Dr. Franklin and the South Carolina

A friend relates to us that the Summer before the war at the house of a hospitable South Carolinian planter, he was up one morning with the sun and was about to venture forth on a morning walk, when he was checked by the planter at the door.

"You cannot pass, Sir. Too early."
"Too early! Why, my dear Colonel, what says Dr. Franklin?" "Early to bed and early to rise will make a man healthy and wealthy and wise." "Very fine, sir; but all a fallacy. Early rising and the inhalation, upon an empty stomach, of the morning malaria of this country, North and South, have been the death of thousands-the death of thousands, sir, from the time of Capt. John Smith to this day, Wait till after breakfast, fortify your stomach with a cup of hot coffee, and then, the noxious vapors of the night being exhaled by the sun, we will take a morning

"But my dear Colonel, I am already fortified with a wine-glass of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

"Ah, then, sir, you may stick to Dr. Franklin. Hostetter's agent at Charleston supplies me, and I am expecting a box today with my wagon. Those Bittiers, I find, are a sure protective against all the fevers resulting from malaria. Doctor Franklin holds good, sir, even in the swamps of South Carolina, if fortified with Hostetter's 13 J.
