond Falling Waters at 9 o'clock this morning. The movement was sudden and without knowledge that it was at hand. Col. Perkins had rode out some distance front of his battery, and upon crossing the road, suddenly found himself in the face with two strange objects moving towards the military salute and saluted cordially with the Colonel, asking the company he belonged to? He answered, "I am C. Just then one of the men in the battery entering round the bend, exclaimed, "artillery by G—!" both turned to their horses and left. Col. Perkins then a minute the battery opened fire, and to the right and left of the road. The regiment was supporting the battery on the left of the road, and the Pennsylvania on the right. These intentions upon in position and poured in our ranks the enemy had time to fire, and they never did get formed, but fell in rills during the whole action.

This was probably done to cover the middle of the fight the Twenty-third regiment came up as cool as so many can and pitched into the chase flanking the rebels from all their places of concealment. McMullin's men lay along the road to the battery and in the woods, fighting in every man was cool and deliberate, their shots told with fearful effect. The rebels attempted to fire, but they never did get formed, but fell in rills during the whole action.

The pursuit was continued ever till it ended only ceased when the men began trotting double quick and leading in the hot sun.

The heaviest part of the action took place on the farm of a gentleman named Potts, about two miles beyond Falling Waters, within one and a half miles of Falling Waters where the army now lays. It is for half miles from here to Martinsburg, and expected that the first thing done to-morrow will be to march forward to that place.

The behavior of the Wisconsin Twenty-third, the Eleventh and the Maine, under fire is spoken of in the terms while the City Troop and Southernly behaved with most admirable coolness.
