

The maintenance of liberty and free democratic government demands it; Economy and honesty in the public expenditures, now at the rate of four millions a day, demand it;

The rapid accumulation of an enormous and permanent public debt demand it—a debt already one thousand millions of dollars, and equal at the present rate, in two years to England's debt of a century and a half ago;

The heavy taxation, direct and indirect, State and Federal, already more than two hundred millions of dollars a year, eating out the substance of the people, augmenting their poverty, and depressing the price of labor, demand it;

The decay of industry, scarcity of work, and impending ruin on every side, demand it;

The restoration of the country to its former greatness, and prosperity of former years, demands that the Democratic party should be re-elected and made victorious.
