On Friday, the 20th ult., Lawrence, infant son of William and Arabella Pollock. How many mothers' hearts are made desolate by the cold hand of death, just when they are lavishing the wealth of their womanly affection on their first-born. 'Tis only a mother can feel the deep sorrow .- blo. May He who giveth, heal her wounded heart.

Young mother, he is gone! His dimple cheek no more will touch thy breast:

No more the music tone. Float from his lips, to thine all fondly pressed: His smile and happy laugh are lost to thee Earth must his mother and his pillow be.

His was the morning hour, And he had passed in beauty from the day, A bud, not yet a flower, Torn, in its sweetness, from the parent

The death wind swept him to his soft re-As frost in spring time blights the early rose.

Never on earth again Will his rich accents charm thy listening

The unbroken seat of peace and silence means of cure.

And from thy yearning heart. Whose inmost core was warm with love for

A gladness must depart. And those kind eyes with many tears be dim: While lonely memories, an unceasing train, Will turn the raptures of the past to pain.

Yet, mourner, while the day Rolls like the darkness of a funeral by. And hope forbids one ray To stream athwart the grief-discolored sky : There breaks upon thy sorrow's evening

A trembling lustre from beyond the temb.

'T is from the better land : There, bathed in radiance that around them United States can hear something very

Thy loved ones wings expand; As with the choiring cherubin he sings, And all the glory of that Gop can see, Who said, on earth, to children, "Come to me."

Mother, thy child is blessed: And though his presence may be lost to thee,

And vacant leave thy breast, And missed, a sweet load from thy parent Though tones familiar from thine ear have passed, at last.
