Her sufferings, though protracted and severe, were born with fortitude and calm resignation to the Divine will. Her trust was in Christ, and she found it an anchor to the soul sure and steadfast in the awful honr of dissolution. She has left a heart stricken husband and three motherless babes to plod through lifes mazy pathway without a wife's angel presence or a mothers watch, care and sympathy. He found or Sigel, or both, on the right, in the direction of Haymarket, the position they took mand the entrance and the exit from Thoroughfare Gap. Our own informant, a cool and clear headed man, who left Centerville at four p. m., says that up to that hour the impression prevailed there that nothing definite had resulted from the day's fight.

Though continuous, it had not been a very bloody battle. Persons subsequently arriving, who were on the field of action themselves until four o'clock p. m., represent, on the other hand, that the side of success was decidedly with the Union army, which pushed the rebels successfully on both sides. An impression prevails that the reserve of Lee's army, supposed to be from twenty to forty thousand strong, might suddenly appear near the field, and we know that the heavy corps under Fitz John Porter was so posted that it could instantly move upon Lee with equal ease, whether he was attack ing M'Dowell, Sigel, or Heintzleman.

The railroad, we are happy to be able to say, has already been repaired quite up to Bull Run, and supplies, &c., are now being transported over it to that point by midnight. We have every reason to believe that the Bull Run bridge will again be pass able when the trains can run to Manassas. Ere the evacuating of Manassas, on the day before yesterday, the rebels paroled the seven handred Union prisoners they had ta ken since the commencement of the movement for which they are paying so dearly. They realized that prisoners in the present strait were but an elephant on their hands, and wisely got rid of them. These seven hundred covered all the stragglers they had as well as the five hundred taken from Gen. Taylor's brigade.

This morning there was a report, how true we know not, that the ground lost is improbable. The enemy according to the reports of prisoners who have been taken, and who seem to be intelligent, has recently been reinforced enormously, and now includes the entire rebel army in the State of Virginia. They say the rebel army of Virginia, number about 250, 000. They occupy the outer extremity of the old Bull Run battle field at present, their front being at the farthest point of the old field hold their rifle pits, which were dug on the memorable 21st of July, 1861.
