

slightly tamed him. Twelve of the men were wounded, together with Acting-Engineer McIntosh, who had charge of one of the guns. His injuries are supposed to be fatal.

The next morning, finding it impossible to save the vessel, Capt. Rhind called a tug, which took all his men on board. A few minutes thereafter the Keokuk sunk. The persons belonging to the ship lost all their personal effects.

On Wednesday the squadron remained at anchor in the main ship channel. It is said the men in our fleet only numbered about 1000 with thirty guns; the enemy, it is supposed, had at least 300 guns, the best in the world.

The injury to the vessels, excluding the Keokuk, are represented to be of such a character as will require but a short time for repair. The casualties among our men were remarkably few, including one killed, and three wounded, on the Nahant.

The advantages of our fleet being in possession of the main channel narrows the circuit of the blockade two-thirds of the former distance. None of the batteries fired upon our vessels until the latter reached the vicinity of the main forts.

The President's Visit.

The Philadelphia Age, speaking of Mr. Lincoln's recent visit to the army, says:

We have compared Mr. Lincoln's review very carefully with the descriptions of the Imperial reviews of troops in France, and find it a correct copy. The Emperor Napoleon is always on horseback, surrounded by a brilliant staff, and in the rear is "a squadron of lancers." The beautiful Empress Eugenie follows the Emperor in a carriage. (Just as Mrs. Lincoln follows "old Abe") with the Infant of France by her side, dressed in the uniform of the guards. "Prince Tom" in a suit of gray with a blue military cape and a black Kossuth hat with feathers "may very fitly represent the "Infant of the United States" but to render the copy more exact, the Infant of the United States ought to be enrolled in some regiment. We must further protest against "the queen of the White House" asking all the generals to come and see her in Washington. This is no part of the role of an Empress or a Queen on such occasions, and Mrs. Lincoln must have played it elsewhere. What would become of our army if all the generals were to accept Mrs. Lincoln's kind invitation? Neither does the Emperor of the French treat each corps-commander with a joke. He distributes occasionally a few crosses of the Legion of Honor; which Mr. Lincoln, under the power given him by the last Congress, as Commander-in-chief of the army, might imitate, by way of stimulating the ambition of his generals. The Lincoln Cross, worn by the President, and attached to a blue, white and red ribbon, would look very picturesque by the side of the "white flowers and red cheeks" of Mrs. Lincoln. The troops ought to be taught to cry out: "Long live old Abe!" "Long live our bewitching Queen of the White House!" Here the drums ought to beat the long roll, and the artillery ought to fire a salute. With the aptitude displayed by the members of the august family now occupying the White House, these improvements will undoubtedly be introduced at the next parade.

The Failure at Charleston.

However certain journals may attempt to palliate or disguise the truth, the attack on Charleston has proved a failure; and whatever hope may now be held out of a speedy renewal of the attack is delusive, in view of the fact that ordinarily there are only about fourteen feet of water on Charleston bar, and that the period of high spring tides, during which alone an attack by water is possible, will soon be over, and with it our chance of success.

The preparations for the attack were going on for months; millions were expended on it; yet all we hear from competent sources, confirms the belief that the naval officers themselves who, in obedience to orders, attempted the Herculean task, were satisfied of the impossibility of its accomplishment, and informed the authorities in Washington to that effect, but in vain. They were overruled by incompetent civilians, and the "on-to-Richmond" movement has now found a counterpart in the "on to Charleston." When civilians command and overrule soldiers and sailors in military matters, they commit the same unpardonable and criminal blunder which commanders of army corps commit when they endeavor to override the civil laws and institutions of the country. The Administration interfered with our military and naval commanders, and the consequence is, that after having expended nearly three thousand millions of dollars, and sacrificed some three hundred thousand and more lives, we are at this day no nearer to the termination of the war than we were a year or two ago; with the fair presumption that, as there is very little hope of making the Administration mend its ways, we shall not, a year hence, have materially improved our condition.

The same defects to which the Administration doomed our heroic commanders of the army and navy, have been shared by the Administration in the popular elections, wherever the people were allowed to speak and vote freely; in other words, wherever our brave troops, instead of fighting the enemy in the field, were not ordered to fight their brothers and fellow-citizens at the ballot-box. Defeat is now threatening us on more than one side! Yet the Administration is unmoved, and Mr. Lincoln's jokes continue to flow as freely as when he was on the stump in Illinois.

No blame attaches to Admiral Dupont for the failure at Charleston. He did all in his power, with the force at his disposal, unsupported as he was by a land force, except such as, without being able to fire a gun, was called in as a mere spectator to the fiery tragedy which was enacted in the narrow channel between Forts Sumter and Moultrie. If he had been ordered to attack the stronghold of Pluto, he and the brave officers and gallant men under him could not have exhibited greater intrepidity or valor. The blame attaches wholly and exclusively, to the incompetency of the Administration, which is carrying on this war for political purposes, and not for restoring the Union. The fleet of Admiral Dupont and the army of General Sherman might have succeeded against Charleston some eighteen months ago; why was there nothing done at that period to strike a blow? Was it because the Emancipation Proclamation was not issued, to celebrate the victory in blood and carnage at every Southern fireside? Was it for that purpose that time was given to General Beauregard, who before the war, was considered the best engineer officer in the United States Army, to fortify the stronghold and make it another Sebastopol, which was not taken by the British and French troops? It was natural to suppose that Charleston would be valiantly defended, that every means that art and science could afford would be employed to frustrate our hopes of conquering it; yet, with the full knowledge of these facts, the attack was delayed for scenic effect, in order that Charleston, Vicksburg and Richmond might fall together. It was for the moral effect of such a triple victory that the Administration was contending; what the consequences in one or all of them would be was never considered, either by them or their fanatical Jacobin adherents.

And this news goes out to England and France, just at the period when our relations with both these countries have ceased to be friendly—when nothing but an opportunity is wanted to give them a plausible cause for attempting to lower our pride, if not our national pretensions!—Philadelphia Age.

Notice.—We are daily receiving orders to and by mail for one or more of Dr. Hurd's Dental Remedies, which we cannot fill. None are available except the Neuralgia Plaster, which we send on receipt of Price (15 cents) and one stamp. But to accommodate persons in places where the druggists and storekeepers are behind the age, we have put up packages in white embossed boxes, seven inches by four, with compartments—each box containing a bottle of Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash, and Tooth Ache Drops, a box of Tooth Powder, the Neuralgia Plaster, and a valuable little Treatise on Teeth and their Diseases, the best means of preserving them, and the proper treatment of Children's Teeth, worth of itself the entire cost to every young man or woman, or parents with young children; with sundry other articles; price per package one Dollar, or six packages for $5, sent by express as directed. As the Express charges are not much, if any more on a dozen than on one, it is far cheaper to order six or dozen packages at a time. A large family will want all, or the surplus can be disposed of to neighbors with public benefit, for no one can estimate how much pain, suffering, unhappiness, and disfigurement, expense, loss of time and money would be saved to the country if every family to day had one of these packages, which, in itself, is a complete set of Dental Remedies. Address Wm. B. Hurd & Co. Tribune Building New York, and write name and address plainly. That remittances may be made with confidence. W. B. H. & Co. refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn, to G. W. Griffith, President of the Farmer's and Citizen's Bank, Brooklyn; to the Editors of the American Manufacturers' Gazette; to J. C. Coe, Co. P. & Publishers' Agents, New York; to J. C. Farnum, Esq., who know a good P. T. When they see it and who has already tried our second supply, etc.

1000 Agents Wanted: To introduce Dr. Hurd's Dental Remedies into every County, Men or Women who want to make money quickly, can do better with these articles than anything in market. They are new, useful, low priced, and we are spending thousands in advertising them for the benefit of agents. Boxes of samples containing one dozen of the one dollar packages above specified, with circulars will be sent, on receipt of seven dollars, about half price, to any person wishing to test his or her skill in selling with the view of becoming an agent. They can be sold in a day. We would rather pay salaries than Commissions to those who prove themselves efficient salesmen.

Now is the time to get into business. For address and references see the above.

Circular from the Cash Store. The subscriber would respectfully announce to the public that he has returned from the East with the FALL AND WINTER GOODS, which will sell, as usual, at a very small advance on cost, FOR CASH ONLY. He has a large stock of the heaviest and most complete ever brought to the place, and has purchased at the very lowest prices, will be sold at prices which will give a price list, owing to the situation in the market.

His stock is the heaviest and most complete ever brought to the place, and has purchased at the very lowest prices, will be sold at prices which will give a price list, owing to the situation in the market. He has a large stock of the heaviest and most complete ever brought to the place, and has purchased at the very lowest prices, will be sold at prices which will give a price list, owing to the situation in the market.

He would call particular attention to a large stock of DRY GOODS, embracing the latest and MOST DESIRABLE STYLES OF LADIES' DRESS GOODS to be had in the Eastern market. A full assortment of fancy and plain Flannels, and a large and excellent supply of Ladies' Muslins, dozens of patterns of Ladies' Gents' Gloves, all styles of Hosiery, the most complete selection of Shawls exhibited in this market; any amount of Nubias, Opera Hoods, Ladies' Patent Co.'s Patent Hoop Skirts, ranging from fifty springs, which will be sold at 25 per cent. under present market prices.

Our stock of GROCERIES is complete and selling a few cents below market prices. Our Syrups are of the best quality, 70 cents per gallon. We would invite particular attention to our large stock of eminent Coffee, bought before the heavy advance, which we sell at 25 per cent. below market prices. We have a heavy stock of TEAS, ranging from 60 cents per pound upwards.

Our stock of CHINA, GLASS & EMBROIDERY is the largest, most varied and ever offered to the people of the entire State. A really beautiful "Shower Window" must be a stop to view it that we are not engaged in our ware. The China Ware embraces Sets ranging in price from $12 to $100. Flower Vases, Mugs and other articles. The Glass Ware embraces everything every style of manufacture. Our late advance we cannot now sell the best Wedgwood Iron Stone Tea Sets less than $4.75 per set, which is $1.25 below the selling price elsewhere.

I am now fully convinced that the SYSTEM is the best for both seller and buyer, enabling me to sell cheaper, with less loss, and giving my customers a better article, and more of it for the same money than they get at any other establishment. But argument on this point is superfluous. The reason why I can sell cheaper is that I have no overhead expenses, and that I do not charge a cent for my goods. I will give you a full catalogue of goods and prices.
