Democratic Ticket.

It is a satisfaction to find the radical organ of Ebensburg, admit that the county ticket, placed in nomination by the Democracy, is an unusually good and acceptable ticket. It could have said no less—and yet we are grateful for its candor in saying so.

R. L. Johnston, Esq., who has been recommended by this county for Congress, is well and favorably known throughout the county, district and state, and the district Convention, if it consults the interests of the party and the welfare of the country will doubtless place him in nomination.

Col. John P. Linton, our candidate for Assembly is admitted to be eminently competent, and as meritorious and popular as he is competent. He will be no unworthy successor of PENNING! At the outset of the war he left his business, his home, and his family, and tho' wounded so as to disable him for life, he continued in the service till the end of the war. At New-Market and other bloody fields, commanding the gallant fifty-fourth, he won undying renown. But apart from his military services, Col. Linton is emphatically qualified for the Legislature.—His native talent—his practical common sense, his legal ability, place him at the head of his profession, while his moral worth and private virtues point him out as a fit champion of the rights of the people.

For Register and Recorder, James Griffin, has been re-nominated. During the last three years he has discharged the duties of his office to the entire satisfaction of the people; and his re-nomination over two of the most deserving and popular young Democrats of Cambria county, is the best evidence of his worth as a man and his fitness as an officer.

George W. Easley and James Murray, are the candidates for Associate Judge.—The former has held the office for ten years, during which time his fitness, firmness and integrity pointed him out for re-election. James Murray, the other candidate, is an honest, high-toned citizen, possessing in an eminent degree, the confidence of the people. Both these gentlemen have perilled their lives to sustain the "Constitution and the Union," tho' beyond the period of life at which they could be drafted.

John Ferguson, our candidate for Commissioner, is a practical, hard working farmer, who will take care that the taxes wrung from the people shall not be squandered. Besides, he resides in a portion of the county which never had a Commissioner, and the compliment will be appreciated.

Henry Byrne, for Poor House Director, is a careful, shrewd business man; who, like D. A. Luther, our candidate for Auditor, belongs to a pioneer family of Cambria county. They are both honest and capable.

Thomas MBreen, the nominee for Coroner, is also a returned soldier, and one of our most deserving citizens.

In your standard bearers, Democrats of Cambria county, you have four soldiers and four civilians. Senn their merits—compare them with the radical ticket and vote according to your judgment.

By the way, it is a singular fact, that, with all their love for the soldiers, the radicals have only put one on their ticket while the Democrats have nominated four.

Let us Rejoice.

Congress adjourned at 4 1-2 P. M. on Saturday. "Praised be the name of the Lord!" We have seen an anecdote of an eccentric clergyman, who, at the funeral of a bad member of society, gave out for the singers the little psalm or hymn of Dr. Watts:

"Oh Lord we all rejoice, To see this cuss removed."

Their last act of infamy, was to vote each member of Congress $8,000, under the cloak of martial music, by passing the bounty bill, which will bleed the national Treasury of the snug little sum of $75,000,000! We are glad to see "the cuss removed."—Pittsburgh Republic.

The Lancaster Intelligencer says that although the use of the Court House of that county has been twice allowed to strolling negro lecturers within a few months, by the Disunion County Commissioners, and allowed to the Geary soldiers when they nominated delegates to the Pittsburgh Convention, it was refused by them to the soldiers the other day when it was desired to hold a convention to nominate delegates to the Harrisburg-Clymer Soldiers' Convention. The reason given was that "the Court House could not be used for political purposes." Of course the Pittsburgh Geary Convention was not political, and of course lectures on negro suffrage applauded by Geary's white supporters is not political, either. Oh, no.

THE TAX-PAYERS of the nation will have many reasons to remember the present Radical Congress. They have added to the national burdens the following items: Freedmen's Bureau, $7,000,000; National Bank interest, $30,000,000; Increased Revenue, $8,000,000; Education Bureau, $5,000,000; Mississippi and Yazoo job, $50,000,000, and Northern Pacific Railroad subsidy, $60,000,000.—This is what they have done with the people's money. In the meantime, they have prevented a restoration of the States, and thus injured the business of the nation and reduced its receipts. This record of the Radical Congress should interest the people of all sections of the country.

It was gravely announced from Washington, the other day, that the Rump House can now barely muster a quorum, and that the Speaker had shut down on leave of absence. On the 23d there were 112, according to the votes recorded. On the 20th the Tennessee resolution brought out a vote of 137. A majority constitutes a quorum. The Rump House fragment has 231 members—116 being a quorum. A full House would have 306 a quorum of which would be 154, more than the Rump has had for many weeks.

The main business of the present Radical Congress has been to prevent a restoration of the States. All legislation of a national character has been directed to that point. They have trampled upon the Constitution, insulted the President, violated all law and precedent, and taken the initiatory steps of an insurrection in the Northern States, in order to accomplish their purposes. Many of the Radical members will be candidates for re-election, and Union men should note these facts.

CONGRESSIONAL.—The Democratic conferees of Westmoreland, Fayette and Indiana counties met on Saturday at Greensburg, and after one hundred and forty-six ballots nominated Hugh Wier, Esq., of Indiana, for Congress. The candidates were Wier, Dawson, and Keenan; the latter gentleman withdrew his name, which resulted in Mr. Wier's nomination.

A JOKE ON GEARY, THE HERO OF SNICKREVILLE.—At Cape May, the other evening, Heller the world renowned wizard gave an entertainment, which was largely attended by the sojourners at the Cape. Somebody asked Heller if, by the second sight, or any other of his wonderful powers, he could foretell who would be next Governor of Pennsylvania? He answered, "That while Geary was a swift runner, his rival had the best chance of elevation, being a Hiestor as well as Clymer. This brought down the house with three hearty cheers for Hiestor Clymer, the entire audience rising to their feet, joined in the hurrah. Three groans were proposed for the hero of Snicker's Gap. Such groans would have scared Geary worse than he ever was scared before."

A woman in Rushville Ill., has been seized with a strange mania for murder. She first practiced on cats, then on children, then becoming severe she beat her own brains out.

The Case of Jeff Davis.

The Committee on the Judiciary made a report in which they say it is notorious that Jefferson Davis was guilty of the crime of treason, according to the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the Committee are of opinion that there are no obstacles to a speedy and impartial trial, which cannot be removed by legislation. They say the evidence in possession of the Committee connecting Jeff. Davis with the assassination of President Lincoln, justifies them in saying that there is probable cause to believe that he was privy to the measures which led to the commission of the deed, but the investigations which have been made by the War Department and by the Committee, have not resulted in placing the Government in possession of all the facts in the case. It is probable, however, that the further prosecution of the investigation by the Committee and by the officers of the Government, will result finally in a full development of the whole transaction. The capture of the rebel archives had put the Government in possession of a mass of letters, papers and documents of various kinds, only a portion of which has, as yet, been revealed.

Here is the whole story of the European war briefly told. Those who have not time to post up should remember these points for their satisfaction in future as the plot thickens:

Prussia coveted two Duchies, Schleswig and Holstein, belonging to Denmark, and secretly persuaded the Duke of Augustenburg to claim as hereditary his own. Prussia next induced Austria to co-operate with her insisting upon the German claim. The two made war upon Denmark, and possessed themselves by force of the Duchies. This done Prussia, at the secret instigation of France which desired to see Austria involved in a war in order that its new protégé Italy might re-annex if possible the province of Venetia ignored both the Duke of Augustenburg and Austria resolving to keep the Duchies herself. Austria of course prepared for war with her faithless and cunning associate, and had the address to bring over to her side nearly all the smaller powers which with Austria and Prussia compose the German Confederation.—Italy prepared to march into Venetia as soon as Austria might be engaged with Prussia.—And thus stands the present situation. France, who adroitly brought on the whole trouble while affecting to be the friend of peace, is supposed to have promised Prussia for such a timely interference against Austria, the German provinces which now keep France from extending as under the old Napoleon, her frontiers to the river Rhine. In the meantime Russia is supposed to have promised to assist Austria should France thus interfere—the reward of Russia to be the Moldo-Wallachian provinces now belonging to "the sick man," Turkey.

WHO ARE THE THIEVES NOW?—Self-styled "loyal" newspapers made the name of Floyd synonymous with "thief"—and why? Because, when secession was about to be inaugurated, he took possession of and distributed among the Southern States a large amount of arms and warlike munitions belonging to the Government. What are the Disunionists now at? Attempting to get control of the warlike property of the Government for distribution among the New England States and other States whose officials are known to be favorable to the Rump usurpation? Who are the Floyds now? Every Rump Disunionist who voted for the resolution to distribute the arms of the Government is a thief and revolutionist, and the country will hold them all responsible for the bloodshed and anarchy which may result from the treasonable acts which they are perpetrating, and which, sooner or later, must end in civil war.

THE FENIAN RESOLUTIONS.—The message of the President, delivered to the House in response to the two resolutions in behalf of the Fenians, sent to him, has rather taken the wind out of the sails of the Congressional party. The resolutions were simply intended as a bid for Irish votes, by manifesting an extraordinary interest in the fate of the recent Fenian raiders upon the border. It appears, from the response of the President, that the suddenly-awakened anxiety of Congress in reference to these unfortunate persons had long ago been anticipated by the Executive, and that the desired action in behalf of the Fenian prisoners in Canada, and the Fenians indicted in the United States courts for a breach of neutrality laws, had long since been taken, without waiting for the growth of Congressional sympathy in their favor. This purely electioneering artifice has, therefore, not only failed in its design, but has served to bring to the attention of the Fenians, who are just now so assiduously courted by the Revolutionists, the fact that the President had promptly, and without suggestions from Congress or elsewhere, instituted proceedings for relief and release of all the participants in the Fenian raid, who had been placed in arrest on either side of the line.

A veteran appeared before an army surgeon at Philadelphia, last week, as an applicant for a pension, having upon his body the scars of twenty-two wounds received in the late war.

THE SAFETY OF RAILWAY PASSENGERS

—In Connecticut at the last session of the Legislature, a most excellent law was passed for the protection of railway passengers. It provides that each company conveying passengers shall provide their cars with a connecting apron of full width of the train, so as to connect the platforms and enable persons to pass from one car to another with safety. If this provision is not complied with by the 1st of September, 1866, each company neglecting it forfeits to the State Treasurer $100 for every day of such neglect. These aprons have to be examined and approved by the State Railroad Commissioners, and are of much value in guarding passengers who move from one part of the train to another. Some such precaution on railroads leading out of Philadelphia have these connecting aprons in their passenger trains, but the great majority of the lines have no protection at all.

HOW THEY CARRY OUT THEIR PROMISES.—"Brick" Pomeroy was on a visit lately to Washington. In writing to his paper he says: "We look in vain in the different departments for the one-armed crippled or veteran soldiers, who were to be rewarded by the Republican party. The one-armed heroes are not popular. The left-hand writers are not there. Once in a while we found a poor widow in some of the departments merely to build a newspaper article on for consumption. But we found hundreds of negroes about these offices—opening and shutting doors, as if those who passed through could not wait on themselves—we found these dusky lambs of Abraham answering bell calls everywhere—we saw them in the gallery of Congress, scratching their dirty heads, chewing peanuts, and smiling approval on their Radical deliverers. And we saw one-armed, one-legged, and otherwise mutilated white soldiers, selling apples, peanuts, papers, and such stuff on the streets—generously provided for by themselves."

BOUND TO HAVE THEM.—It seems that putitan abolitionism is determined to have the "anti-slavery God—the anti-slavery Constitution" that Anson Burlingame declared a few years since they would have. They have made a God of the old cut-throat and horse thief, John Brown—they have manufactured a Bible out of Helper's Book and the New York Tribune, the last chapters in their New Testament being composed of the speeches and epistles of Stevens and Sumner to the brethren, while their attempts now to alter the Constitution and cap the climax of their efforts, by securing to that party these three great ends for which they have so long labored.—What a millennium abolitionism will then enjoy! Cuffee and Jerusha Jane will walk along the highway of life, basking in the sunshine of mutual admiration. Jonathan and Dinah will march hand in hand, scenting the atmosphere with codfish and nigger, followed by their tan colored brats, singing hosanna to their anti-slavery God, their anti-slavery Bible, and their anti-slavery Constitution. Ah! me! don't it make your mouths water, you long-legged, blue-light descendants of witch burning, quaker-hanging Puritans!

A BURGLAR DISGUSTED.—A burglar in Philadelphia, during the heated term, when the occupants were away, succeeded in breaking into a pretentious house almost under the nose of the police.—He found a richly furnished hall way and—parlor, but as he did not care about stealing pianos and sofas, he ascended to the dormitories where he found bare floors, wretched bedding, and everything excepting the curtains to the windows indicating the most miserable attempt at parlor ostentation with less refinement than would be found in the house of an ordinary mechanic. The thief turned from the place in utter disgust, and when leaving defaced the lid of a piano and broke open the doors of a cabinet, to inform the people that he had been there.

THE POPE.—It is announced that for some time past the health of the Pope has appeared to be failing, and his condition causes no little anxiety to his Cardinals, with whom he speaks frequently of approaching death. Pius IX., the present Pope, was born in May, 1792, and is 74 years old. He ascended the Papal throne in 1846, and has occupied it twenty years. A correspondent writes to the Philadelphia Ledger that there is a general feeling in Rome that no Pope will hold his office longer than did St. Peter, who is said to have governed the Church for twenty-five years. Adrian I. was Pope nearly 24 years; Pius VI. 24 years 6 months and 14 days, whilst several other Popes governed the Church for 21 years. It is generally agreed that the whole number of Popes was 259.

THE Richmond Whig says: "The country, the Fourth of July, and everything else, are giving up to the negroes. We are truly a progressive people, but progress toward ruin. Who values what the gorilla and the ape equally enjoy? When hogs are decorated with laces, and oxen with ribands, decent people will find other embellishments for themselves. So—when negroes seize upon the Fourth of July, take possession of our public squares, and of our streets, flaunting flags, wearing swords, and marching to music, it is time for us to give up these things."
