

FREMONT AND THE BLAIRS.

The St. Louis Republican has been pouring hot shot into the Blair family, because of their efforts to remove Gen. Fremont. In last Saturday's issue of the paper, Frank Blair replies to some of the attacks alluded to; from which we quote the following extracts: "The testimony you have borne to the 'wonderful energy' of Major General Fremont in raising an army of ninety thousand men in a few months, and in the same moments holding such a line as at which you describe as extending from Cairo to Kansas City, is very honorable to the General and to you. And when you add, that this army was organized in half the time General Scott required to raise a similar force, and the line held by Fremont is much longer than that held by Scott it seems to me that nothing can be added to eulogy. But it appears to me, that your enthusiasm for General Fremont should not induce you to do injustice to another. General Lyon held every post now held by Gen. Fremont, except Paducah, and he held many others, including Springfield, not now held by Gen. Fremont, and never had more than fifteen thousand men under his command. In fact, Gen. Lyon drove the enemy entirely out of the State of Missouri, and into Arkansas, and until Gen. Fremont arrived and took command, Gen. Lyon never met with a reverse or disaster. I trust that it will not be regarded as a reflection upon Gen. Fremont to say the truth in regard to Gen. Lyon, and especially as under cover of an attack on the 'Blair family,' you have defamed the dead Lyon by saying, that 'the Blair policy brought us to the verge of ruin, even before Gen. Fremont came here.' Let me say I could properly and honorably assume the credit for the affairs in Missouri, prior to the one which Gen. Fremont arrived here, it would be my pride and glory to do so, but I know to well what is due to the fame of that brave, patriotic and self-sacrificing soldier, General Lyon, to plume myself upon his deeds or seek to appropriate what belongs to his imperishable renown. While therefore I cannot take it in good temper, that you should laugh at the idea of my being a Major General, and when indeed, if it were at all necessary, I could point you to some examples, not a great way off, which would serve to illustrate how absurd such an appointment would be; at the same time, I cannot permit you to say that affairs here 'were brought to the verge of ruin before Gen. Fremont came here,' when it is universally known that Lyon's career was, up to the time Gen. Fremont assumed command, an uninterrupted series of brilliant successes, without a reverse or disaster, and that even at this instant, it is proposed to exchange the prisoners he took for Mulligan and those we have since lost. I do not intend to derogate from the high praise you bestow on Gen. Fremont for organizing such a large army, and holding such a long line. I readily admit that Gen. Fremont has more men than Lyon had, but if Lyon had not the same ability to raise men, yet he had the knack of winning victories and taking prisoners, which after all, if not so glorious, is not altogether without merit.

Respectfully,
FRANK P. BLAIR, JR.,
Col. First Missouri Light Artillery.

FRANCE AND THE AMERICAN BLOCKADE.

The statement that the Chambers of commerce of several manufacturing cities of France had moralized the Imperial Government urging an immediate recognition of the independence of the Confederate States and the raising of the blockade, has been published. The last European mail brings copies of the London Shipping Gazette, of the 13th inst, which thus notices the rumors, "The Chambers of Commerce at Lyons, Rouen, and other places in France, have, it appears, addressed memorials to the French Government praying for the immediate recognition of the Confederate States and to raise the blockade. So far, then, it would seem that the course pursued by the Confederates with regard to their cotton is producing the desired effect. The most sagacious politicians in Europe, and indeed in America, are beginning now to regard the reconstruction of the Union as all but hopeless, and to look forward to the establishment of two if not more confederations on the Northern continent. It is under these circumstances that an appeal was made by the suffering manufacturers of France, to their Government to recognize the Southern States as an independent confederation, and to raise the blockade. We know not what view France may take of the prayers of these memorialists, but we should imagine that France will take no step in this American business except in connection with England. The question then is, would her Majesty's government consider themselves justifiable in going to war with the Federal Government (for such is the meaning of England's raising the blockade,) in order to liberate the cotton, and avert the state of things with which we are threatened during the approaching winter and spring? The alternative of war, or distress and disturbance in the manufacturing districts, is it not an agreeable one, but we fear it is one which is being rapidly forced on the consideration of the government. It might be however that the co-operation of England and France, even if carried the length of raising the blockade, would not result in hostilities. The small fleet at the disposal of the Federal Government would not be able to cope with the combined forces of England and France. The contest would be so obviously hopeless that it is doubtful whether it would be entered upon by the Northern States. There might be danger to us on the side of Canada, but after all, the Canadians themselves would hardly submit to forcible annexation by the Federal forces. Meanwhile the recognition of the Confederate States by France and England would carry with it an amount of weight and moral influence which would set up the Southern Confederacy conclusively. It seems likely then, that if the raising of the blockade be seriously contemplated, it must be by a union of the French and English forces, and with the resolve of the two governments to stand by each other in any intervention in the affairs of the American States.

The singular development was made a few days ago in Washington, in respect to pistol cartridges given out to some of the cavalry, that they were filled, some with wooden plugs and others with turnip seeds!

The War Department has made a requisition upon Pennsylvania for five companies of heavy artillery.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown, a few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than voluminous bare assertions or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half million bottles and from its manifest steady increase in times and from its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom this immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommended the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom. This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system giving it that tone and energy indispensable at the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature. Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to confound declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhoea, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, supernumerated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial. CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations of counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label. Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburg, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany. AGENTS.—Davis & Jones, Ebersburg, J. A. Parrish, Summitville, Wm. Litzinger, Loretto, Peter Kinney, Munster, Sept. 5, 1860.—ly.

D. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An appetent and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctified by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice. The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexion, indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz: In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Inept Conception, Scrophulous Tuberous Swellings, Salt Rheum, Miasmatic Venues, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from Chronic complaints one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguinous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name. In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to Medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating, and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dissipating the local tendency which forms them. In Dyspepsia innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhoea, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed emaciating and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, less of flesh and strength debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicates Insipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances. In Scrophulous Tuberculosis, this medicated Iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well known liabilities. The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both Chronic and inflammatory—the latter, however, more decaying, has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles. In Intermittent fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, &c., should be addressed to: R. B. LOGKE & Co., General Agents, 20 Cedar St. N. Y. May, 30, 1860:ly.

THE LAW OF NEWSPAPERS.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscription. 2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid. 3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have sent the bills and ordered them discontinued. 4. If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publisher, and the newspapers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible. The courts have also repeatedly decided that Postmaster who neglects to perform his duty in giving reasonable notice as required by the regulations of the Post Office Department, of the neglect of a person to take from the office newspapers addressed to him, renders the Postmaster liable to the publisher for the newspaper.
