Address of the Chairman of the Demo-cratic State Central Committee.

D. A. LUTHER, Carroll township.

TO THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA:

The Democratic party in its platform of principles, adopted at Harrisburg. on the 5th day of March, 1866, resolved.

1. That the States whereof the people were lately in rebellion are integral parts | Clymer. of the Union, and are entitled to representation in Congress, by men duly elected, who bear true faith to the Constitution and laws, and in order to vindicate the maxim that taxation without representashould be forthwith admitted.

2. That the faith of the republic is pledged to the payment of the national debt, and Congress should pass all laws National Bank of Johnstown and a memnecessary for that purpose.

to the control of the government of the didate? Simply because he seeks for republic, and we are unwilling to grant to negroes the right to vote.

Upon this platform we placed our canthis contest.

Our opponents in their Convention, held at Harrisburg on the 7th day of March, 1866, also adopted a platform, and nominated a candidate. The principles they enunciated appeared to be lost sight of, and the proposed constitutional amendment takes their place as the rule of Radical orthodoxy, and to it their candidate gives his unhesitating support.

Negro equality and negro suffrage are the essential elements in that amendment. By it the negro is made the equal of the white man in all his "privileges and immunities." The right of Pennsylvania to make laws to regulate the migration of negroes into the State is denied and she is deprived of her just share of representation in Congress unless her Constitution be amended and the negro allowed to vote.

The Radical candidates for Governor and for United States Senator; their leaders of public sentiment; their speakers and their newspapers are open advocates of this amendment, and their practice accords with their profession, for they mingle with the negro in social intercourse, in political conventions, and in public

We hold that the negro is not the equal of the white man, and, whilst we accord to him freedom and protection of person, with the right to enjoyment of the fruits of his labor and aid in intellectual advancement, we affirm that our own race is entitled to control the entire machinery of the government.

Sustain this amendment, and you give the negro the right to aid in governing you; defeat it, and you maintain your own right of sovereignty.

Every man who votes for Geary or for a Radical candidate for Congress, votes as distinctly for negro suffrage and negro ballot.

DEMOCRATS OF PENNSYLVANIA! Power is no longer against you, but ran ges itself upon your side. Opportunities for fraud do not exist. Aid comes to you from the ranks of the enemy. No Democrat who voted for M'Clellan votes against you now; your brethern are aroused from the Lakes to the Delaware. A change of five per cent, upon the vote of 1864 will sweep your opponents out of existence. You can count it in every election district in the Commonwealth; and if you will but execute the details of your organization, success is certain. Faith in your principles, courage for the contest, and a determination to poll every Conservative vote, are the only re-quisities to an assured victory. By order of the Democratic State Com-

A Grand Meeting in Carrolltown. Over Five Hundred Persons in Attendauce.-Pairiote speeches by Mesers. Rose, Linton, Johnston, Barnes and Fahler.

The citizens of Carrolltown and surrounding Townships, held a large and enthusiastic meeting in front of the residence of ex-Sheriff Buck, in Carrolltown, on Monday evening. The meeting was called to order by Francis Bearer Esq. Sergeant Robert M'Cool was unanimously chosen President of the meeting. Squire Fagan, Nicholas Nagle, Francis Bearer, Joseph Maucher and John E. Maucher were chosen Vice Presidents; Joseph Gutwalt and Jerome Buck, Secretaries. On motion of ex-sheriff Buck, Adjutant Rose was called upon to address the meeting. He responded in an able and eloquent address which was well received by every person present. After the conclusion of his speech he retired to make way for that talented and able advocate of democratic principles Colonel Linton, who was listened to with breathless interest for one hour and forty minutes. He reviewed in an eloquent and able manner, the history of the past six years; proved that Congress had neither the power nor the right to exclude Southern members from a seat in the national Congress. He spoke not for himself as a candidate for the legislature, but occupied the principle portion of his time in hurling back upon the Radicals the base born lies that have been circulated against our candidate for Governor, Hon. Heister

R. L. Johnston was the next speaker. As he is our candidate for Congress, a short synopsis of his speech might not be out of place at the present time. He informed them "that his opponent D J. tion is tyranny, such representatives Morrell was a man of wealth, worth and respectability. He was the manager of the largest rolling mill in the United States. He was president of the First ber of the Council of that flourishing 3. That the white race alone is entitled town. And why, asked he, is he a canthe necks of the working men of Pennsylvania. If elected, all his efforts would didate for Governor, and with these prin- be used to promote the welfare of the ciples we confidentially look for success in | black race and the overthrow of Andrew Johnson, who is now looked upon as a second Benedict Arnold by those who are in favor of universal suffrage." After the lives of our brethren. conclusion of his speech he was heartily cheered. The next speaker was Nimrod Fahler. He spoke in the German language, which was unintelligible to us, but we have the authority of men who could understand him, and they pronounced it as good a speech as they ever heard, considering that it came from one "who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow." Mr. Barnes, the present District Attorney was next called upon, and made an excellent speech. The meeting then adjourned with three cheers for Johnston, Clymer and the Union.

Heister Clymer, the Democratic and Conservative candilate for Governor of Penusylvania, in the course of a speech delivered in the Senate, January 11, 62, said: " I am here to-day to deny for myself, and I believe for the great body of the Democratic party of this State, that they recognize anything like the right of secession of any State. I deny, I say, ces. the right of any State to secede, and I go further-I tell you that the Democracy of this State, with one heart and feeling, appland the gallant Anderson for his defense of the property of the United States. If he should go further still, and allow no flag but the Stars and Stripes to float within the range of his guns; I, for one would say amen to his deeds. There I stand. I say that South Carolina has no cause for secession or rebellion, and it equality as if they were printed on his should be put down by the strong arm of the Government.

> The chief hope of the Radicals in the pending contest is their ability to colonize votes and perpetrate a great fraud at the ballot-box. They are now fully satisfied that they cannot carry the election by fair means. They know that the popular current is against them. Their ranks are gradually giving way in every section of the Commonwealth. Defection stares them in the face at every point. To counteract this, they are importing votes into the State and throwing them into localities where they can control election boards. Let the Democracy be vigilant, and they will certainly foil these dark political gamesters in their organized conspiracy to cheat and defraud the people.

Our Candidate for Congress. [From the Huntingdon Globe]

Huntingdon, Sept. 11, 1866. R. L. JOHNSTON, Esq.

DEAR SER :- As a candidate for Congress, do you endorse the sentiments uttered by the following resolutions unanimously adopted by the National Union Convention, held in Philadelphia August

Representation in the Congress of the United States and in the electoral college is a right recognized in the Constitution as abiding in every State, and as a duty imposed upon the people, fundamental in in its nature, and essential to the existence of our republican institutions, and neither Congress nor the general Government has any power or authority to deny this right to any State, or to withold its enjoyment under the Constitution from the people

We call upon the people of the United States to elect to Congress as members the man who is now attempting to restore thereof, none but men who admit this fundamental right of representation and who will receive to seats therein loyal representatives from every State in allegiance to the United States, Subject only to the constitutional right of each house to judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its own members. An early raply will oblige,

Yours &c., WM. LEWIS.

EBENSBURG, Sept. 15, 1866. WM. LEWIS, ESQ., - DEAR SIR-Your note is before me, and with it the resolutions it refers to. I recognise your right whether as a voter in my district, or a journalist, to ascertain the views of any candidate offered for your support; and fortunately for me, I am able, without any hesitation to make you a frank and candid reply.

I need not tell you that if elected and admitted to a seat in Congress, I should be required to take an oath to "support the Constitution of the United States." In that instrument I find that, "the Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State," -and that "Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers" &c. I believe with the late when a big fellow feeling his copperosity President Lincoln and his Cabinet—with slightly touched, rose up and remarked in to put down the rebellion and prevent seand the soldiers in the field :-that no State can secede from the Union. All the acts of the Government, in all its de- mont let fly and flicker to the tune of partments, were based upon the duty of good old fashioned principles thus: "Two preserving the "Union of the States." years ago Abraham Lincoln was the Gov-For this we labored-for this we incurred our enormous debt-for this we gave the

That the Union was preserved is not now a matter of argument-it is history. Every Southern State is now moving on you are "copperheads," "rebels," &c. peacefully under her own Constitution and laws : while the Judicial Department takes cognizance of every Southern State in the administration of civil and criminal jurisprudence, and the Executive Department collects its proportion of the taxes to pay the National debt, and "takes care that the laws be faithfully executed."

If Mr. Stevens, who embodies the radical idea, were asked how many States are in the Union, even he would unwillingly give the same answer as the student in Geography, "thirty six." Yet while any radical would make this answer; and while "our flag," the proud emblem of our nationality, flings its thirty-six stars to the breeze, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the lakes to the gulf-while our gallant tars float previously passed the Senate. The Senathe same "starry ensign," on every sea under the Heaven; these same radicals, by refusing them that which makes a State, and without which a State cannot exist, would reduce them to subjugated provin-

Believing, then, that every State in the South is entitled to two Senators in Congress, and as many members of the House of Representatives as the act of Congress provides, I can at once " subscribe to the sentiments" of the resolutions to which you refer. And while, under the other clause of the Constitution, which makes each house judge of the "qualification the President at New York: What is of its own members," I would refuse a that bill? Nothing more or less than the seat to any DISLOYAL member, and every the transferring of four millions of slaves member refusing to take the test oath from their original owners to a new set of prescribed by Congress. I would make taskmasters, with THE UNITED the disqualification a personal one, and not permit it to impair the rights of a Sovereign State.-Hoping you will excuse the crudeness of the foregoing views, arising from the extreme hurry in which they are written,

I remain very respectfully yours,

R. L. Johnston. 43 In Carrolltown, D. J. Morrell will not receive a single vote. If any persons wish to satisfy themselves about his popularity in the northern part of Cambria county, let them visit Carrolltown, Plattsville, St. Augustine and Chest Springs for the necessary proof. The people in all of these places will treat them civily providing they do not abuse President Johnson, or bring a man along with them who thinks he is still a Deputy Provost Marshall of the 17th District.

The reception of President Johnson and party in Pittsburg was the most disgraceful scene that occurred in the history of that place since its organization. We are sorry that the limited amount of space left, cannot be used in describing the disrespectful manner in which he was received and the many insults offered him by Radical scoundrels who were hired by Radical gentlemen for the purpose of pre- FULL STOCK OF venting him from speaking to his fellow countrymen. We have no doubt but what the same men who were at the head of this vast mob, meditated something more. A second Booth could be found in their midst; one who for a trifling compensation would bury the assassins dagger into the heart of Andrew Johnson if a favorable opportunity presented itself, and thus rid themselves of the Union, with the Constitution as his

A NEW PATENT. - D. J. Morrell the Radical candidate for Congress, has invented a "Lying Machine." It is a beautiful contrivance, drawn by two splendid chargers and capable of telling five hundred lies per hour; but two men are required to keep it in operation. Messrs. Cooper and Elder are at present | Stouffer, as Stouffer & Bro. testing the machine, to see whether it is durable or not. They left our town yesterday morning to try its effects on the people of Belsano, Buleau and Fallen Timber. They will not visit Carrolltown.

Sept. 22, 1866. Mr. Editor.-Since you have been kind enough to insert Persuelae's sad, yet interesting story, I am inclined to think that you will also permit me to narrate one of equal (to my notion,) merit. It was on the 18th of Sept. 1866, in a town 18 miles from Ebensburg, in a big store, big men were conversing on a big subject, calling big names occasionally, such as "copperhead," "rebel," &c., cession: with the statesmen in the forum unjust sarcastical, bombastical, hifalutin nick-naming of your betters. And with with this opening, our friend from Verernment because he was the President and because we 'couldn't see it' you called us these vile names; now Andrew Johnson is the Government, because he is the President, and since you 'can't see it,' both ways."

For fear of trespassing we will keep the rest for another communication. Truly Yours,

Late from the Pacific Coast.

San Francisco, September 23 .- A Salem, Oregon, dispatch yesterday says: Two Democratic contestants from Grant county were admitted to seats in the House. Two Union members were ousted. It was through the aid of rejected members that the constitutional amendment passed the House. It had First Class Hotels. Laundries, and torial election comes off next Tuesday.

The Shirleysburg (Huntingdon County) Herald, bitherto a Republican journal, refuses to hoist the Geary flag. It will not support the Stevens-Douglass-Dickenson platform, nor the local ticket of the Radicals in Huntingdon County. The Herald remarks "for ourselves we have only to say this week, that it is our determination not to support any part of the Republican District or County ticket." The demoralization of the Radicals in Huntingdon County is further apparent by the Herald's account of the meeting of that party on the 8th inst. That journal declares "The meeting was orderly and respectable, but lacked the numbers and enthusiasm which there was reason to expect from the fact of two live
