

hold the flag that shelters them equally with the white.

"A Finance Committee of the Union League has been appointed to celebrate the Fourth of July, and $50,000 or $60,000 will be expended in celebrating the national anniversary. But rather should the money be expended to assist in putting down the rebellion, and then the whole land could arise and join us in keeping a grand national jubilee. In Maryland there are 78,000 free colored men who would be willing to assist in our struggle, and they are willing to follow John C. Fremont in the armies of the Republic. The colored people are looking to General Fremont, and they are everywhere ready to yield their lives in defence of the Union, if he will be permitted to lead them. Let an encampment be prepared in Philadelphia, and here let an army of 30,000 be organized and sent to Washington. Would that army, as it marched South, grow larger or smaller?"

"When the rebellion first broke out, a mulatto boy enlisted in the service of the United States, in a Wisconsin regiment, and the General commanding the brigade in which the boy served ordered a sergeant to strip him of his uniform. Now the Government calls for colored men to defend it. The world is moving on, and it will move on until it reaches the accomplishment of the grand question of freedom in this country.

"Let Philadelphia, then, do her duty; let a committee be appointed; $50,000 or 60,000 be raised; a suitable camp be procured, and three or four regiments of colored troops organized and equipped for the service of the government. A people who smite God He has threatened to smite. The people of the North have smitten God in the persons of some of His children. Let us, then do justice to those we have wronged, and give the black equal privileges with the white."

Here is work for the League! Instead of celebrating the anniversary of American Independence in a proper manner, the Jacobins are called upon to use their money to give the black man equal privileges with the white, and in order to carry out effectually the approved suggestion of the orator, the League will be compelled to open recruiting stations for the enlistment of negro soldiers. "To this complexion have we come at last!"

But MORROW B. LOWRY, Senator of Pennsylvania from Erie, was still more emphatic. Listen to the ravings of this fanatic:

"My conversion to Abolitionism by Gov. Wise was more sudden than that of Saul of Tarsus. I went to see my old friend, John Brown, in his hour of extremity, and, while in conversation with old John Brown, in the inside of the prison, Gov. Wise made a speech on the outside. The latter said in the course of his speech, that if Fremont had been made President, they would have marched into the Capital; they would have hung the black Republican, and have controlled the Government. Since the commencement of the rebellion, he had been in earnest in the cause he had undertaken. During the last eighty years this Government had the reputation of being a Republican one, and has told the oppressed of every land that in this country there was a refuge for all the oppressed and down-trodden. For the last eighty years we have been a nation of hypocrites.

When we consider the magnitude of this rebellion, we have accomplished great results. One of our aims should be to present to organize colored troops, who will strike for liberty, for God and for man. The speaker referred to the organization of the Massachusetts regiments. The object of the nation is now to organize 150,000 or 200,000 colored troops between now and the first of December.

"I believe that this war can never come to a close until every man in this country has the chains of slavery knocked from his limbs. We are becoming educated by our reverses as by our successes. Why is it that the blood in Eastern Virginia is up to the bits of the horses, and yet we have no victories? The largest slave market, in the world is there, and women as white as the wives of any present have there been sold at the rate of 15,000,000 a year. The sooner we declare to the world that this war is for freedom the sooner will we reach the hearts of the people everywhere. Gentlemen of the north who desire to perpetuate slavery will remember that it is already doomed, and that it is our duty to favor the going to the war of colored men. Perhaps I talk more strongly on this subject than is pleasant to many. If so I cannot help it. The fable of the heathen mother, who caught a crocodile in infancy, is applicable. She was told it was a god, and she worshipped it. It ate up everything green around her, and it ate her children, and still she worshipped it with greater fervor. That heathen mother was not deeper in the depths of fanaticism than we have been in regard to slavery. This war is for the African and his race. The six hundred colored men who have recently fallen have elevated the race. For all I know, the Napoleon of this war may be done up in a black package. [Laughter.] We have no evidence of his being done up in a white one as yet. When this war was no larger than my hand, I said that if any negro would bring me his distasteful master's head I would give him one hundred and sixty acres of his distasteful master's plantation. [Laughter and applause.] The man who talks of elevating the negro would not have to elevate him very much to make him equal to himself."

Mr. Lowry publicly proclaimed that "this war is for the African and his race." He did so in presence of the Loyal League of Philadelphia; and instead of meeting with a prompt rebuke, he was loudly cheered in the expression of his Abolition sentiments. The men who compose the League hitherto pretended that they were in favor of carrying on the war for the Union and Constitution. They claimed to be the exclusive friends of the country, and insolently denounced all who did not agree with them as "traitors" and "secession sympathisers." They hypocritically asserted that they had no politics, and that they only sought to restore the nation to its peaceful and prosperous condition, before the present civil war deluged with blood the fair fields and happy homes of our fellow-countrymen. But now they have thrown off their mask which hid their real and hideous character from observation. What is the Union to them, unless the African goes free? What is the Constitution worth in their estimation, while it protects the rights of the States in moulding their own domestic institutions in their own way! The attention of the people need only be called to the present attitude of the Jacobins, to cause them to utterly condemn the odious doctrines promulgated by the orators and applauded by the claqueurs of the League. Let the Democratic masses be patient. The ballot-box will soon furnish them with ample means to express their honest indignation at the faithlessness and imbecility of the party which is now controlling the destinies of the Republic, and dragging it to the verge of ruin.

Notice.—We are daily receiving orders to and by mail for one or more of Dr. Hurd's Dental Remedies, which we cannot fill. None are mailable except the Neuralgia Plaster, which we send on receipt of Price (15 cents) and one stamp. But to accommodate persons in places where the druggists and storekeepers are behind the age, we have put up packages in white embossed boxes, seven inches by four, with compartments—each box containing a bottle of Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash, and Tooth-Ache Drops a box of Tooth Powder, the Neuralgia Plaster, and a valuable little Treatise on Teeth and their Diseases, the best means of preserving them, and the proper treatment of Children's Teeth, worth of itself the entire cost to every young man or woman, or parents with young children; with sundry other articles; price per package one dollar, or six packages for $5, sent by express as directed. As the Express charges are not much, if any more on a dozen than on one, it is far cheaper to order six or dozen packages at a time. A large family will want all, or the surplus can be disposed of to neighbors with public benefit, for no one can estimate how much pain, suffering, unhappiness, and disfigurement, expense, loss of time and money would be saved to the country if every family to day had one of these packages, which, in itself, is a complete set of Dental Remedies. Address Wm. B. Hurd & Co. Tribune Building, New York, and write name and address plainly. That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co. refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn, to G. W. Grifith, President of the Farmer's and Citizen's Bank, Brooklyn; to the Editors of the American Manufacturers' Gazette; to Joy, COE Co., Publishers Agents, New York; to rederefrantum, Esq., who know a good P. T. When they see it and who has already hinged his second supply, etc.

1000 Agents Wanted: To introduce Dr. Hurd's Dental Remedies into every County, Men or Women who want to make money quickly, can do better with these articles than anything in market. They are new, useful, low priced, and we are spending thousands in advertising them for the benefit of agents. Boxes of samples containing one dozen of the one dollar packages above specified, with circulars will be sent, on receipt of seven dollars, about half price, to any person wishing to test his or her skill in selling with the view of becoming an agent. They can be sold in a day. If we would rather pay salaries than Commissions to those who prove themselves efficient salesmen.

Now is the time to get into business. For address and references see the above.
