

WE ARE COMING.

We are coming, Andrew Johnson, we are coming from the West; We have gathered from the prairie plains...

We are coming, Andrew Johnson, we are coming from the East; We have killed the fatted calf to make ready the great feast...

We are coming, Andrew Johnson, we are coming from the North; We are gathering in our legions, to drive the traitors forth...

We are coming, Andrew Johnson, we are coming from the South; To hail again the natal flag, the glory of our youth...

We are coming, Andrew Johnson, we are coming as a band; That own a common heritage, in this free and happy land...

As such we are coming, chieftain, the foes to revolution; The friends to law and order, and the glorious Constitution...

The Second Book of Chronicles. ACCORDING TO DIXIE.

CHAPTER I.

1. And it came to pass in those days, that Abraham being dead and gathered to his fathers...

2. And the war which had prevailed for many days being ended, there was much tribulation...

3. And raising their voices, they said "Behold, the honey-comb, of which we have eaten has vanished...

4. "What shall we do, that these good things pass not away from us, and we become again as lean goats?"

5. And they sent their cunning men and painted women into the city of the King...

6. And going thither, they clothed themselves in mourning, and lamented the death of him who had reigned.

7. (For they had thought to hood-wink the King, and hide from him their deceit.)

8. And they cried out for vengeance upon all those who dwelt in the land of the South...

9. Saying, "Let their men and women be slain. Draw the sword upon the babe and the suckling..."

10. "Let thy word, O King! lift our brother, the negro, to the high places—let him be even as ourselves."

11. "For behold by these means shall we bring down the copperheads and our glory be written upon tables of brass."

12. And thou, O King! shall we worship if thou wilt bow down and do our will...

13. "We will give to thee power, and dominion; thou shalt rule us forever and thy glory shall shine like unto the mackerel when it stinketh."

14. But Andrew, the King, looking upon them perceived the malice of their hearts...

15. He also saw that from the ruin of the land they sought riches, and that the chief of Davids had entered into them.

16. And answering them he said, "It is written, Trust not the Yankee when he smileth, nor the peddler of nutmegs when he singeth psalms."

17. "Go ye therefore to your factories and bagnies and conventicles, and bring not hither the notions of the East."

18. "Put off the weeds wherewith you are clothed, for I perceive through your armor of hypocrisy the wickedness of your hearts."

19. "Ye have made to yourselves friends of the mammon of iniquity—ye have heaped up riches in the day of affliction."

20. "Ye shall no longer through the tempest of blood add to your stores, for behold the night fetheth and the dawn of common sense draweth nigh."

21. "I have sworn that the Covenant of our Fathers shall be kept whole, and behold the Yankee and hidden traitor shall not lay his hand upon the law."

22. "The murders which your counsel will I not do nor shall your deceitful words lead me to the worship of 'Oll' the god of the nigger."

23. "The day of baby-talk hath passed away, and the blather of cowards has become as the East wind—empty."

24. "Even as the Devil did to the Son of Man, so have ye offered that which is not yours to give and, like unto him shall ye fail in your guilt."

25. "The songs of Boker are not sweetness to my ears, nor do I desire the remembrance of drunken Leaguers."

26. And the Leaguers, and contractors, and Preachers, and Harlots went forth from the presence of the King sore abashed.

27. And they ground their teeth in their rage, their spittle dried in their mouths, and they swore they had been "sold" even as Esau.

28. But the people laughed them to scorn and said, "let us drive this herd of unclean spirits from our borders."
