

Protest from an Indignant Woman.

To the Editor of the World. Sir: I have been waiting, with more or less of patience, during the past week for some indignant protest on the part of women against the late insolent and horrible demand of the President for five hundred thousand more men to be ready for the field early in September. I call it insolent, advisedly, because its tone is more that of a fabled lord summoning his vassals than that of a request from the chief servant of a free people. I waive the disproportion of the quota awarded to New York, it having been already alluded to in your columns, and pass to the general matter of the call, which is of vital interest to all the country, and especially to women, on whom is to lay the heaviest part of the burden.

For what on earth, Mr. Editor, are five hundred thousand more men required?—Already the country is half depopulated of its strength and sinew; already production is so greatly lessened as to threaten the most serious consequences; already there are hundreds of thousands of starving widows, and orphans, which the country cannot take care of, and what are to become of five hundred thousand more? For it is a settled thing that nearly every man who joins our armies goes down to his death, only about one in ten escape, and though it may be an easy thing for men in power to "call" for the lives of five hundred thousand men, it is often starvation and death to those they leave behind. Where are the seven hundred thousand men stated by Senator Wilson, to be in arms since the commencement of this campaign? It is of no consequence to Mr. Lincoln, Mr. Seward or Mr. Stanton, but it is of immense consequence to seven hundred thousand wives, mothers, sisters and children at home.

Already the masses of the women in this country are pushed to the verge of endurance. Tell them to economize in the purchase of silks and foreign goods! Why, they can scarcely afford to buy muslin for necessary undergarments—They are obliged to pick themselves and their children on the plainest and scantiest diet in order to spare sufficient to buy a pair of shoes, and are compelled to utterly deny them the native luxury of fresh fruit, which, in its season, is necessary to health, as well as grateful to the palate, unless they happen fortunately to live where it can be had for the picking.

I do not believe in fighting for the country and the flag to the last man, and it seems to me anybody is an idiot who talks such nonsense. What would the country be worth to me or any other woman, if the "last man" was gone? and what is it worth to a man, when he has left it to enter that from which no traveler returns? I know it is used to talk about the blessings secured to posterity, but the idea of doing anything for posterity unless it is to plant some apple-trees, is nonsense, posterity never appreciates it, and will be just as likely to possess some fools, who cannot let well enough alone, and who delight in picking quarrels, as this generation. The best way to secure blessings to posterity is to secure them, and be thankful for them ourselves, and how posterity is going to be benefitted by the killing off of all the able bodied men, and the ruin and desolation of the country, I cannot conceive.

If there was a prospect of a termination to the war, and this was the last call for five hundred thousand men, the thought would be less disheartening—but there is no prospect for anything but an interminable war, and a constant succession of calls for five hundred thousand men, who will disappear in the same maelstrom, until the last, indeed, follow their brothers and kindred to their fate.

Men, who would rather run than fight any day, and who, if they are drafted, will hasten in abject terror to the first emigrant ship which arrives, to secure a substitute, talk loudly about the glory of fighting and dying for one's flag and one's country. What is one's flag and one's country? It is not a strip of rag, or a little dirt, a few stones and some water; these can be found anywhere, and demand no special consideration. If our country and our flag are dear, it is because they represent to us a larger proportion of the blessings that make life desirable than can be found elsewhere. If these are forcibly taken away from us, if peace is gone, if liberty is gone, if friends are gone, if home and plenty are gone—what is the country and the flag worth to me? All countries belong alike to God, and if a happy and peaceful life could be better secured on any other portion of the earth, that would become my country.

It seems to me that all men, and especially our rulers, are mad. If this war is to be perpetuated, and it is arrogantly presumed to be treason and copperheadism to think otherwise, why not at least "draw it out"? Why constantly rush enormous masses of green men into the field, to be mowed down as if life was the least valuable thing, except money, that could be taken from the country?—If wisdom, care, and economy of the lives and treasures entrusted to it, had controlled this war, women would not feel this terror at yielding up those nearest and dearest to them. But they know that their entire earthly dependence, the sum and substance of their life and happiness, is demanded by and entrusted to the care of brutal, wasteful and ignorant men, who are entirely irresponsible, whose acts it is treason to question, and who hold themselves amenable to neither God nor man. It is this which makes the task so bitter, that it will not be surprising if a sterner protest should not make itself heard from the sex, than this which comes from one and echoes the sentiments of many.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED. Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the rational cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA, or seminal weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments in Marriage, etc; also, Gonorrhoea, Syphilis, and Fists, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

Such has been the case in thousands of instances, and a fair trial is but required to prove the assertion. From Geo. J. Newton Brown, D. D. Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were simply an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them. J. NEWTON BROWN. Philadelphia, June 23, 1861.

DISEASES OF KIDNEYS and Bladder, IN YOUNG OR AGED, MALE OR FEMALE. Are speedily removed, and the patient restored to health. DEBILITATED CHILDREN. Those suffering from MARASMOUS, wasting away, with scarcely any flesh on their bones, are cured in a very short time: one bottle in such cases, will have a most surprising effect.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS! AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS. We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposure and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise would be lost.

The proprietors are daily receiving thankful letters from sufferers in the army and hospitals, who have been restored to health by the use of these Bitters, sent to them by their friends. Should your nearest druggist not have the article, do not be put off by any of the interesting preparations that may be offered in its place, but send to us, and we will forward, securely packed, by express. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS! See that the signature of "C. M. Jackson" is on the wrapper. Principal Office and Manufactory No. 621 ARCH STREET. JONES & EVANS, (Successors to C. M. JACKSON & Co.) Patented March 10, 1863. Its chief advantages are: 1. Having strong rear wheels to sustain power, one man can operate it to bend cold iron tire, any size under 1 1/2 inches. 2. Having moveable rollers, to hold the bar square on the pebble rollers, it takes all twist out of the bar, while bending in a regular curve. 3. It can be bent to bend to any desired curve from one, up to twelve feet, in one minute. 4. Having a moveable centre post, which can be quickly taken off, tires and bands are easily taken out. 5. The upper roller will always draw the bar through. 6. Being angled and numbered, a card will direct the user as to the position of the rollers. 7. The machine is made of the best quality of iron, without loss or waste of $30, or with less and crank for $25.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and wonderful Tonic, corrective and alternative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS. Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Dropsy of the Spleen, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bilious Weakness, whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, gentle and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains botanical elements of any kind, no deadly botanical elements, no fiery extract; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and noblest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forewarned against disease, and so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard. In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehensions of an attack, escape the country; and thousands who resort to it to ward off the attacks of its pestilential qualities in malarious regions, are cured by a very brief course of this marvellous medicine.

Fever and Ague patients, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, will find relief with this medicine. It takes all the malarious matter out of the system, and restores the patient to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The weak stomachs rapidly debilitated and the appetites destroyed by this accursed Trade, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in loss of food, indigestion, Indigestion, Acidity, a sour and painless appetite, as well as upon the liver, also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and excretive organs.

There is a feeble habit, called in Medical Attends, "Languor of Spirits and Bile of Languor," that prevents and permanently debilitates the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes. The agency of Bile, which is immediately assumed by a single dose of this important, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

A General Trade, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed, before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constipation, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Liver and Biliary Affections, and various other ailments, it exercises the most salutary influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-energize and re-establish them. Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe, Pleasant being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and it may be truly said, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere. March 9, 1864-ly.
